IN A WORK OF THIS MAGNITUDE, ONE ENCOUNTERS COUNTLESS INDIVIDUALS, EACH WITH A STORY DESERVING TO BE TOLD. MANY HAD EXTRAORDINARY ACCOMPLISHMENTS IN THEIR LIVES. OTHERS EXHIBITED INCREDIBLE BRAVERY, TOO OFTEN INCLUDING THE ULTIMATE SACRIFICE IN BATTLE. MANY OTHERS ENDURED UNSPEAKABLE TRAGEDY, LOSING THEIR LIVES FAR TOO EARLY. NOTHING STINGS MORE THAN THE LOSS OF YOUNG CHILDREN, LIKE 10- AND 12-YEAR-OLD BROTHERS SOLON AND LIAM BAILEY ON CHRISTMAS DAY 2009 – SEE {J1253}. HEARTBREAKING. THIS WORK IS DEDICATED TO KEEPING MEMORIES ALIVE OF ALL OUR BAILEY ANCESTORS AND COUSINS.

INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this two Volume Genealogical study is to provide a comprehensive compilation of the descendants of two brothers, Richard and James Bailey, who immigrated to the Massachusetts colony in the 1630s. While excellent genealogies on these lines were published in the 1800s, we are today able to take advantage of today's far deeper collections of sources and data to expand the coverage of those earlier genealogies and to add the numerous generations of the last 150 years.

The preparation of this compilation has been led by accredited genealogist Chris Harvey Bailey of Eustis, FL. A Richard Bailey descendant, Chris's profile appears in Volume I, Chapter 11, person {1608}. Chris is the author of Volume I.

This Volume II compilation has been led by David Wayne Bailey, of Potton, Quebec, Canada. A James Bailey descendant, David's profile appears in Volume II, Chapter 12, person {J1330}. This Vol. II supplements, corrects and extends the James Bailey genealogy as compiled by Hollis R. Bailey in the "Account of James Bailey" section of The Bailey Genealogy, published under the direction of The Bailey Association in 1899.

DISCLAIMER

The information in this Volume doesn't pretend to be complete or perfect, mainly because of the fluid nature of genealogical research. All information is published in good faith and has been checked for accuracy against publicly available sources such as those viewable on familysearch.org, other genealogical websites, newspaper clippings and published family histories.

When no sources are unavailable, circumstantial evidence is in some cases used to point to likely dates or places, while clearly identifying the approximate nature of such statements with phrases such as "after the war", "in the 1950s", "in place x or place y". When available sources conflict, both possibilities are mentioned unless one source is a clear outlier as compared to two or more others.

Information on living people is limited to information discoverable in published obituaries of relatives, published civil records, publicly viewable directories, censuses, newspaper articles, or non-copyrighted postings by said individuals on publicly viewable genealogical and/or social media sites. More in-depth information on living individuals may be included only if said individuals have given their explicit permission.

The authors disclaim any responsibility for readers' reliance on the information presented herein.

ABOUT THIS WORK

HOW TO USE THIS WORK'S NUMBERING SYSTEM

The following system allows the reader to easily follow the ancestry or descendants of any particular Bailey. Following is a fictitious entry to illustrate the system:

85.

JOHN QUINCY BAILEY, son of Richard Munson Bailey {22} and Mary Ann (Cross) Bailey, was born Nov. 17, 1872 at Randolph, VT. He was married to FELICITY JONES. They had two sons born at Burlington, VT:

- 122 i. William Jones Bailey, b. Aug. 2, 1891. He married Jane Johnson.
- ii. Robert Leslie Bailey, b. 1895. He died in 1902.

In the above entry if one went to the page in the same chapter which had the centered bold number 22 above a family entry, Richard Munson Bailey and his wife Mary Ann Cross would be found as parents with number 85, John Quincy Bailey, listed below as a son. This process can be repeated to find John Quincy Bailey's grandparents, great-grandparents, etc. If one wants to find the descendants of John Quincy Bailey, it is noted that only son, William Jones Bailey, was married and thus has a bold number 122 to the left of his name. By going to a later page which has a bold centered number 122 above a family entry, one will find more data on William Jones Bailey, likely as a parent with a wife and children. If none of his children have a bold number to the left of their name, there is no more data in later generations. But if any of his children has a bold number to the left of its name, more data on that child as a parent will be listed in the following generation.

Note that family entries in this James Bailey volume use the "J" prefix to differentiate from the Richard line. For example, if we say that person {J178} was married to person {269}, it is an example where a James Bailey descendant married a Richard Bailey descendant. Such cases are covered in both Volume I and Volume II.

CALCULATED BIRTH DATES

In instances where there are no vital records, some birth dates have been calculated from tombstones which do not give the birth date but do give the death date and the age of the deceased in years, months and days. In some instances, the day of death was counted as a day, in other instances the day of death was not counted. Since we cannot know which method was used, presuming the age was correct, a calculated birth date may be off by one day.

ABBREVIATIONS USED IN THIS WORK

- Two letter abbreviations used for states are those recognized by the U. S. Postal Department.
- (lic.) or (bond) before a date indicates the date a license or bond was issued, not necessarily the actual date of marriage.
- (b.) – means born; (d.) means died; (bap.) means baptized; (m.) means married.
- (c.) or (abt.) – these abbreviations before a date indicates circa, about or approximately.

BIRTH, MARRIAGE AND DEATH PLACES

Birth places: Prior to the 20th century, many people did not know their actual date or birth place. Often, individuals claimed a place of birth where they remembered living as a child. Many families lived on rural farms, thus you will find herein many birth places listed as townships and counties, not a town or city.

Death places: When an actual death place was documented, that place was recorded in this genealogy. Some researchers incorrectly assume that a person died in the town in which they lived, but this is not often the case. Many people died in the homes of one of their children or a sibling or in a hospital in another town other than their home town. If a record, such as a death certificate, indicated the actual death place, it has been given. Some statewide death indexes, such as those for California and Oregon, list the county of death, but rarely the actual town.

Note: The Social Security Index does NOT list actual death places, but instead lists the last residence of a deceased person or the address the Social Security death benefit was sent. This may have been the death place, but it can also be the address of a child, a relative or a nursing home.

INFANT CHILDREN AND YOUNG MOTHERS

In the 19th century and earlier, infant and child mortality was a serious issue and often 20% or more of infants died at birth or in their very early years. Where no data was found that couples had children, it was noted “They had no children” or “No children are known”, but in some instances a couple may have had a child or children who died as infants and there is no surviving record of that child. In modern times, particularly since 1950, if a record was not found for children, the notation “Children of this couple, if any, are not known by the compiler” was used.

The mortality of mothers after giving birth was very high, explaining why many Bailey men had multiple wives. Census records often indicate infant children who died before the next census. A married woman was asked in the 1900 and 1910 U. S. censuses how many children she had been the mother of and how many were still living.

DIVORCES & REMARRIAGES

Not unlike today, many Bailey ancestors and descendants had multiple marriages during their lives. In some instances, there are available divorce records or a record, such as a census, which indicated an individual was divorced. One will find that some divorcees tried to disclaim an unhappy marriage. In instances where a person remarried and records were found indicating an earlier spouse remarried or was not deceased, a divorce has been assumed, although in some cases a formal divorce never actually occurred. In some states, if a spouse abandoned a partner, after often 8 to 12 years, the marriage was considered null and the person could remarry, even if no legal divorce was ever filed.

MIDDLE NAMES

Middle names were almost non-existent in the 17th century and rarely found for people born in the 18th century. In the 19th century middle names for men and women became more common. New England Baileys, often memorialized the maiden names of wives or mothers as middle names for children. In tracing the 19th and 20th century in many instances researchers have confused a Bailey wife's surname initial as her middle name's initial. If, for example, one Mary Ann Bingham married a Bailey, some records and even gravestones may list her name as Mary B. Bailey. However, "B." was not the first initial of her middle name, but it was the initial of her surname – Bingham.

HOW GIVEN & NICKNAMES ARE NOTED

A person's actual name is used in the following genealogy. Generally the earliest record of a name was the name the person was originally given by their parents. Some given names are the same as Nancy, Ann and Agnes considered the same name and Martha and Patsey are the same. When nicknames or preferred names are known, they may be given in quotation marks. For example, a Martha may have been commonly known as "Mattie" while a Frances Jane might have been known as "Fannie" or "Jane" or "Jennie." In many instances Bailey descendants preferred their middle name and switched their given and middle names. In some instances they even adopted a different name.

DATES PRIOR TO 1752

Births, marriages and deaths of the earliest generations of our Bailey ancestors were recorded by the Julian calendar which was used in America until 1752. By the old Julian calendar, New Year's Day was March 25th. Thus, for example in the year 1648, January 1st to March 24th was the end of the year 1648 and March 25th to December 31st was 1649. By the old calendar March was month #1 and February was month #12. However, over the years the calendar was getting out of sync with the sun and the seasons. On Sept. 2, 1752 America switched from the Julian calendar to a newer system known as the Gregorian calendar in which New Year's Day was January 1st and the last day of the year was December 31st in order to get the calendar into correct cycle with the sun and the seasons. In order to avoid confusion and keep the years correct, dates prior to September, 1752 which occurred between January 1st and March 24th are presented in both the old style and new style. For example, a date such as Feb. 12, 1648/49, indicates the year was 1648 at that time of the event, but 1649 by our present calendar.

MILITARY PENSION RECORDS

Many soldiers who served in the American Revolution, the War of 1812, the Civil War or other wars were granted or denied invalid pensions for their war service as were some widows for themselves or their under-age children. Some of these pension records may be found on sites such as www.fold3.com with a subscription. Union Army Civil War records, however, are not available except by ordering copies from the National Archives, Washington, DC, for a considerable fee. Application and Certificate numbers are included in footnotes in case one wishes to order Civil War pension records for a Bailey ancestor.

MODERN DAY FAMILIES

Data on living Baileys and modern day families have been included if (1) information was sent to the compiler by a family member, or (2) if data was found in public records or posted on the internet. Be aware that data on modern-day families, particularly after 1950 when the last census was released, may be incomplete. Many 20th century records are not publicly available, so in many instances marriages, divorces, re-marriages, as well as births, or deaths, of family members that have taken place in the last 50 or more years may need to be updated by the reader.

SOURCES

Every single page of this compilation has been assembled on the foundation of dozens of information sources, including vital records, census information, military records, gravestones, local histories, family bibles, probate records, obituaries and many others, not to mention personal knowledge in the case of the more recent generations. While it is not practical to document all these sources within the current compilation, virtually 100% of the applicable sources can be found and examined within readily available online family trees. Speaking of this James Bailey volume specifically, the writer has fully updated the James Bailey tree on familysearch.org, from top to bottom, with the following provisos – 1) that such online trees, for privacy reasons, restrict the exposure of living individuals and 2) while familysearch.org is a free service, there are occasions where certain sources listed there are of necessity linked to subscription-only sites such as ancestry.com and americanancestors.org.

ANCIENT BAILEYS

The surname Bailey can be found spelled Bayley, Baily, Bayley, Baylay, Baylie, Bayly, and probably other spellings. The earliest instance found was the surname Bailee in 1204. The name reportedly means “wood or clearing where berries grew.”<sup>1</sup> In ancient England, the name of the following ancient men have been found:<sup>2</sup>

Roger le baylly in pipe rolls of County Suffolk, in 1230.
Ralph de Baylegh in the assise rolls of County Lancashire, in 1246.
John Baly in court rolls of the manor of Wakefield, Yorkshire, in 1274.
John ate Baylie in the assise rolls of County Kent in 1317.
Thomas le Baly in subsidy rolls of County Sussex in 1327.
Thomas Bailie in subsidy rolls of County Suffolk, also 1327.

In Scotland the surname is generally spelled Baillie, Bailie and Baili. The earliest name found there was one William de Bailli in 1311 and 1312.

It was the late 1400s that most commoners began to adopt surnames. Two centuries later, in 1525, William Bayly, Lord Mayor of London, was knighted by the King at Bridewell.<sup>3</sup>

No doubt over the centuries some of these ancient spellings also morphed into surnames such as Baillif, Bayless, and other similar surnames rather than Bailey.

One of the problems of connecting Baileys who appeared in America in the early 1630s to these ancient men is a lack of records. Many of the above ancient men's names of the 13th and 14th centuries have been preserved as they were gentry and land owners. The earliest records of the common folk and tenant farmers in England are Church of England parish records, the earliest of which began in 1538 when through the efforts of Thomas Cromwell, King Henry VIII issued a mandate for each parish to keep a register of baptisms, marriages and burials. Unfortunately, it is estimated that only 7.2% of parishes complied. In 1558 Henry's daughter, Queen Elizabeth, issued a second duplicate law about keeping registers, stipulating the parish would be fined for non-compliance, but it is estimated that only about 14.8% of the parishes complied. In 1596 a third law was made which also levied a fine on the minister of the parish if registers were not kept, after which more parishes began to keep registers, but only an estimated 54%. The 1596 decree also stipulated that parishes were to annually send copies to the Bishop of the diocese which are commonly called Bishop's Transcripts. Unfortunately, through either non-compliance, loss or destruction, many early parish records no longer exist.

Another problem of finding the ancestors of James and Richard Bailey is their given names. Only more common male given names than James and Richard are John and William. The only solid clue we have is that two brothers named James and Richard Bailey were born about the 1610 to 1620 period in England. That is not much to go on.

VARIOUS SPELLINGS OF THE BAILEY SURNAME

As found in original records, the earliest generations of our Bailey ancestors did not spell their surname Bailey. The surname has been found in original records as Baly, Baley, Bailly, Bayley, Bayly, Balley, Balie and Ballie. Richard generally used the spelling Baly and his brother, James, generally used the spellings Baly or Bayley. Richard's son, Joseph, generally spelled the surname Baly or Baley. Richard's grandson, Richard, generally spelled his surname Baly. Although the surname eventually became spelled Bailey, it was not until perhaps the third generation before the spelling Bailey came into general use, with some exceptions for Bayley. Even siblings often spelled their surname differently. For example, the four oldest children of Richard Bailey {4} (1675-1748) signed their surname "Bailey" and his three youngest "Bayley" on the same 1748 deed! Because the surname varies so much in early vital records, church, court and land records in these earliest generations, it has been decided to standardize the surname as Bailey in the earlier generations of this work. In later generations most families used the surname spelling Bailey, but there are a few families who kept the surname Bayley, even to the present day. However, in instances where original records such as wills, deeds or court records are transcribed exactly, the spelling of the surname will be given as it was written.

BEFORE AMERICA – THE MYSTERY

In spite of many efforts to find the English origins of the brothers James Bailey and Richard Bailey of Rowley, MA, sadly, their birth places and ancestry remain a mystery more than three centuries after they arrived in America. In his 1858 genealogy of Richard Bailey, Alfred Poore wrote: “There is a tradition in the family to the present day that he came from Yorkshire, England, sometime about 1630 or 1635.” In section one of Bailey Genealogy. James, John, and Thomas and their Descendants for the Bailey Family Association, 1899, compiled by Hollis Russell Bailey, Mrs. Gertrude E. Bailey and Mrs. Abbie F. Ellsworth, it was merely stated on p. 3: “James Bailey was born about 1612, in England, came to Rowley in the Massachusetts Bay Colony about 1640. . . . It is not known from what part of England James and Richard came.”

For a time, there was considerable speculation by the compiler and others that James and Richard Bailey descended from the Bailey family of Bromham, Wiltshire, England. Of this family was John Bayly, a weaver from Wiltshire, who came to America with his son, John Bayly, Jr. on the Angel Gabriel which wrecked off Pemaquid (now Bristol), Maine in 1635. They were among the first settlers of Salisbury, MA and later went to Newbury, MA, both close towns to Rowley. John Bayly, Sr.’s wife was Ann Bayly of Bromham who remained in England. It seemed promising that John Bayly, Sr. or his wife could have been close relatives to James and Richard Bailey.

To make the Bromham, Wiltshire, family even more promising, parish records were found that indicated a Richard Bayly was married Nov. 16, 1605 at Bromham to Anne Scott. This couple had five sons and a daughter baptized at Bromham. Their first son was James Bayly, baptized Sep. 17, 1609 and second son, Richard Bayly, baptized Jan. 2, 1613/14. For a time, it seemed convincing they could have been our Bailey brothers who came to America. However, The American Genealogist, Vol. 77, No. 4, pp. 241-217, contained a well-documented article by Clifford L. Stott, AG, CG, FASG, of Orem, UT, entitled “John<sup>1</sup> Bayly of Bromham, Wiltshire, and Essex County, Massachusetts.” Mr. Stott’s article added much to the English background of John Bailey, Sr. of Salisbury, MA and his immediate family. On Jun. 27, 2003 Chris Bailey wrote Mr. Stott asking if he had collected data on other Bromham Baileys which might have given a clue if the above James and Richard or others in that family might have been our New England immigrants. Mr. Stott kindly replied on Jul. 1, 2003 stating that although he had looked at other Bailey wills in the area, they did not help our case.

As explained in the section below, the widespread availability of Y-DNA testing has seemingly settled this matter once and for all, namely that our Richard and James Bailey of Rowley do NOT belong to the Bromham, Wiltshire family.

PATERNAL DNA

The Y chromosome is a section of our DNA unique to males, which is transmitted from father to son, a process unbroken since the beginning of our race. Over the generations, this section of DNA undergoes continuous mutations that can be measured with Y-DNA testing that is now widely available. By analyzing which sections of the world population share specific mutations, scientists have been able to separate the population into groups in which specific mutations are clustered. These are called “paternal haplogroups”.

Thanks to the Y-DNA testing of more than 20 individuals from our own Bailey branches, it has been determined that we belong to Haplogroup “I”, which originated about 21,000 years ago when it split off from an earlier group. With 9 of our Bailey individuals now tested to the highest level of testing, called Y700 or “BigY”, it has been further determined that our Bailey line fits into an I-subgroup called “I-Z63” (a subset of I-M253), believed to have originated in Denmark about 4600 years ago. Descendants of this I-Z63 group are today commonly found in Sweden, Norway, Finland, England and Scotland. As more DNA testers expand our knowledge base, perhaps one day we will be able to know when the ancestors of our Bailey line migrated from mainland Europe into England, where Richard and James Bailey were born.

As to the question discussed above regarding a possible relation between our line and the Baileys of Bromham, Wiltshire, it has been determined that the Bromham Baileys belong to Haplogroup “R”, incompatible with our Rowley line. This is based on the DNA tests for descendants of Joel Bayly, of Chester County, PA who obviously belongs to the Bromham, Wiltshire, Bailey family. Unfortunately, there are not at the present time any documented descendants of any other English Bailey family in the I-Z63 Haplogroup which would indicate the family our James and Richard Bailey descend from or were closely related to.

One interesting finding of our line’s Y-DNA testing is that this process has uncovered specific mutations unique to James Bailey’s line as compared to his brother Richard. All three of our Richard Bailey line BigY testers have a unique mutation now named I-FT266542, and all six of our James Bailey line BigY testers have a unique mutation now named I-FT21142. In other words, if one of our Bailey cousins is having difficulty tracing all the way back to Richard or James, a Y-DNA test for these unique mutations will immediately show which of the two brothers they descend from.

THE GODFREY BAILEY ANCESTRAL CLAIM

Alfred Poore stated in his Richard Bailey genealogy in 1858: “There is a tradition in the family to the present day that he came from Yorkshire, England, sometime about 1630 and 1635.” With information known that the Halsted or Halstead family (Richard Bailey’s in-laws) had originally come from Bradford, Yorkshire, on Apr. 14, 1969 Chris Bailey engaged a researcher, Lucy R. Bradbury, a resident of Bradford, Yorkshire, to search the local parish registers. She searched the indexed baptisms from 1599 when the Bradford parish registers began to the year 1640 for the surnames Bailey, Halsted and Denton (the latter the surname of Edna (Halsted) Bailey’s mother). Lucy found there were numerous Baileys who lived in Bradford area and found the baptisms of one James Baylie son of Godfrey Baylie, on May 31, 1612 and one Richard Baylie, son of Godfrey Baylie, on Aug. 21, 1614, as well as six other children of Godfrey Baylie baptized at Bradford.<sup>4</sup> Lucy also double-checked the Bradford registers for all Bailey entries for the period around 1595-1630. As there is no marriage record in America for either Richard or James Bailey in Massachusetts records, there was a possibility one or both of them were married in England. No such marriage was located, at Bradford or any other extant English parish record, so one or both may have been married in America.

Although these baptisms for the two brothers, James and Richard Bailey, in Bradford seemed promising for “our” immigrant brothers, the writer is skeptical these christenings were for the correct brothers. The given names James and Richard are extremely common and although the surname Bailey is not as common as Smith or Jones, it is not a rare surname. In fact, there are other Bailey brothers named James and Richard in English extant parish records, and no doubt others born in parishes where parish records have been lost or are not available.

One problem which cannot be overlooked is that the given name Godfrey is not found in any descendants of Richard or James Bailey, nor was the given name Christopher (the given name of Godfrey's probable father)<sup>5</sup> found in the Bailey descendants until the 20th century. It seems that if "our" James and Richard were sons of Godfrey Bailey and grandsons of Christopher Baylie, those given names would have been memorialized in the first few generations of their descendants. Admittedly, Richard Bailey had only one son, Joseph, but had three grandsons. Richard's brother, James, had six sons and twelve grandsons. It would seem plausible that at least one of those seven sons and fifteen grandsons would have been given the name of Godfrey or Christopher.

Over the years, others have searched the Bradford, Yorkshire, church records and, unfortunately, many have now perpetrated the claim that Godfrey Baylie of Bradford, Yorkshire, was the father of James and Richard Bailey of Rowley, MA. This claim has absolutely no proof and the only evidence anyone can claim is (1) Godfrey Bailey had two sons by those given names born about the time period James and Richard Bailey of Rowley, MA were born, and (2) the wife of Richard Bailey of Rowley, MA was originally from Bradford, Yorkshire.

The late Jean Bailey Ransom (1920-2011) of Ann Arbor, MI in her otherwise well researched book, The Bailey Family, published in 1991, related on page 1 that Godfrey Bailey was the father of Richard Bailey. In later communications with Mrs. Ransom, she admitted she had no proof or evidence of this. Her book recounts the second and third generations of descendants copied almost entirely from Alfred Poore's 1858 Richard Bailey genealogy, but added some interesting early documents, illustrations, and new materials on later generations. She related a good record of Richard's great-grandson, Joseph Bailey (1711-1748), and many of his descendants who settled in Maine.

Although it is possible James and Richard Bailey originally came from Yorkshire, this claim was first published as claimed by descendants some 210 years after Richard Bailey's death. Like most family yarns, it is suspect. Widow Edna (Halsted) Bailey, later Northend outlived her husband almost 60 years. She was indeed from Bradford, Yorkshire, which may be the source of the belief by her descendants that her long-dead husband was also from Bradford.

In summary, this writer is not aware of any evidence in credible records to back up the claims that James and Richard Bailey were sons of Godfrey Bailey of Bradford, Yorkshire. Sadly, the claim of Godfrey Bailey as their father and Christopher Bailey as their grandfather lives on. Once published, correct or incorrect data is soon copied, recopied, and accepted as truth, usually with no effort to verify.

<sup>5</sup> Many now claim that Christoforus [Christopher] Bayleye and Elizabetae [Elizabeth] Berie who were married May 23, 1585 at Almondbury, Yorkshire, England were the parents of Godfrey Bayleye of Bradford. Indeed this Christopher Bayleye had a son by that name as Almondbury parish registers show that Godfridus [Godfrey] son of Christofori Bayleye of Honleye [Honley] was baptized Aug. 23, 1590 at Almondbury. [Honley is a Yorkshire village a mile or two south of Almondbury and at least a dozen miles from Bradford]. Whether Godfrey Bayleye of Almondbury is the same Godfrey Bayleye of Bradford is uncertain. However, the Bradford Parish registers do list the burial of a "wife of Chrstr. Bayleye of Allerton" on Mar. 13, 1606 and the burial of a "Christopher Baylie of Bradford" on Apr. 12, 1610. Godfrey Bayleye of Bradford apparently had two wives whose given names are unknown. Bradford parish registers show that a "wife of Godfrey Baylie of Bradford" was buried Jun. 20, 1605. They also record that a Godfrey Bailey of Bradford was buried Mar. 27, 1632 and the "widow of Godfrey Bailie, late of Bradford." was buried Dec. 2, 1635.

CHAPTER #1 – FIRST GENERATION

JAMES BAILEY OF ROWLEY, MASSACHUSETTS AND HIS DESCENDANTS

J1.

JAMES BAILEY, brother of Richard Bailey, was born in England. In 1860, James Savage in his Genealogical Dictionary<sup>6</sup> stated “JAMES [BAILEY], Rowley 1663 then age 51.” Although Savage’s source has not been found, presuming this statement is correct or near correct, James Bailey would have been born about 1611 or 1612. It is likely James Bailey was older than his brother Richard as James had two children born by the time Richard Bailey’s only child was born.

James Bailey was living at Rowley, MA by 1645 and perhaps a few years earlier. His name does not appear in a record of the first survey of house lots taken in 1643. He could have been married in England, or perhaps in America. No marriage record survives. James’s wife was named LYDIA ----- . Although Lydia’s maiden name has been repeatedly given in old writings as possibly Emery, this is doubtful as no evidence for this claim has been found. James and Lydia Bailey had eight children, the first possibly born in England, but all of their children’s births were recorded, in Rowley, MA vital records:<sup>7</sup>

- J2 i. John Bailey, Sr., b. Feb. 2, 1642/43. He married Mary Mighill.
- J3 ii. Lydia Bailey, b. Nov., 1644. She first married (Lieut.) Abel Platts and secondly (Capt.) Daniel Wicom.
- iii. Jonathan Bailey, b. Sep. 1646. He never married. He was buried Mar. 27, 1665 at Rowley, MA, age 18.
- J4 iv. Damaris Bailey, b. Jan. 17, 1648/49. She married Thomas Leaver, Jr.
- J5 v. James Bailey, Jr., b. Jan. 15, 1650/51. He married Elizabeth Johnson.

<sup>7</sup> While it is true the birth of James Bailey’s eldest son, Feb. 2, 1642/43, was recorded in Rowley, MA vital records, the fact James was not listed in the first survey of house lots in 1643 suggests that son may not have actually been born there. It was common in New England for a father to record the births of all his children when he settled in a town. In some instances, a town clerk would periodically visit local homes and record the births of the children from memory or a bible record. Some of those children may have been born before the family settled there.

- vi. Thomas Bailey, b. Aug. 1, 1653. He never married. He was not mentioned in his father's will and was "probably killed at Bloody Brook with Capt. Lathrop, Sep. 18, 1675."<sup>8</sup>
- vii. Samuel Bailey, b. Aug. 10, 1655. He was buried Nov. 28, 1657 at Rowley, MA, age 2 years, 3 months.
- viii. Samuel Bailey (2nd), b. Nov. 6, 1658. He died young, before 1677, without issue.

The following was related in the James Bailey section of the Bailey Genealogy, p. 3:<sup>9</sup>

It appears from the town records of Rowley that James Bailey acquired, by allotment and purchase, considerable real estate, and was a citizen in good standing. He held various town offices, including the office of Overseer of the Poor, and also that of Selectman for several years. His house stood on the east side of what is now called Pleasant street in the village of Rowley, on land now (1899) owned by Charles H. Todd.

The record of the original grant is as follows: "To James Baley one house lott containing an Acre and an halfe lying on the north side of Edward Sawyer's house lott."

In her superbly researched Pillsbury Ancestry,<sup>10</sup> Mary Lovering Holman stated, "It is probable that James Bailey was an agent or servant of Mr. William Bellingham, brother of Richard Bellingham." Although the compiler has not found evidence of James Bailey being an agent or servant, Bailey at one time did occupy a portion of William Bellingham's farm and mansion house as had his deceased brother Richard.

William Bellingham owned a large farm at Rowley, MA. Bellingham died about 1643, was a widower and had no living children. William and Richard Bellingham were born in Lincolnshire, England, not in Yorkshire, as were so many early Rowley residents. Bellingham was apparently a man of considerable means, owning considerable land and a mansion house on what is today known as Main St., Rowley. In his undated will, William Bellingham made bequests to several men who apparently either labored for him or he owed them for something. These men included John Smith, John Aslet, Hugh Smith, Michael Hopkinson and Richard Holmes. Bellingham's will noted debts he owed to a Mr. Broughton and a Mr. Rogers, almost certainly Rev. Ezekiel Rogers of Rowley. Bellingham made a bequest of £4 to his servant, Jeremiah Northend, [cousin of Ezekiel Northend], and noted that whatever time Jeremiah had left in servitude, he was to serve Mr. Rogers "to whom I doe give him over, & his care." Bellingham made the following bequests: (1) to his loving friend, Mr. Thomas Nelson [the same who married Richard Dummer's niece] his smallest bible which had belonged to his wife, (2) to Mr. Rogers his gold ring which had been his wife's, (3) to "Jeremey" Northend "two cloth suites". Additional bequests were made to Margaret Crosse, to Elizabeth Jackson [who was Mr. Roger's maid], to William Hobson, and to Hannah Grant. The residue of his realty [real estate] was left to his nephew, Samuel Bellingham, son of his brother Richard Bellingham. Bellingham's will was unsigned, and not proven until Sep. 24, 1650 in Ipswich Quarterly Court by Ezekiel Rogers and Thomas Nelson.<sup>11</sup>

Samuel Bellingham lived on the farm inherited from his uncle for a time, but eventually sold parts of it to some local Rowley residents, one of whom was Joseph Jewett. Jewett, in turn, sold his portion to James Bailey. In the Essex Quarterly Court held at Salem, MA Jun. 24, 1662, Samuel Bellingham's father, Richard Bellingham, Esq., then Deputy Governor of Massachusetts, sued James Bailey for trespass "For unjustly hold land in Rowley, formerly in possession of Mr. Wm. Bellingham, deceased, and since in possession of said Richard, brother and heir of said William." At that same court session, Samuel Brocklebanke, aged about 33 years, and John Lambert, aged about 30 years "deposed that James Bayley occupied the land which belonged to the farm house which Richard Bellingham lived in after the decease of his brother, William, etc." Ezekiel Northend, second husband of Richard Bailey's widow, Edna, noting he was age 40, gave testimony in that trial that his cousin, Jeremiah Northend, lived with William Bellingham at the time Bellingham died, and Jeremiah had told Ezekiel that Bellingham had made a will and disposed of his estate to Mr. Samuel Bellingham, that Samuel was to pay the debts and legacies, and that Mr. Ezekiel Rogers and Mr. Thomas Nelson were witnesses to the will. Ezekiel Northend also testified that Jeremiah had also told him about several other items in the will which proved to be correct. Ezekiel noted that Jeremiah Northend had returned to England [after 1650], but stated "... I hope [he is] still living in England for I heard from him last year or the yeare before." Richard Bellingham claimed that his brother's will was not legal because it was not dated.

The above lawsuit states James Bailey replied "to the exceptions of Mr. Richard Belingham, Esq., in his declaration against the will of Mr. Will. Belingham, deceased. First that though Mr. William Belingham died without issue, his real estate does not belong to plaintiff, because he gave his whole estate by deed or will to Mr. Samuell, which will was witnessed by two such substantial men as Mr. Ez. Rogers and Mr. Tho. Nelson, men of great credit and known integrity. Second, that plaintiff never dwelt there by his own right, but by permission of Mr. Samuell Belingham. Third, that defendant lived there by right of Mr. Samuel Belingham. That the will was without date, and that it was uncertain whether it was the last will or whether he was of disposing mind, he answered that it stands as the last will until a later is produced, and was properly witnessed, and if it were not a true will it must imply a notable piece of knavery such as it is not charitable to charge upon three such men as the dead, Mr. Belingham, and the living, Mr. Rogers and Mr. Nelson."<sup>12</sup> Mr. John Bellingham [son of Richard Bellingham by his second wife], was attorney for Richard Bellingham. On May 19, 1662 John Bellingham noted, among other claims: "... planting lots in the northeast field, laid out to Mr. William Belingham, thirteen acres of upland on the north side of Mr. Thomas Nelson's lot, abutting on the marsh and highway, now in possession of James Bayley and John Palmer. James Bayley had also two gates<sup>13</sup> and a half and said Palmer, two gates, all of which belong to the right of the farm of Mr. William Belingham. Ten acres of salt marsh, laid out to said Belingham, on the north side of Mr. Thomas Nelson's marsh, the east end abutting upon a salt creek, the west end upon upland, now in possession of said Bayley and [Samuel] Platts." There was more bantering in the Jun. 1662 court between Richard Bellingham and James Bailey, but Bailey eventually won the case. Having lost the case, Bellingham appealed Jun. 18, 1662 to the Court of Assistants, but lost on that appeal. On Sep. 5, 1662, Richard Bellingham had to quitclaim to James Bailey and Samuel Platts "and any others who owned any of William Bellingham's land," any right he might have had to the property.<sup>14</sup>

At court held at Ipswich, MA, Sep. 27, 1653, James Bailey posted a bond to Robert Lord of Ipswich, Marshall, for the appearance of Joseph Jewett to prosecute his replevin suit.<sup>15</sup> On Sep. 26, <sup>14</sup> Salem Quarterly Court Records, Vol. 2, p. 395-400. William Bellingham's heir was actually Samuel Bellingham, son of Richard Bellingham, Esq. However, Richard Bellingham spent much time in England and his father, a wealthy bully, proclaimed himself heir to his brother's estate.

<sup>15</sup> Replevin is a legal remedy, which enables a person to recover personal property wrongfully or unlawfully taken, and to obtain compensation for resulting losses.

1654, Sep. 29, 1657, and Mar. 25, 1662, James Bailey served as juror for trials for that session of court at Ipswich.<sup>16</sup> In June of 1660 John Pearson sued Richard Dummer in Ipswich Quarterly Court for legal conveyance of half of the corn mill at Rowley, MA which Dummer, as executor of the estate of Thomas Nelson, dec., had sold Pearson for £100 on Jul. 1, 1654. Among many depositions presented in the case, one signed Jun. 25, 1660 was presented in which James Bailey and William Stickney deposed that in the previous year “they heard John Pearson offer Mr. Richard Dumer all his pay for the mill, if Dumer would make good his title. Said Dumer replied either that he could not or ‘how can I,’ whereupon Pearson told him that he might give his own land for security, etc.” The court in a special verdict found for Dummer.<sup>17</sup>

James Bailey executed the following will Aug. 8, 1677 [spelling and punctuation not corrected and leaving out some legal jargon]:<sup>18</sup>

I James Bayley of Rowley being weake of body put pfect in understanding and memory, do make this my last will and Testament, in manner & forme as followeth, After my debts are payd I do give and beqwueath, the rest of the estate, . . . ## CHAPTER #2 – SECOND GENERATION

THE CHILDREN OF JAMES BAILEY OF ROWLEY, MASS

J2.

JOHN BAILEY, SR., son of James Bailey {J1} and Lydia (-----) Bailey, was born Feb. 2, 1642/43 probably at Rowley, MA.<sup>21</sup> He was married Jun. 16, 1668 at Rowley, MA to MARY MIGHILL, daughter of Thomas Mighill (c.1606-1654) and Ann (Parrat) Mighill (c.1620-1694), of Rowley. Mary was born May 1, 1649 at Rowley, MA. John and Mary had nine children born at Rowley, MA:

- J6 i. Jonathan Bailey, Sr., born Aug. 31, 1670. He first married Hannah Walker and secondly, Sarah Jewett.
- ii. Ann Bailey, born Feb. 24, 1672/73. She died unmarried Dec. 17, 1690, age 17.
- J7 iii. Nathaniel Bailey, bap. Apr. 4, 1675. He married Sarah Clark.
- J8 iv. Thomas Bailey, born Oct. 7, 1677. He married Eunice Walker.
- J9 v. James Bailey, born Apr. 18, 1680. He first married Hannah Wood and secondly, Mary (Eustis) Bacon.
- vi. Mary Bailey, born Feb. 1, 1683/84. She never married. She died in Oct., 1721 at Essex County, MA, age 37. Her brother, Jonathan Bailey, was appointed administrator of her estate Feb. 23, 1721/22.
- J10 vii. Elizabeth Bailey, born Nov. 15, 1685. She married Daniel Tenney.
- J11 viii. Lydia Bailey, born Apr. 14, 1688. She married Daniel Ritter.
- J12 ix. John Bailey, born Jan. 12, 1690/91. He married Mehitable Center.

John Bailey served as a soldier under General William Phipps in a disastrous expedition at the Battle of Quebec, Canada. This expedition included (Capt.) Philip Nelson, (Lieut.) Abel Platts and 35 non-commissioned officers and privates. Platts and nearly all the men were killed or died of hunger, cold or smallpox and some died on the Brigantine Adventure. John Bailey was one of the casualties and died Nov. 19, 1690 “comeing from Canedy,” age 46. Widow Mary Bailey was appointed administratrix of his estate Apr. 22, 1691. Widow "Polly" Bailey died in 1693 at Rowley, MA.<sup>22</sup>

<sup>21</sup> While John’s birth was registered at Rowley, MA, his father was not listed in the 1643 Rowley records, so it is possible that John was born in England or elsewhere, with his birth registered at Rowley after the fact.

On Mar. 4, 1701/02, the living children of John and Mary Bailey, namely Jonathan, Nathaniel, Thomas and James Bailey, together with Jonathan Bailey acting as guardian for his minor siblings Mary, Elizabeth, Lydia and John, sold property they had inherited at Bradford, MA to Jonathan Woodman.<sup>23</sup> This property had come into the hands of these children through their grandmother Ann (Parrat) Mighill and her son Ezekiel Mighill (the children's uncle) who had died in 1694. The buyer, (Capt.) Woodman, already held a portion of the property, through his wife Sarah (Mighill) Woodman, also being a granddaughter of Ann (Parrat) Mighill.

J3.

LYDIA BAILEY, daughter of James Bailey {J1} and Lydia (-----) Bailey, was born in Nov. 1644 at Rowley, MA. She was married May 8, 1672 at Rowley, MA to (Lieut.) ABEL PLATTIS, son of Samuel Platts and Sarah (-----) Platts. Abel was born about 1650,<sup>24</sup> probably in England. Abel and Lydia had four children, born at Rowley, MA:<sup>25</sup>

- J13 i. Moses Platts, b. Feb. 4, 1672/73. He married Hannah Platts.
- ii. Abel Platts, Jr., bap. Jun. 13, 1675. He died young.
- J14 iii. Hannah Platts, bap. Feb. 23, 1678/79. She first married Samuel Lancaster and secondly, Thomas Hammond, Jr.
- iv. Samuel Platts, b. Feb. 5, 1681/82. He died young.

Abel Platts served as an Ensign and Lieutenant during the expedition to Canada in 1690. He died that year "in the Canada Voyage", the same campaign that took Lydia's brother John Bailey. Widow Lydia Platts was originally granted administration of her husband's estate and had filed an inventory of her "late husband Lieut. Abel Platts" on Nov. 3, 1691. Widow Lydia Platts was married a second time Nov. 11, 1691 at Rowley, MA to (Capt.) DANIEL WICOM, son of Richard Wicom and Ann (-----) Wicom. Daniel was born about 1635 in England. He was a carpenter and had been previously married to Mary Smith (1642-1691) and widowed. Daniel was a Captain in the Massachusetts Militia during King Phillip's War.

In 1694 "Lydia Wicom, alias Platts" petitioned the court that her son, Moses Platts had arrived the age of 21 and should be appointed administrator of his father's estate and she wished to give up the office. Her wish was granted and Mar. 26, 1694 Moses Platts posted a bond as administrator with Joseph Jewett and Ezekiel Northend, sureties. Lydia received her widow's dower from her first husband's estate Apr. 3, 1694 and the remainder of the estate was divided between his two surviving children, Moses Platts and Hannah Platts.

Capt. Daniel Wicom died Apr. 15, 1700, age 65. Widow Lydia Wicom died Nov. 24, 1722, about age 77. Daniel and Lydia Wicom were buried in the Old Burying Ground at Rowley, MA and both have gravestones.

<sup>22</sup> Records of the First Congregational Church of Rowley. Find-A-Grave gives her death date as Mar. 30, 1694, being the date that her estate was divided.

<sup>24</sup> Abel Platts deposed in court Jun. 27, 1674 he was about age 24 and in 1675 that he was about age 25.

J4.

DAMARIS BAILEY, daughter of James Bailey {J1} and Lydia (-----) Bailey, was born Jan. 17, 1648/49 at Rowley, MA. She was married May 8, 1672 at Rowley, MA to THOMAS LEAVER, JR, son of Thomas Leaver (c.1615-1683) and Mary (Bradley) Leaver (1624-1684). Thomas, Jr. was born Jul. 2, 1647 at Rowley, MA. Thomas and Damaris had four children, born at Rowley, MA:

- J15 i. Sarah Leaver, b. Oct. 29, 1673. She married Jonathan Dresser.
- J16 ii. Damaris Leaver, b. Jul. 30, 1677. She married Thomas Dickinson.

Mary Leaver died Mar. 23, 1749 at Rowley, MA “an old maid.” She executed a will Apr. 17, 1738 in which she mentioned her cousin, Sarah Thurston as sole legatee and appointed John Thurston, executor. Her will was proven Apr. 3, 1749.<sup>26</sup>
- J17 iv. Lydia Leaver, b. Dec. 5, 1684. She first married Daniel Thurston, Jr., secondly, Robert Rogers and thirdly, (Coronet) Stephen Jewett.

Thomas Leaver, Jr. died Apr. 25, 1704 at Rowley, MA, age 57. Widow Damaris Leaver died Mar. 1, 1730/31 at Rowley, MA “an old widow”, age 82.

J5.

JAMES BAILEY, JR., son of James Bailey {J1} and Lydia (-----) Bailey, was born Jan. 15, 1650/51 at Rowley, MA. He was married May 12, 1680 at Rowley, MA to ELIZABETH JOHNSON, daughter (Capt.) John Johnson (c.1630-1685/86) and Hannah (Crosby) Johnson (c.1634-1717). Elizabeth was born Jan. 16, 1660/61 at Rowley, MA. James and Elizabeth had seven children, born at Rowley, MA:

James Bailey died Mar. 20, 1714/15 at Rowley, MA, age 64. He was buried in the Old Burying Ground at Rowley, MA and has a period gravestone. His will, proven May 2, 1715, mentions his wife Elizabeth, his eldest son James to have his Rowley lands, his youngest son Samuel to have his Bradford lands, and daughters Elizabeth and Hannah.<sup>32</sup> Widow Elizabeth Bailey died Sep. 12, 1743, age 82.

<sup>41</sup> "Bradford, Dec., ye 24, 1733. This may certify whomsoever it may concern that James Bailey of Bradford who was married to the widow Mary Bacon Nov. 22, last passed by me, ye subscriber, then declared that he took the said person without anything of estate and that Lydia, the wife of Eliazer Burbank & Mary the wife of Thomas Stickney & Margaret, the wife of Caleb Burbank all of Bradford, were witnesses that the clothes she then had on were of his providing & bestowing upon her. (signed) William Balch, Minister of ye Gospel." The previous notation about James Bailey's second marriage was what was known as a smock marriage. Smock marriages were weddings where the bride appeared dressed in a white sheet or chemise furnished by the bridegroom. This was done if a man married a woman who was in debt and he might be held liable for her indebtedness if he received any property with her. He furnished her clothing worn at the wedding but retained title to the same in the presence of witnesses. It was a ritual to indicate he was not liable for her debts.

Bridget Bailey was admitted to the church at Lancaster, MA by letter from Rowley, MA in 1735 or 1736. Jonathan Bailey was admitted in like manner in 1740.

Bridget Bailey died Apr. 15, 1746 at Rowley, MA, age 43. Widower Jonathan Bailey was married a second time Mar. 26, 1747<sup>61</sup> to ABIGAIL WHITNEY.<sup>62</sup> This couple had no children.

(Capt.) Jonathan Bailey was a farmer. His name appears as a subscriber of the Second or West Precinct church of Lancaster, MA (then known as Chocksett Church, but later to be known as the First Church of Sterling, MA). Abigail was admitted to the Lancaster church on Dec. 16, 1753. On Sep. 7, 1765, "Jonathan Bayley" of Lancaster deeded land at Lancaster's second precinct to "my son Jonathan Bayley, the third in the town".<sup>63</sup> On that same day, Jonathan deeded an adjoining section of land to "my son Shubal Bailey".<sup>64</sup> (Capt.) He was married Nov. 19, 1728 at Lancaster, MA to ANNA HOUGHTON, daughter of Joseph Houghton (1678-1718) and Isabella (Houghton) Houghton. Anna was born between 1700 and 1710 at Lancaster, MA. Anna's father died when she was just a child and on May 5, 1718 her grandfather, John Houghton, deeded property to the heirs of his late son, Joseph Houghton, which included Anna.<sup>65</sup> Shubael and Anna had three children:

- J59 i. Joseph Bailey, b. May 11, 1730. He married Lydia Parker.
ii. Hannah Bailey, b. Apr. 2, 1732. She was married Dec. 29, 1757 at Lancaster, MA<sup>66</sup> to David Nelson. On May 2, 1767, David and Hannah Nelson and Jonathan {J60} and Eunice Bailey sold a parcel of land they co-owned at Lancaster, MA.<sup>67</sup> David and Hannah had six children born at Lancaster, MA. Their residence became Sterling, MA when the western (second) precinct of Lancaster became Sterling in 1781. On Jun. 19, 1783, David and Hannah Nelson sold property at Sterling, MA to their son, Nathan Nelson.<sup>68</sup> That property was adjacent to that of Jonathan Bailey.
- J60 iii. Jonathan Bailey, b. Nov. 24, 1733. He married Eunice Houghton.

Shubael and Anna Bailey co-signed at least three Lancaster land transactions in 1729, 1736 and 1737. The last one on Feb. 7, 1736/37<sup>69</sup> sold Anna's interest in the property she had been given by her grandfather in 1718, to her brother Benjamin Houghton. This deed was the last record of Anna being alive. Although no death record has been found, it is assumed she died in 1737 or 1738. A marriage intention was published Nov. 10, 1739 at Lancaster, MA for Shubael Bailey to marry METHIABLE HOUGH (or HOW).

<sup>61</sup> An intention was published Feb. 25, 1746/47 at Lancaster, MA for Jonathan Bailey to marry Abigail Whitney.

In Jan., 1744/45, Shubael Bailey was one of the first wave of members to the new Second Congregational Church of Lancaster, called Chocksett Church.

Shubael Bailey's death and that of his second wife are also unknown, but Shubael was a signatory to land records at Lancaster, MA including one in 1756 in which he sold land to "my son Joseph Bayley".<sup>70</sup> He also signed two deeds in 1762. In the last of these transactions, he sold "all my land in the Lancaster second precinct, including the farm I now live on" to Jonathan Bailey, no doubt his son.<sup>71</sup> This property was adjacent to the land where his son Jonathan lived. The second precinct was the part of Lancaster that was set off as Sterling, MA in 1781.

Jun. 12, 1725 at Rowley, MA to SARAH JEWETT, daughter of Daniel Jewett (1681-1727) and Elizabeth (Hopkinson) Jewett. Sarah was born Jun. 29, 1703 at Rowley, MA. Joseph and Sarah had four children, born at Rowley, MA and most likely a fifth<sup>95</sup> born at Newbury, MA:

- i. Elizabeth Bailey, b. Dec. 27, 1725. No further information.
- J63 ii. Nathaniel Bailey, Sr., b. Mar. 17, 1726/27. He married Mary Davis.

Joseph Bailey was a potter. In 1729, Joseph sold land at Rowley, co-signed by wife Sarah, land that had belonged to his late father, Nathaniel Bailey.<sup>96</sup> This family was dismissed about 1735 from the Rowley Church to the church at Newbury, MA.

One known male Bailey descendant of Joseph II has a Y-DNA test result matching the James line. Joseph II and Deborah named four sons after grandfathers and great-grandfathers, assuming this James line ancestry.

JEREMIAH BAILEY, son of Thomas Bailey {J8} and Eunice (Walker) Bailey, was born Aug. 14, 1709 at Bradford, MA. He was married Mar. 19, 1740/41 at Haverhill, MA<sup>115</sup> to MERCY BURBANK, daughter of Ebenezer Burbank (1687-1760) and Sarah (Hardy) Burbank (1689-1754) of Bradford, MA. Mercy was born Jan. 18, 1715/16 at Bradford, MA. Jeremiah and Mercy had five children, born at Haverhill, MA:

- i. Joanna Bailey, b. Feb. 21, 1741/42. She was first married in about 1760 to David Merrill, son of Samuel Merrill and Ruth (Eaton) Merrill. David was born Jan. 4, 1738/39 at Haverhill, MA. David and Joanna had at least three children. In two real estate transactions on Jan. 1, 1761 and Jan. 14, 1761, "David Merrill of Haverhill" acquired land in nearby Methuen, MA.<sup>116</sup> It is presumed that David and Joanna settled at Methuen upon their marriage, as they were "of Methuen" in later land transactions. In fact, on Mar. 20, 1765, David Merrill and his "wife Joanna" "of Methuen" sold land at Methuen to Samuel Merrill of Haverhill, MA, probably his brother.<sup>117</sup> David Merrill died by Aug. 19, 1773, the date at which three Merrill children of "wid. Joanna" were baptized at Haverhill, MA. Widow Joanna Merrill was married a second time Oct. 1777 at Haverhill, MA, to Ebenezer Mitchell, Jr., son of Ebenezer Mitchell, Sr. and Sarah (Williams) Mitchell. Ebenezer, Jr. was born Apr. 16, 1758 at Haverhill, MA. This was his second marriage, having been married just months earlier on Apr. 6, 1777 to Joanna's first cousin, Rachel Clement, daughter of Rachel (Bailey) Clement {J41}. Joanna and Ebenezer had at least three children, born at Haverhill, MA. It is likely that Ebenezer Mitchell died in the early 1800s, since Joanna Mitchell was listed as head of household at Haverhill, MA when the 1810 census was taken. The Merrill Memorial, p. 218, claims that Widow Joanna Mitchell died at Wilnot, NH, at age 84.

John and Sarah had four children, born at Bradford, MA:

- i (child) Grusha, b. 1733. This child died in Sep. 1733 at Bradford, MA, a "young child".
- ii. (child) Grusha, b. abt. 1735. This child died Jun. 27, 1736 at Bradford, MA.

MERCY BAILEY, daughter of Thomas Bailey {J8} and Eunice (Walker) Bailey, was born Dec. 4, 1715 at Bradford, MA. She was married Apr. 18, 1735 at Bradford, MA to ELEAZER BURBANK, JR., son of Eleazer Burbank, Sr. (1681-1759) and Lydia (Gage) Burbank (b. 1684). Eleazer, Jr. was born Feb. 23, 1708/09 at Bradford, MA. Eleazer had been previously married to Hannah Rolfe and was widowed Aug. 13, 1734. He had two children by his first wife. Eleazer and Mercy had nine children, the first two born at Bradford, MA and the latter seven at Rowley, MA.

- i. Abner Burbank, b. Feb. 19, 1736/37.<sup>128</sup> He was married Apr. 17, 1759 at Hampstead, NH to Elizabeth Hale, daughter of David Hale and Sarah (Bond) Hale. She was born Jul. 1, 1741 at Bradford, MA. Abner and Elizabeth had five children, with births registered at Rowley, MA but noted as children of Abner "of Bradford". Abner was a carpenter. In 1773, Abner Burbank "of Rowley, joiner", sold land and buildings in the west parish, near where his father had lived.<sup>129</sup> He moved away from the Bradford/Rowley, MA area to New Hampshire. He lived at Brentwood and Kingston, NH until 1792. On Sep. 20, 1776 Abner Burbank was serving in the Revolutionary War at Nottingham, NH in (Capt.) Nathan Sanborn's Company, (Col.) Tash's Regiment which was raised to reinforce the Continental Army at New York. From Jul. 6 until Oct. 28, 1780, his son, Hale, served as a Private in (Capt.) John Eastman's Company, (Col.) Thomas Bartlett's Regiment, New Hampshire militia. This family were living at Brentwood, NH when the 1790 census was taken, then removed to Newfield, ME where Abner had the charge of building the First Congregational church. They were living at Newfield, ME when the 1800 census was taken. Abner Burbank died in about 1813 in the home of his son, Jonathan, at Tuftonboro, NH. No record was found of the death of Abner's wife.
- ii. Eunice Burbank, b. Aug. 31, 1739. She was married Jan. 22, 1770 at Rowley, MA to Moses Cheney Jr., son of Moses Cheney Sr. and Sarah (Whiten) Cheney. Moses, Jr. was baptized Sep. 1, 1745 at Byfield (Newbury), MA. In 1769, Moses had purchased land and a "fulling mill" at Crawley's Falls at Brentwood, NH, and another lot with a share in a sawmill in 1774. Moses and Eunice had six children, born at Brentwood, NH. On Apr. 3, 1785, Moses and Eunice "of Brentwood, NH" sold land situated at Brentwood, NH.<sup>130</sup> It appears that Eunice Cheney died in 1785 or 1786, and that widower Moses Cheney was remarried to Sarah (____). On Mar. 20, 1787, Moses and Sarah Cheney of Brentwood, NH sold property at Brentwood, NH.<sup>131</sup> Moses bought a tract at Nottingham, NH in 1786 and one at Deerfield, NH in 1787. He removed to Nottingham, this residence stated in a deed of a tract he purchased March 18, 1793. He was living at Nottingham, NH when the 1790 census was taken. Some say Moses Cheney died in 1829, but this has not been verified.
- iii. Hannah Burbank, b. Nov. 20, 1743. She married Richard Bailey, son of Joseph Bailey and Elizabeth (Boynnton) Bailey and a descendant of Richard Bailey {1}. For more information on this couple, see Richard Bailey {66} in Generation #5 of the Richard Bailey line (Volume I of this compilation).
- iv. Samuel Burbank, b. Oct. 2, 1746. He was married Mar. 29, 1770 at Rowley, MA to Mehitabel Foster, daughter of Abraham Foster and Priscilla (Todd) Foster. Mehitabel was born Apr. 2, 1745 at Rowley, MA. Before his marriage, Samuel had on Mar. 1, 1768 acquired his father's house in the west parish of Rowley (which in 1850 became known as Georgetown, MA). He promptly tore the house down and erected a new one. Samuel and Mehitabel had two children, born at Rowley, west parish. Samuel Burbank served in the Revolutionary War, with two months of service in 1775 and one year in 1776. He was appointed Sargent under (Col). Laomi Baldwin. Samuel died Feb. 4, 1777 of smallpox during a visit back home, age 30. Widow Mehitabel Burbank outlived her husband by 67 years. She continued to occupy a part of the west parish house as her right of dower. She was living at Rowley, MA when the 1790 census was taken and at Ipswich, MA when the 1800 and 1810 censuses were taken. On Jan. 18, 1838 at the age of 92, she applied for a widow's pension. She died Mar. 10, 1844, age 98.

- vii. David Burbank (2nd), b. Aug. 2, 1750. David was a joiner, settling before 1774 at Brentwood, NH. He was married Dec. 30, 1775 at Brentwood, NH,<sup>132</sup> to Hannah Johnson of Brentwood, NH. Hannah was baptized Nov. 2, 1746, at Rowley, MA, daughter of Thomas Johnson (1713-1755) and Hannah (Dresser) Johnson (1711-1750). David and Hannah had five children, born at Brentwood, NH. This family removed to Deerfield, NH about 13 years after the Revolution. David had served in the Revolutionary War, enlisting from Brentwood, NH in Apr. or May 1775, serving eight months under (Capt.) Philip Tilton's Company, (Col.) Enoch Poor's Regiment, then a further several months at Winter Hill, MA, after which he was discharged for poor health. This family were living at Deerfield, NH when the 1790, 1800 and 1820 censuses were taken. Hannah Burbank died Jan. 10, 1825 at Deerfield, NH, age 79. On Nov. 2, 1832, David Burbank of Deerfield applied for a military pension, which was approved.<sup>133</sup> Widower David Burbank died Apr. 10, 1836 at Deerfield, NH, age 85. David and Hannah Burbank were buried in Burbank Cemetery at Deerfield, NH.

- ix. Mary Burbank, b. Feb. 7, 1757. No further information.

This family lived at least for a time in the west parish of Rowley, later known as Georgetown, MA, "in an old house in the center of Georgetown", on West Main Street facing Central Street. Death records for Eleazer and Mercy Burbank could not be located. However, both were still alive on Mar. 1, 1768 when "Eleazer Burbank of Rowley" sold the above-mentioned land and house in the Rowley west parish to his son Samuel, and on Mar. 16, 1773 when Eleazer appeared to attest to the validity of this deed.<sup>134</sup> This deed included a release of dower right by "Marcy Burbank", who explicitly identified "my son" Samuel Burbank, and was witnessed by other sons David and Abner, leaving no doubt this was the correct family.

Sarah was born May 21, 1746 at Bradford, MA. Jonathan and Sarah had at least eight children, the two oldest born at Haverhill, MA and the rest at Bow, NH, where this family were living from 1776. Jonathan was a Revolutionary Soldier. This family were living at Bow, NH when the 1790 and 1800 censuses were taken. Jonathan Clement "of Bow" executed a will Sep. 13, 1826. - vii. William Clement, b. Nov. 24, 1757. "Bill" went about 1772 to Concord, NH where he was taxed with his father in 1778. William served in the Revolutionary War, in (Col.) Isaac Wyman's regiment in 1776 and (Col.) Thomas Stickney's regiment in 1777. He removed to Canterbury, NH in 1779, then later to Wheelock, VT and finally to Danville, VT. William was first married Mar. 24, 1785 at Canterbury, NH to Alice Shepard, who died soon thereafter, after having one child. Widower William Clement was married a second time about 1787 to Abigail Hill, daughter of Samuel Hill. Abigail was born May 8, 1766. William and Abigail had nine children, all born at Danville, VT except the first. They were living at Danville, VT when the 1790, 1800, 1810, 1820 and 1830 censuses were taken. - viii. Merrill Clement, b. 1763. He served in the Revolutionary War out of Canterbury, NH, at the young age of 17. After the war, he went to Danville, VT where his brother William was living. He was married about 1791 at St. Johnsbury, VT to Hannah Morrill, daughter of Abner Morrill and Sarah (Hoyt) Morrill. Hannah was born about 1773 at Danville, VT. Merrill and Hannah had eleven children born at Danville, VT. Merrill enlisted May 19, 1813 in the War of 1812. He died about 1815 while enroute from Danville, VT to Boston, MA in pursuit of a business venture. Widow Hannah Clement struggled to keep the family together, ultimately following her sons David and Anson to Hardin County, OH, until her death Oct. 3, 1846, about age 73. She was buried in Lee Cemetery at Hepburn, OH.

In Oct. 1750, Nathaniel Clement purchased property at Newent, a village at Lisbon, CT from his brother Jeremiah, who had been living at Connecticut for several years. Nathaniel may have lived at CT for a short period, returning to Haverhill, MA by 1752. Nathaniel's name appears on the list of the Second Company of Haverhill, under (Lt. Col.) John Osgood, in 1757 during the French & Indian War.

In 1772, Nathaniel bought and settled on a farm at Concord, NH, where he stayed until 1779 when he made an exchange with Timothy Foss for the latter's farm at Canterbury, NH.<sup>139</sup> He remained at Canterbury for the rest of his life. This family were living at Canterbury, NH when the 1790 census was taken. The three males and two females on that census beyond he and his wife are thought to include his grandchildren, the three children of his late son David, who had died in 1775.

Nathaniel Clement, Jr. died in the fall or early winter of 1793 at Canterbury, NH, age 73/74. On Dec. 8, 1793, Jonathan Clement, Esq. posted a bond of £1,000 and was appointed administrator of the estate of his father, Nathaniel Clement, dec. Widow Rachel Clement was still living Dec. 17, 1794 at Canterbury, NH, when a portion of her husband's property was set aside as her dower, even though the personal part of the estate was insufficient to satisfy all debts.<sup>140</sup> Rachel Clement probably died before 1800.

William and Abigail had 11 children, born at Salem, NH. William had served in the French & Indian War for three years, was captured, carried to France and confined in the Bastille for a year. He was a town constable in 1767, surveyor of highways in 1777 in which year he also paid a soldier's tax for Continental soldiers. He entered the Revolution without enlistment and was at the Battle of Bunker Hill. He lived near the other Clough families at Salem, NH, but further to the west near Policy Brook where he is said to have operated a grist mill. About 1783, William and Abigail moved to Newbury, VT which was at that time a part of Gloucester County of the state of New York. Shortly after moving there, on Jul. 25, 1783, William acquired a 100-acre property across the river in Lyman, NH, from Reuben Foster.<sup>157</sup> They soon settled at Lyman, NH and spent the rest of their lives there. x. Mary Bailey b. Jan. 8, 1753. She married her first cousin (Rev.) James Bailey, III {J97}.

xi. Israel Bailey, b. Apr. 26, 1756. He died Jan. 16, 1758 at Salem, NH, age 1 year, 9 months.

Edward Bailey joined the East Bradford church on May 26, 1728, as did Elizabeth in 1733. On Jul. 8, 1744 they separated from this church as they had moved the family to the former north parish of Methuen, MA which had in 1741 come under the jurisdiction of Salem, NH when the MA/NH border was drawn.<sup>159</sup> They lived and paid taxes in the town of Windham, NH until their district of Windham was annexed in 1757 by Salem, NH. This family continued to live at Salem, NH through 1763 and on Dec. 29, 1763, "Edward Bayley of Salem" sold 50 acres of land in Salem for £1,322 to "Jesse Merrill of Boxford". This lot of land adjoined land "I gave my son Moses Bayley".<sup>160</sup> Jesse Merrill was Moses Bailey's brother-in-law.

Edward Bailey moved in 1764, or soon thereafter, to Haverhill, NH. On Apr. 10, 1765, "Edward Bayley of Haverhill" purchased for $120 one original right of land at Haverhill, NH from Benoni Wright.<sup>161</sup> Benoni Wright was one of the original 75 or so grantees of Haverhill, NH as listed in its May 18, 1763 town Charter. Edward's son Asa was "of Haverhill" when he also purchased land there on Jul. 2, 1765. The earliest surviving list of Haverhill, NH town officers in 1765 includes the name "Edward Bailey" as town constable. Edward was also a selectman of Haverhill, NH in 1767. Other land transactions in 1769 and 1772 show Edward's continued presence at Haverhill, NH in this period. In the Mar. 28, 1769 transaction, Edward's son "Asa Bayley of Haverhill" transferred land in the upper meadow to "my honored father Edward Bayley of Haverhill" for $373 and on Mar. 21, 1772, Edward of Haverhill purchased Lot No. 10 at Haverhill, NH from David Ladd for $50.<sup>162</sup>

By 1774, Edward Bailey had moved to Bath, NH, being party to land transactions there in 1774, 1775, 1782 and 1785. Bath was the adjoining township on the north boundary of Haverhill, NH, and Edward's son Asa had first bought land at Bath, NH in 1772, land originally granted to John Sawyer when the original Bath grantees were established on Mar. 29, 1769. "Asa Bayley of Bath" sold some of this land for £200 to "my honored father Edward Bayley of Bath" on Apr. 9, 1774.<sup>163</sup> Edward was, in time, joined at Bath, NH by other family members. On Aug. 5, 1774, Edward sold land at Bath, NH to his son "Cyrus Bayley of Bath".<sup>164</sup> On May 3, 1775, Edward sold land at Bath, NH to his son-in-law "James Bayley of Haverhill"<sup>165</sup> and on Feb. 4, 1785, he sold land at Bath, NH to his son "Daniel Bayley of Bath".<sup>166</sup>

EDNAH BAILEY, daughter of James Bailey {J9} and Hannah (Wood) Bailey, was born May 31, 1713 at Bradford, MA. She was married Oct. 28, 1731 at Bradford, MA to JONATHAN GRIFFIN, son of Shemuel Griffin (1680-1762) and Mary (Gage) Griffin (1681-1716) of Newbury, MA. Jonathan was born Nov. 19, 1709 at Newbury, MA. Ednah Griffin was dismissed from the Congregational Church of East Bradford on Jun. 12, 1732 to the First Congregational Church of Newbury, MA.<sup>167</sup> Once settled at Newbury, MA, Jonathan and Ednah had seven children, born there:

- i. William Griffin, b. Oct. 16, 1732. He died young, certainly before Dec. 1742.
- ii. Eliphalet Griffin, b. Oct. 29, 1734. He was married Nov. 6, 1755 at Newbury, MA to Jerusha Stickney, daughter of Andrew Stickney and Sarah (Brocklebank) Stickney. Jerusha was born Jul. 20, 1738 at Newbury, MA. Eliphalet and Jerusha had two sons, born at Newbury, MA. Eliphalet died in early 1760, with his estate probated Mar. 17, 1760.<sup>168</sup> His brother Jonathan was the estate executor. The estate was found to be insolvent, and the family homestead was as a result sold on Jan. 8, 1762.<sup>169</sup> Based on its description, this homestead is the identical property Eliphalet had acquired on May 23, 1757 (see below) at the auction of his father's estate.
- iii. Mary Griffin, b. Oct. 8, 1736. No further record found.
- iv. Jonathan Griffin, b. Sep. 4, 1738. He was married Nov. 12, 1761 at Newbury, MA to Hannah Davis. In 1772 and 1773, Jonathan was deeded land at Newbury, MA from his two uncles Samuel and Daniel Griffin, land that they had received from their father's estate.<sup>170</sup> Jonathan and Hannah had at least seven children, born at Newbury, MA. Jonathan was a cooper. On Nov. 2, 1778, this family sold their homestead at Newbury, MA to Abner Greenleaf, co-signed by Jonathan's wife Hannah who relinquished her right of dower.<sup>171</sup> About this time, the family moved to Londonderry, NH. In 1783, Jonathan Griffin joined the West Parish church of Londonderry. He was a selectman of Londonderry in 1783, 1784 and 1785. This family were living at Londonderry, NH when the 1790, 1810 and 1820 censuses were taken. Hannah Griffin died Mar. 14, 1820 at Londonderry, NH. Widower Jonathan Griffin died Jun. 18, 1825 at Londonderry, NH, age 86. Jonathan and Hannah Griffin were buried in Valley Cemetery at Londonderry, NH.
- v. Ednah Griffin, b. Oct. 12, 1740. She was married Dec. 25, 1760 at Newbury, MA to Nathan Merrill, son of Thomas Merrill (1711-1801) and Hannah (Bagley) Merrill of Salisbury, MA. Nathan was born Dec. 17, 1736 at Salisbury, MA. Nathan and Ednah had 12 children, all born at Newbury, MA. This family were living at Newbury, MA when the 1790 and 1800 censuses were taken. Nathan Merrill died Jan. 11, 1801 at Newburyport, MA, age 64. Widow Ednah Merrill died Aug. 22, 1809 at Newburyport, MA, age 68. Nathan and Ednah Merrill were buried in Belleville Cemetery at Newburyport, MA.
- vi. William Griffin, b. Dec. 19, 1742. He was married Jan. 23, 1764 at Newbury, MA to Molly Howard. This couple had two sons, born at Newbury, MA. Nothing more is known.

Land transactions at Newbury, MA to which Jonathan Griffin was a party in the 1731-1735 period, indicated that his occupation was "shipwright". On the first of those transactions on Jun. 1, 1731, he acquired a house and land from John Weed of Newbury, MA.<sup>172</sup> It is believed that Ednah Griffin died in late 1844 or early 1845, shortly after the birth of her last child, but no death record has been found. It is certain she was deceased by 1752 as Widower Jonathan Griffin was married a second time May 12, 1752 at Newbury, MA to Hannah Emery. Jonathan and Hannah had one son born at Newbury, MA.<sup>173</sup>

Jonathan Griffin died in 1754 at Newbury, MA, age 44. His estate was probated by the Essex County, MA court on May 13, 1754.<sup>174</sup> Widow Hannah Griffin declined to act as estate administrator and instead nominated Jonathan's brother-in-law, (Capt.) Edmund Morse. The estate was found to be insolvent, and the homestead was offered for sale. On May 23, 1757, the property was sold to the highest bidder for £58, 13 shillings 4 pence and the successful bidder was Jonathan's son, Eliphalet Griffin.<sup>175</sup> In that deed, Jonathan's widow was referred to as Hannah Griffin "alias Rogers". Hannah relinquished her "dower", having been remarried on Jan. 17, 1757 at Newbury, MA to William Rogers. On Nov. 10, 1757, Jonathan's minor-age first-marriage children presented themselves to the Essex County court under the guardianship of Jonathan's brother-in-law, Edmund Morse. They were: Jonathan (19), Edna (17), William (15) and Moses (13).<sup>176</sup> The balance of the estate of £21, 19 shillings and 4 pence was allocated on Dec. 5, 1757 among 7 surviving children, Eliphalet, Mary, Jonathan, Ednah, William, Moses (by Edna) and Jacob (by Hannah), with a double share for Eliphalet.

STEPHEN BAILEY, son of James Bailey {J9} and Hannah (Wood) Bailey, was born Jan. 3, 1714/15 at Bradford, MA. He was first married Jun. 14, 1737 at Newbury, MA to SARAH CHURCH of Newbury, MA. Stephen and Sarah had one son:

- i. Abraham Bailey, b. Apr. 3, 1739. He was married Jul. 29, 1762 at Newbury, MA to Ruth Harris. Other than the fact that Abraham was still alive in 1779, we found no further information.

Sarah Bailey died Apr. 6, 1739. Widower Stephen Bailey was married a second time May 22, 1740 at Amesbury, MA to JUDITH VARNUM. Stephen and Judith had at least eight children:

- ii. Kiah Bailey, b. Mar. 9, 1741. He was married Jan. 6, 1765 to Mary Jillings. This couple had one child, Samuel Bailey, b. Jul. 25, 1765, and probably others as his father, Stephen, made a bequest to "children and heirs of my son Kiah" in his 1779 will. Kiah Bailey died Jul. 11, 1769 "at sea".
- iii. Mary Bailey, b. Aug. 1, 1743. She died as an infant or youth, before 1748.
- J96 iv. Charles Bailey, Sr., b. Aug. 27, 1744. He married Abigail Safford.
- v. Mary Bailey, b. Jun. 25, 1748. She was married in 1771 at Brookfield, MA to John Rich. This couple had at least seven children, born at Brookfield, MA.

- vi. Levi Bailey. No information beyond the knowledge that he was living in 1779.
- vii. Anna Bailey. She died prior to 1779 and had heirs.
- viii. Sarah Bailey. She was married Jun. 27, 1774 at Newburyport, MA to William Dame.
- ix. Lucretia Bailey. No information beyond the knowledge that she was living in 1779.

It is not known exactly when Stephen's second wife, Judith, died, but in 1767 "Stephen Bailey of Newburyport" was married a third time (int. Aug. 8), 1767 at Gloucester, MA to "Miss" ELIZABETH WOODBURY, probably the daughter of William Woodbury and Elizabeth (Lane) Woodbury, and who was born Oct. 20, 1741 at Gloucester, MA.

In 1769, Stephen and Elizabeth were living at Newburyport, MA, since on Mar. 10, 1769, "Stephen Bayley of Newbury Port" sold property at Bradford, MA (to Benjamin Jaques) that he had received as a bequest upon the death of his father. "Elizabeth Baley, his wife" released her dower claim as part of this transaction.<sup>177</sup>

In light of his will as discussed below, it is evident that Stephen was married a fourth time, to SARAH ----- . Late in life, certainly by 1774, Stephen moved to Haverhill, NH, which is not surprising given that his brother Edward had been living there from 1765 along with several of Edward's children. His brother James had also been living there from 1771, and his own son Charles lived there from 1767 to 1780. "Stephen Bayly of Haverhill" conveyed two pieces of land in Haverhill, NH to James Bailey, thought to be his nephew, on separate transactions dated Jan 14, 1774 and May 10, 1775.<sup>178</sup>

On Feb. 3, 1779, in failing health, "Stephen Bayley of Haverhill" executed a will.<sup>179</sup> It is very illuminating with respect to his immediate family, some of whom are otherwise poorly documented. It speaks of "Sarah, my well beloved wife", "my oldest son Abraham Bayley", "children and heirs of my son Kiah, deceased", "my son Charles", "my son Levi" (who was bequeathed 100 acres land in Peacham, VT), "my oldest daughter Mary Rich", the "children and heirs of my daughter Anna Bayley, deceased", "my daughter Sarah Dame", and "my youngest daughter Lucretia". Lucretia was still of minor age. On May 30, 1779, this will was proven in the Grafton County, NH Probate Court, so we know that Stephen died between Feb. and May of 1779. The inventory of his estate was presented on Aug. 10, 1779 and was valued at £978 and 18 shillings, with the largest items being 100 acres of land at Peacham, VT and 50 acres of land at Haverhill, NH.<sup>180</sup>

Moses and Miriam had at least 9 children, the older five born at Chester, NH and the younger at Suncook, NH (later known as Pembroke, NH):

- i. Moses Tyler, Jr, b. 1735. He is likely the "Moses Tyler" who was married Jul. 27, 1779 at Deerfield, NH to Mehitable Merrill.<sup>181</sup> Moses served in the Revolutionary War. Moses and Mehitable had at least ten children, most of whom were born at Thetford, VT. This family were living at Thetford, VT when the 1800 census was taken. In 1775, Jephthah Tyler served three and a half months as a private in Col. John Stark's regiment. In 1777, he marched from Pembroke, NH in (Capt.) Samuel McConnell's Company and joined the Northern Continental Army at Bennington and Stillwater, with the rank of 1st Sergeant. In 1778 Jephthah was part of an expedition to Rhode Island. Widow Abigail Eastman died in 1826.
- vi. Joshua Tyler, b. May 15, 1746. Joshua was in the Revolutionary War, serving in 1776 in (Capt.) Samuel McConnell's Company. In 1777, he marched to Saratoga, NY in (Capt.) Rand's Company. He was married Apr. 11, 1770 to Rebecca Usher. Joshua and Rebecca lived for a time at Pembroke, NH, where all five children were born. They lived on lots #56 and #57 in the Third Range, which Joshua had received from his father on Mar. 29, 1769.<sup>182</sup> Then the family moved about 1785 to Thetford, VT, taking all three sons and two daughters. This family were living at Thetford, VT when the 1790, 1800 and 1810 censuses were taken. Rebecca Tyler died Aug. 15, 1824 at Thetford, VT. Widower Joshua Tyler died Feb. 10, 1829 at Thetford, VT, age 82. Joshua and Rebecca Tyler were buried in Old Thetford Center Cemetery at Thetford, VT.
- vii. Nancy Tyler, b. abt. 1747. No further information.
- viii. Lucretia Tyler, b. Sep. 18, 1748. She was first married Apr. 23, 1769 to Moses Eastman, son of Joseph Eastman (1717-1803) and Abigail (Mellen) Eastman (1719-1801). Moses was born Mar. 3, 1743 at Rumford, NH (later re-named Concord, NH). Moses and Lucretia had seven children, born at Concord, NH. This family were living at Concord, NH when the 1790 census was taken. Moses Eastman died Dec. 6, 1791 at Concord, NH, age 48. Widow Lucretia was married a second time Jun. 1, 1793 to (Capt.) Reuben Kimball, son of David Kimball (1701-1745) and Mary (Wilson) Kimball. Reuben was born Jan. 3, 1730/31 at Rumford, NH. He was the widower of Miriam (Collins) Kimball (1723-1792), with whom he had at least ten children. Reuben had been a soldier in the Revolutionary War and was wounded at the Battle of Bunker Hill. Reuben and Lucretia were living at Concord, NH when the 1800 and 1810 censuses were taken. Reuben Kimball died Jun. 12, 1814, age 83. Widow Lucretia Kimball died Sep. 16, 1815 at Concord, NH, age 66. Reuben and Lucretia Kimball were buried in Old Ford Cemetery, at East Concord, NH.
- ix. Hepsibah Tyler, b. Dec. 5, 1754. She was first married to James Bell. James and Hepsibah had two children. James died in an accident in the late 1770s. Miriam was a member (# 205) of the Second Congregational Church of East Bradford, while Moses belonged to the Church of Chester, NH.<sup>183</sup> This family moved as early as 1745 to Suncook, NH, following an exchange of farms with one Andrew McFarland. Moses participated in the early Suncook town meetings.<sup>184</sup> Moses and Miriam owned and probably lived initially on lot #56, though they afterwards lived on the eastern end of lot #43, which Moses had acquired in 1751 from Nathan Mann. Suncook was renamed Pembroke, NH in 1759. On Mar. 29, 1769, Moses deeded Lots #56 and #57 (of the Third Range) to his son Joshua, lots he had acquired Jun. 11, 1751 from Job Abbott. On Feb. 7, 1781, he deeded to Thomas Brickett "one third part of the land on which I now liveth", which was one-third of the 30 acres from the easterly end of lot #43, first division of Suncook lots. This 1781 deed was signed by both Moses and Miriam Tyler, witnessed by Moses Tyler, Jr.<sup>185</sup>

Miriam Tyler died Sep. 29, 1781, age 65. She was buried at Boxford, MA, presumably at the Mount Vernon Cemetery where her in-laws were buried, but she has no gravestone. The death date of Widower Moses Tyler is unknown.

Esther was born May 28, 1754 at Lunenburg, MA. Dudley and Esther had 13 children, born at Jaffrey, NH. Dudley was one of the first settlers of Jaffrey, NH. He initially settled on the northern half of lot #2, Range 8, which he had acquired Apr. 1, 1773 from Nathaniel Turner.<sup>186</sup> He was among the first residents of Jaffrey who enlisted in the Revolutionary War, serving in (Capt.) Philip Thomas' Company under Col. Reed's 3rd Regiment. He was at the Battle of Bunker Hill. Dudley seems to have been a man of considerable property, being among the town of Jaffrey's top ten taxpayers. This family were living at Jaffrey, NH when the 1790 and 1800 censuses were taken. They removed from NH to the vicinity of Stanstead, Lower Canada in or about 1802. The place they settled became known as Griffins Corners. In 1824, they moved onwards to Upper Canada. Dudley Griffin died Nov. 3, 1833 at Hawkesbury, Upper Canada. His death was reported in the Feb. 10, 1834 issue of the North Star, Danville, VT, p. 3. Widow Esther Griffin died Jul. 18, 1835, also in Upper Canada. Dudley and Esther Griffin were buried in Greenwood Cemetery at Vankleek Hill, Upper Canada (now Ontario Province, Canada).<sup>187</sup>

Silas was born Apr. 23, 1754 at Brookfield, MA. Silas and Rhoda settled at Leverett, MA, where their six children were born. Silas Ball was a Surgeon's Mate during the Revolutionary War, enlisting at Leverett, MA in Apr. 1775 for a period of 9 months, serving in the Regiment commanded by (Col.) Benjamin Ruggles Woodbridge. He enlisted a second time in Jul. 1780, serving three months as Surgeon's Mate in the Regiment under (Col.) Murray. After the War, Silas practiced medicine for the rest of his life at Leverett, MA. This family continued to live at Leverett, MA when the 1790 and 1800 censuses were taken. (Dr.) Silas Ball died Jul. 15, 1807 at Leverett, MA, age 53. Widow Rhoda Ball was remarried Mar. 3, 1818 to Amasa Graves, of Middlefield, MA. Amasa Graves was born Jun. 26, 1743 at Hatfield, MA. He was a widower, having lost his first wife, Phebe (Cary) Graves in 1815. Amasa Graves died Nov. 17, 1820, age 77. Widow Rhoda Graves was allowed a pension as the widow of Silas Ball, based on her application filed May 11, 1837 while a resident of Sunderland, MA, then aged 83 years.<sup>188</sup> She died Feb. 1842, age 87, leaving two surviving children, Dr. Silas Ball, Jr. and Hannah (Ball) Hilliard.

- ix. Hannah Griffin, b. Oct. 18, 1756. She was married (int. Apr. 6,) 1774 to (Capt.) Phineas Annis, son of Ezra Annis (1726-1817) and Sarah (Long) Annis (1730/31-1782). Phineas was born May 22, 1753 at Bradford, MA. Phineas was a drum major at various times during the Revolutionary War, initially in 1775. His daughter later declared he sustained a contusion on his head at the Battle of Bunker Hill, which plagued him for the rest of his life. Phineas and Hannah had two children, born at Tewksbury, MA who grew to adulthood, and likely had a number of other children that died young. This family moved to Thetford, VT in the 1780's or 90's. They were living at Thetford, VT when the 1800 census was taken. Phineas Annis died Feb. 2, 1801 at Thetford, VT, age 47. Widow Hannah Annis never re-married and she died Sep. 21, 1839 at Thetford, VT, age 82. On Oct. 4, 1845, their only still-surviving child Caty (Annis) Burnham, then age 68, testified in her claim for a survivor's benefit from her father's military service, and noted her mother had never re-married after her father's death.<sup>189</sup>

On Jun. 1, 1773, Daniel and Beulah "of Tewksbury" deeded property at Newbury, MA to their nephew Jonathan Griffin "of Newbury", land that they had inherited from the estate of Daniel's father, Shimuel Griffin.<sup>190</sup> Daniel and Beulah were living at Tewksbury, MA next door to their son, Uriah, when the 1790 census was taken.

Daniel Griffin died Jan. 14, 1799 at Tewksbury, MA, age 87. Widow Beulah Griffin was no doubt the second female over 45 years of age living with her son, Shimuel, at Tewksbury, MA (and next door to her son Uriah) when the 1800 census was taken. She died Dec. 30, 1812, at Tewksbury, MA, age 94.

J52.

JAMES BAILEY, JR., son of James Bailey {J9} and Hannah (Wood) Bailey, was born Feb. 11, 1721/22 at Bradford, MA. James joined the Congregational Church at East Bradford, MA on Aug. 29, 1742. There is no record of dismissal even though he left soon thereafter to live at Newbury, MA.<sup>191</sup> James Bailey was a ship carpenter/sawyer. He was first married about 1745 to RACHEL BERRY. Early in their married life, this family moved from Bradford, MA to Newbury, MA. James and Rachel had eight children, the oldest born at Bradford, MA, the next six at Newbury and/or Newburyport, MA and the last probably at Cumberland, ME:

- i. Hannah Bailey, b. Mar. 28, 1746. She was married Dec. 6, 1764 at Windham, Cumberland County, ME<sup>192</sup> to Thomas Manchester, son of Stephen Manchester and Grace (Farrow) Manchester. Thomas was born 1739 at New Marblehead, ME. Thomas and Hannah had at least four and as many as six children, with the oldest born at Windham, ME and the others at Haverhill, NH, where the family moved about 1770. Thomas was a private in Capt. Samuel Young's (New Hampshire) Company during the Revolutionary War. He was at the capture of Ticonderoga, NY, where he reportedly died in 1777.<sup>193</sup> Widow Hannah Manchester was married a second time to George Garland, who was born in Scotland about 1735. George migrated to America on the ship "Lilly" in 1774. He was said to have built the first frame house at Barnet, VT on what is now called "Garland Hill Road". Hannah and George had three children, all born at Barnet, VT. This family were living at Barnet, VT when the 1790, 1800 and 1810 censuses were taken. Hannah Garland died Feb. 28, 1811 at Barnet, VT, age 64.

She was buried with her second husband in Barnet Center Cemetery at Barnet, VT. Widower George Garland was remarried to Mrs. Dolly Remick, probable widow of John M. Remick (1766-1805).

George Garland died Jun. 3, 1821 at Barnet, VT and was survived by his second wife. He left a will dated May 28, 1821 in which he named wife Dolly Garland and his three daughters by Hannah.<sup>194</sup>

- ii. Rachel Bailey, b. Feb. 20, 1748. She was married about 1781 to John McFarland. John and Rachel had five children, born at Caledonia County, VT.<sup>195</sup> This family were living at Barnet, VT when the 1790 and 1800 censuses were taken. On Sep. 18, 1806, John McFarland of Barnet, VT, executed his last will and testament.<sup>196</sup> The will named his sons James, John and Robert as beneficiaries of portions of his farm at Barnet, VT. It also named his wife Rachel and daughters Anna and Elizabeth. John McFarland died on Oct. 6, 1806 at Barnet, VT, age 61. His will was proven by the court Oct. 27, 1806. It was noted that son Robert was still a minor, and his older brother John was made his son's guardian. The estate was valued on Nov. 8, 1806 at $1,989.70. Widow Rachel McFarland died Jan. 10, 1835 at Barnet, VT, age 86. John and Rachel McFarland were buried in Barnet Center Cemetery at Barnet, VT.

iv. Ednah Bailey, b. Jan., 1752/53. She married her first cousin Daniel Bailey {J95}.

v. Joshua Bailey, b. Sep. 5, 1755. Probably died young, certainly before 1807.

J98 vi. Abijah Bailey, b. Sep. 3, 1758. He married Mary (Butterfield) Sawyer.

J99 vii. Benjamin Bailey, b. May 25, 1760. He married Polly McCauber and/or Mary Smith.

J100 viii. Luther Bailey, born abt. 1762. He married Anna Kincaid.

On Oct. 19, 1751, "James Bayley, sawyer, of Newbury" purchased a house lot at Newbury, MA, for £40 paid to Isaac Hall, shipwright.<sup>197</sup> In 1758, they were living at Newburyport, MA.<sup>198</sup> The identical Newbury lot was sold Aug. 21, 1760 by James and Rachel Bailey to John Follansbee, shipwright, also of Newbury, MA.<sup>199</sup> This is about the time James and Rachel moved to New Gloucester, Cumberland County, ME. On Apr. 17, 1761, James Bailey, carpenter, and wife Rachel "of New Marblehead, Cumberland County" sold a property there to Thomas Mayberry, husbandman.<sup>200</sup> The presence of James at Cumberland County continued with a series of land transactions throughout the 1760s. It is said that James was involved in building ships for the French & Indian War during the early 1760s. He was still a resident of New Gloucester when selling property on Mar. 10, 1769.<sup>201</sup> While still a resident of New Gloucester on May 5, 1769, he sold property at Bradford, MA that he had received as legacy from his father's estate.<sup>202</sup> By 1771, James and Rachel had become residents of Haverhill, NH. On Nov. 7, 1771, "James Bailey of Haverhill" sold his properties in New Gloucester and Windham, both in Cumberland County, ME.<sup>203</sup> On Nov. 12, 1773, still "of Haverhill, NH" James sold his residual Cumberland County properties.<sup>204</sup> James lived on a Haverhill property later known as the "Dow farm" and even later the "Keyes farm".<sup>205</sup> James Bailey was a selectman of Haverhill, NH in 1771 and 1774, though this may have been his son

James, Jr. On Mar. 22, 1779, James and Rachel sold their property at Haverhill, NH.<sup>206</sup> This was likely the time they moved to become early settlers of Peacham, VT. A 1785 Deed in Haverhill, NH refers to property previously acquired from James Bailey, "now of Peacham, VT".

Rachel Bailey was living in Mar. 1779 when she signed the above-mentioned deed, but it is presumed she died soon thereafter, probably at Peacham, VT. James Bailey was married a second time to MARY (JOHNSON) KINCAID, claimed by some to be the daughter of Michael Johnson and Mary (Hancock) Johnson, and widow of Samuel Kincaid of Hampstead, NH. The record of their marriage has not been found. Contrary to certain published research, there is a total absence of evidence that James and Mary had any children. James' children by his first wife were explicitly mentioned in his 1807 will, and there was no mention of any other children. Furthermore, the couple were both beyond normal child-bearing age.

James Bailey and wife Mary were living at Peacham, VT when the 1790 and 1800 censuses were taken. On Aug. 20, 1807, James executed a will in which he made provisions for his wife, "Mary Baley", as well as all of his seven living children, including Hannah Garland, Rachel McFarland, Ednah Bailey and four sons. Although James had over 50 grandchildren at the time of writing his will, he made specific gifts only for the 10 living children of his son Luther, as well as for Luther and Luther's wife, Anna. This special treatment may imply that this part of the family were struggling to support themselves.<sup>207</sup>

James Bailey died Apr. 24, 1808 at Peacham, VT, age 86. His will was proven by the Probate Court on May 20, 1808. The estate was appraised at $2,137.75, including $2,000 for real estate located in Peacham, VT, but was found to be insolvent.<sup>208</sup> Some claim Widow Mary Bailey died in 1818, but no actual record could be found to confirm this date.

HEPZIBAH BAILEY, daughter of James Bailey {J9} and Hannah (Wood) Bailey, was born Nov. 19, 1724 at Bradford, MA. She was married Mar. 1, 1745/46 at Newbury, MA to JOHN BEAL. Information is scarce about this family. Records have been found for two children who were baptized in the First Church of Biddeford, York County, ME,<sup>209</sup> but they likely had other children.

- i. Elizabeth Beal, bap. Oct. 17, 1757. No further information.

"Hepsibah Beal" was mentioned in her father's will dated Jun. 1765. The date of her death and that of husband, John Beal, are unknown.

<sup>234</sup> This person is easily confused with his first cousin Jonathan Bailey, who was born in 1737/8, son of Jonathan Bailey {J21} and Bridget Boynton. Besides their common birthplace and relatively close birth date, this confusion is compounded by an error in the known James Bailey genealogy, by Hollis R. Bailey, p. 21, person #91, which claims it is the son of Jonathan who married Eunice Houghton. The conclusion that the subject of this profile is in fact the son of Shubael, is a land record from May 2, 1767, whereby Jonathan and his brother-in-law David Nelson sold a piece of property at Lancaster, MA, co-signed by his wife Eunice and sister Hannah (Bailey) Nelson. Though both Jonathan's had a sister named Hannah, only the daughter of Shubael was old enough to be the wife of David Nelson.

Daniel specialized in "redware" for table use, as compared to the typical pots and pans made by most potters of the day.<sup>253</sup>

It was at Gloucester that Daniel met his first wife, and was subsequently married May 23, 1750<sup>254</sup> at Newbury, MA to ELIZABETH DENNING, daughter of William Denning and Susanna (Galloway) Denning, of Gloucester, MA. Elizabeth was born Aug. 9, 1729 at Gloucester, MA. Daniel and Elizabeth had three children, the first born at Gloucester, MA and the other two at Newbury, MA.<sup>255</sup>

Daniel's business at Gloucester did not prosper, perhaps related to the cholera epidemic, which also took their first child. As a result, this family moved back to Daniel's father's shop at Newbury, MA. Based on land record transactions, it is evident that this family moved from Newbury, MA to Newburyport, MA in 1763. They were "of Newbury" on Jan. 31, 1763, when Daniel sold a dwelling house at that town<sup>256</sup> and they were "of Newburyport" on May 11, 1764 when Daniel and Elizabeth sold a dwelling house, potter's shop and kiln near Saint Paul's Church at that town.<sup>257</sup>

Elizabeth Bayley died Jun. 27, 1765, age 35. Widower Daniel Bayley of Newbury was married a second time (int. Jul. 10) Aug. 4, 1765 at Newburyport, MA to SARAH (THOMAS) STONE, daughter of John Thomas and Anna (Shaw) Thomas. Sarah was born Sep. 6, 1732 at Gloucester, MA. She was the widow of John Stone, whom she had married Dec. 12, 1751. Daniel and Sarah had five children, born at Newburyport, MA:

- J110 iv. William Bayley, Sr., b. May 9, 1766. He married Mehitabel (Duty) Hamilton.
- v. Anna Thomas Bayley, b. Jan. 6, 1769. She was first married Apr. 19, 1795 at Newburyport, MA to Elijah Parker of Newburyport, MA. She was married a second time Apr. 19, 1799 at Newburyport, MA to Anson Whelpley. This couple were living at Newburyport, MA, without children, when the 1800 census was taken. Anna was recorded as head of household at Newburyport, MA, with a ten-year old boy, when the 1810 census was taken. Anna was married a third time Sep. 18, 1821 at Newburyport, MA to her first cousin Joseph Bailey {J111}, son of Joseph Bailey {J65} and Deborah (Hardy) Bailey. Anna Bailey probably died in the 1830's as she is absent from the 1840 census of Rockport, MA.

This family were living at Newburyport, MA when the 1800, 1810, 1820 and 1840 censuses were taken. Nathaniel Bayley was a potter like his father. He died May 2, 1849 at Newburyport, MA, age 77. Widow Abigail Bayley was living with the family of their daughter Elizabeth (Bayley) Cheney at Newburyport, MA when the 1850 census was taken. Abigail Bayley died Jun. 24, 1855 at Newburyport, MA, age 85.

They had one son George Arthur (1796-1816), who was born and died at Newburyport, MA. This family were living at Newburyport, MA when the 1800 census was taken. Mary Arthur (then a widow) died of consumption Aug. 7, 1846 at Newburyport, MA, age 71.

On Oct. 31, 1765, Daniel and Sarah sold the same dwelling house and potter's shop at Newburyport as mentioned above.<sup>260</sup> This family were living at Newburyport, MA when the 1790 census was taken.

Joseph Bailey died before Sep. 8, 1764, the date at which his estate was probated.<sup>264</sup> Widow Deborah Bailey declined to administer his estate and Robert Young was appointed administrator. The estate was insolvent, leading to the administrator seeking permission to sell the real estate and the widow to renounce her dower rights. Widow Deborah Bailey was re-married Sep. 28, 1784 at Pelham, NH to Philip Hardy. This couple were living at Pelham, NH when the 1790 census was taken. The 1800 Pelham, NH census is missing. Joseph and Deborah's death dates are unknown. They co-signed a land deed at Pelham, NH in 1795<sup>265</sup> and Philip alone signed a deed at Pelham, NH in Mar. 1800.<sup>266</sup>

He was married Apr. 24, 1753 at Nottingham West, NH to SARAH FRENCH, daughter of John French and Elizabeth (Harwood) French. Sarah was born Oct. 6, 1733 at Dunstable, NH. <sup>261</sup> Essex County, MA, Deed Bk. 161, p. 288.

<sup>262</sup> This probable child of Joseph and Sarah Bailey does not appear on any of the published genealogies, but these parents moved from Rowley, MA to Newbury, MA about 1735 and "Joseph, son of Joseph" was baptized at Newbury on Apr. 6, 1735. One male Bailey descendant of Joseph Jr. has a Y-DNA test result matching the James line. And their four sons appear named after grandfathers and great-grandfathers. Also, two of Joseph and Sarah's grandchildren (first cousins) were married i.e., daughter of Daniel to son of Joseph, Jr.

<sup>263</sup> The list of debts for Joseph Bailey' 1784 estate includes a provision for the costs of caring for three unnamed children under the age of seven. They could be orphaned grand-children or additional children born after 1777.

He died Jun. 9, 1857, age 90. Joseph and Sibyl Willard were buried in Weeks Mills Cemetery at New Sharon, ME.

Further information about this family is sparse. THOMAS BAILEY, son of Samuel Bailey, Sr. {J33} and Jane (Wyatt) Bailey, was born Dec. 5, 1742 at Rowley, MA. He was married Dec. 6, 1766 at Newburyport, MA to SARAH BAILEY.<sup>309</sup> Thomas and Sarah had one child, born at Newburyport, MA:

- i. Frances Bailey, b. abt. 1773. She was married Dec. 26, 1796 at Newburyport, MA to (Capt.) William Lawson, Sr., mariner, son of (Capt.) John Lawson and Hannah (Martin) Lawson (c.1739-1757) of Ipswich, MA. William was born about 1769 and baptized Mar. 31, 1773 in Saint Paul's Episcopal Church at Newburyport, MA. William and Frances had four children born at Newburyport, MA.<sup>310</sup> Frances Lawson died May 13, 1825 at Newburyport, MA, age 52. (Capt.) William Lawson died Jan. 13, 1826 at Newburyport, MA, age 56.

Thomas Bailey was a chair maker, like his father and brother John. Thomas was a seaman during the Revolutionary War, sailing with (Cmdr.) John Paul Jones, being captured and imprisoned for a time. He and his brother, John, were deeded their father's homestead at Rowley, MA in 1796<sup>311</sup>, although Thomas remained at Newburyport. On Jun. 5, 1805, Thomas executed a will, naming his wife as executor and also naming his daughter as "my true and faithfull friend, Mrs. Frances Lawson, wife Capt. William Lawson".

Sarah Bailey died Jun. 1, 1823 at Newburyport, MA, age 84. Widower Thomas Bailey died Feb. 15, 1825 at Newburyport, MA, age 82. His will was proven by the Essex County Probate Court Jun. 28, 1825.<sup>312</sup> As his wife had pre-deceased him, his son-in-law, (Capt.) William Lawson was named executor of his estate. As both Capt. Lawson and his wife, Frances, had died by early 1826, the residual of the estate fell to Thomas' Bailey's grandchildren, of whom only two of the four, Frances and Thomas B., were still living. Frances (Lawson) Spaulding died in 1838, so by the time

<sup>309</sup> Numerous people on Ancestry claim this Sarah Bailey was born Apr. 3, 1739 at Bradford, MA, daughter of Stephen Bailey {J49} who was married Jun. 14, 1736 at Newbury, MA to Sarah Church of Newbury. However, there is no birth record for a daughter Sarah Bailey on that date in Bradford vital records (or elsewhere), but Stephen and Sarah (Church) Bailey had a son, Abraham, born Apr. 3, 1739 at Bradford. There is no record Abraham had a twin sister. Sarah (Church) Bailey died three days after the birth of her son, so there is no chance she had a daughter Sarah was born a year or two after. The parentage of this Sarah Bailey remains a mystery.

<sup>310</sup> (1) William Lawson, Jr., b. May 29, 1800. He never married. William Lawson, Jr. died Mar. 24, 1822 at Newburyport, MA, age 21, buried in Old Hill Burying Ground at Newburyport, MA; (2) John Lawson, b. May 1, 1804. He never married. John Lawson died Apr. 22, 1823, age 18, buried in Old Hill Burying Ground at Newburyport, MA; (3) Thomas Bailey Lawson, b. Jan. 13, 1807. He was married Dec. 17, 1838 at Newburyport, MA to Catherine Follansbee. He died Jun. 4, 1888 at Lowell, MA, age 81; (4) Frances E. Lawson, b. May 9, 1813. She was married Feb. 23, 1836 at Newburyport, MA to Rufus Spaulding of Amesbury, MA, son of Prescott Spaulding (1780-1864) and Hannah Titcomb (Cross) Spaulding (1784-1855). Rufus was born Jan. 9, 1812 at Newburyport, MA. Rufus and Frances had two children: (a) Frances Ellen Spaulding, b. abt. 1837. She was married May 4, 1857 at Newburyport, MA to Moses P. Brown. They had two children at Boston, MA and Frances Brown died Jun. 24, 1866 at Boston, MA, age 29. (b) Charles Philip Spaulding, b. abt. 1838 who died Dec. 1, 1847 at Newburyport, MA, age 9. Frances (Lawson) Spaulding died Nov. 12, 1838 at Newburyport, MA, age 24. Widower Rufus Spaulding was married a second time Jun. 18, 1840 at Newburyport, MA to Mary Moody. SAMUEL BAILEY, JR., son of Samuel Bailey, Sr. {J33} and Jane (Wyatt) Bailey, was born May 4, 1757 at Rowley, MA. In the spring of 1775, while a resident of Rowley, MA, Samuel enlisted initially into Capt. Thomas Mighill's company in Col Gerish's Regiment. He was a musician in the forces and he served as a fifer. After his first eight months service, he volunteered under Capt. Scott in Col North's regiment, taking him twice to Rhode Island during 1776. He was discharged in Aug. 1777. In Feb. 1778 he enlisted for three more years in Capt. Benjamin Barton's company afterwards commanded by Captain Joshua Trafton in Col Henry Sharbarne's regiment. Samuel suffered smallpox during this period, then was finally discharged in Aug. 1781.

During a gap in his military service, Samuel was married Oct. 8, 1777 at Dorchester, MA, where he was residing at that time, to ELEANOR BIRD, probably the daughter of Matthew Bird and Eleanor (Ranger) Bird of Dorchester, MA. Eleanor was born about 1756. Samuel and Eleanor had 11 children.<sup>313</sup> Though all the children's births were recorded after-the-fact in the records of Lincoln, ME, several of the oldest would have in fact been born in the Boston area, and the rest at Bangor, MA/ME then Sunkhaze, MA/ME:

- i. Sarah Bailey, b. Jul. 9, 1778. She was married May 8, 1798 at Boston, MA to John Mountain. This couple had at least two children, born at Boston, MA. John Mountain died Mar. 21, 1842 at Boston, MA.
- J137 ii. (Capt.) Samuel Bailey, III, b. Jun. 19, 1781. He first married Catherine Dudley and secondly Leaffy Olivia Cummings.
- J138 iii. William Bailey, Sr., b. Feb. 18, 1783. He married Martha "Patty" Spencer.
- J139 iv. Amos Bailey, Sr., b. Sep. 26, 1784. He first married Sarah Ballard and secondly Joanna (Clark) Gove.
- v. Matthew Bailey, b. Jun. 22, 1786. He probably died as a child.
- J140 vi. Thomas Tileston Bailey, b. Mar. 20, 1788. He married Hannah Lee.
- vii. Mary "Polly" Bailey, b. Oct. 1, 1790. She was married (int. Sep. 12) 1809 to Jeremiah Jameson, the son of Capt. Daniel Jameson and Elizabeth (Colburn) Jameson.<sup>314</sup> Jeremiah was born about Dec. 1784 at Orono, MA/ME. Jeremiah and Mary had ten children, born at Sunkhaze, ME except for the younger ones, who were born after they had moved from Sunkhaze, ME to Lincoln, ME in 1827. Jeremiah was a farmer and lumberman and in 1828 built their house at Lincoln, ME opposite Plumly's store. This family were living at Lincoln, ME when the 1850 and 1860 censuses were taken. Jeremiah Jameson died Aug. 6, 1860 at Lincoln, ME, age 75. Widow Mary Jameson was living with the family of her son Daniel at Lincoln, ME when the 1870 census was taken. She died Jan. 21, 1876 at Lincoln, ME, age 85. Jeremiah and Mary Jameson were buried in West Broadway Cemetery at Lincoln, ME.
- viii. Jane Bailey, b. Jul. 12, 1793. She was married in 1814 or 1815 at Eddington, ME to Philip Spencer, Jr., son of Philip Spencer, Sr. and Lillis (Mansell) Spencer. Philip Jr. was born about 1792. Philip and Jane had at least nine children, born at Bradley, ME. This family were living at Argyle Township, ME when the 1850 census was taken. It seems that Jane may have died in the 1850s, as Philip was living without her at Levant, ME when the 1860 census was taken.
- J141 ix. John Bailey, b. Feb. 21, 1796. He married Prudence Reed.
- J142 x. David Bailey, Sr., b. Mar. 9, 1799. He married Rachel Ann Moulton.

- xi. Daniel Bailey, b. Apr. 12, 1801. He was married Jul. 5, 1841 at Lincoln, ME to Amanda Blanchard, daughter of Jonas Blanchard and Joanna (Small) Blanchard. Amanda was born Feb. 15, 1820 at Dexter, ME. It does not appear that Daniel and Amanda had children. Daniel died May 9, 1850, age 49. Widow Amanda Bailey was living with a sister at Lincoln, ME next door to her brother-in-law David (and Rachel) when the 1850 census was taken. She died Oct. 14, 1853 at Lincoln, ME, age 33. Daniel and Amanda Bailey were buried in West Broadway Cemetery at Lincoln, ME.

This family departed the Boston area in the late 1780's or early 1790's and settled in the Penobscot River area, living at Brewer/Bangor.<sup>315</sup> In about 1797, they re-settled just to the north of Bangor in Sunkhaze Plantation (after 1833, to be known as Milford, ME). This family were living at Sunkhaze, ME when the 1800 and 1820 censuses were taken. Samuel was living there on Apr. 22, 1818 when he applied for his military pension and was granted a pension of $8 per month.<sup>316</sup> He declared no real estate and a meager personal estate (1 cow and 1 pig).

Samuel Bailey died May 16, 1829 at Sunkhaze, ME, age 72. He was buried in Costigan Cemetery at what is now Milford, ME. After Samuel's death, his widow Eleanor continued to live at Sunkhaze until 1832 when she moved to Lincoln, ME to live with her son Daniel. In 1838, Eleanor Bailey, then aged 81 and living at Lincoln, ME, applied for and was granted a widow's pension. Her pension, certificate #2711, was issued Jun. 9, 1839, at a rate of $88 per year. Widow Eleanor Bailey died Oct. 20, 1841 at Lincoln, ME, age 85. She was buried in West Broadway Cemetery at Lincoln, ME.

He was married a second time Aug. 19, 1832 at Bangor, ME to Mrs. Hannah H. Smith, of Bangor, ME. David had several land holdings, including land at Hopkinton, NH, Hudson, NH and Pelham, NH which he sold in the 1832-1834 period.<sup>332</sup> David Greeley died Mar. 2, 1838, age 48, and was buried in Eastern Cemetery at Portland, ME.

Samuel Bailey lived at Andover, MA on the home place with his father. He served in the Revolutionary War as a member of (Capt.) Jacob Tyler's Company in (Col.) Ebenezer Bridge's Regiment and was killed at the battle of Bunker Hill on Jun. 17, 1775, age 46. His name appears upon the tablets erected in 1889 by the city of Boston on the slope of Bunker Hill. It is a tradition in the family that he held the office of Lieutenant. (See Report of Second Annual Gathering of Bailey-Bayley Family Association at Andover, Mass., Aug., 1894, page 21, for a brief sketch of his life.)

Widow Hannah Bailey died no later than Feb. 2, 1778. It was on this date that her deceased husband's father Samuel Bailey, Sr. wrote to the probate officer that "it has pleased God to take away my only son" and that God "has since been pleased to take away my daughter-in-law". Since Hannah had not completed her duties as administrator of her husband's estate, Samuel Bailey Sr. requested and received the appointment of David Abbot as administrator for both Samuel, Jr.'s and Hannah's estates.<sup>360</sup> All seven surviving children of Samuel and Hannah were remembered in their grandfather Bailey's 1784 will.

MARAH (or MARY) BAILEY, daughter of Samuel Bailey, Sr. {J43} and Mary (Rolf) Bailey, was born Nov. 18, 1730 at Bradford, MA. She was married Dec. 27, 1850 at Tewksbury, MA to JAMES KITTREDGE, son of James Kittredge (1687-1754) and Sarah (Fowle) Kittredge (1696-1739). James and Mary had at least seven children, all born in Tewksbury, MA:

- i. Samuel Bailey Kittredge, b. Oct. 22, 1751. He was married Oct. 28, 1773 at Andover, MA to Sarah Kidder, daughter of Samuel Kidder and Abigail (Hill) Kidder. She was born Feb. 7, 1752 at Billerica, MA. Samuel and Sarah had six children, born at Methuen, MA but all baptized together Feb. 6, 1791 in South Congregational Church at Andover, MA. By 1800, Samuel had moved his family to Danville, VT, just as his father and brother James had done previously. Samuel was living at Danville, VT when the 1800, 1810 and 1820 censuses were taken. Sarah Kittredge died May 9, 1837 at Danville, VT, age 84. Widower Samuel Kittredge died Nov. 26, 1838 at Danville, VT, age 87.
- ii. Molly Kittredge, b. Jul. 16, 1753. No further information.
- iii. Hannah Kittredge, b. May 21, 1755. She was married Nov. 30, 1773 at Andover, MA to Jeremiah Morrill, most likely the son of Abner Morrill and Lydia (Greeley) Morrill.<sup>361</sup> Initially this couple settled at Methuen, MA, and it was there that Jeremiah enlisted for 10 days in the Revolutionary War at the time of Lexington alarm in Apr. 1775. Then in May 1775 he enlisted in Capt. Charles Furbush's company in Col. Ebenezer Bridges' Massachusetts regiment, serving 8 months. He was at the Battle of Bunker Hill. In Feb. 1776, he enlisted again and served in Cap. Ford's Massachusetts company. Then he enlisted for the final time in Jul. 1776 for five months as private and artificer under Cap. Samuel Johnson and others. Later in life, he referred to himself as Capt. Jeremiah Morrill (in 1792) and in the newspapers he was called "Maj." Morrill. Jeremiah and Hannah had at least 5

<sup>361</sup> Most online trees show this Jeremiah Morrill as the son of Samuel Morrill and Hannah (Osgood) Morrill. Birth Records for 1751 for South Hampton, NH (see NEHGS 53:168) show that there two Jeremiah Morrill's born there in 1751, namely Mar. 31, 1751 in the case of the child of Abner and Sep. 2, 1751 for the child of Samuel. There are three compelling reasons to connect Jeremiah, wife of Hannah Kittredge with parents Abner and Lydia. Firstly, Jeremiah's 1832 military pension application includes a sworn statement by Joseph Morrill, identifying himself as the brother of Jeremiah. Only Abner Morrill had a son called Joseph. Secondly, in the same pension application, Sally Whitcher (known to be born Sarah Kittredge) states that her sister married said Jeremiah Morrill. Finally, there were at least four Morrill men among the earliest pioneers of Danville, VT, namely Abraham, Abner, Jeremiah, and Sargeant. Only the Abner branch connects all of them.

children,<sup>362</sup> the oldest probably born at Methuen, MA and the others at Tewksbury where they settled after the War. In about 1784, the family moved to Danville, VT, where Jeremiah and brothers and nephews were among the first settlers. This family were living at Danville, VT in 1832 when Jeremiah applied for and received a military pension. Hannah Morrill died Dec. 9, 1834 at Danville, VT, age 79.<sup>363</sup> Widower Jeremiah Morrill leased his Danville farm to others during his final years, and finally sold it to his youngest son George W. Morrill on Nov. 28, 1838.<sup>364</sup> He died Dec. 18, 1838 at Danville, VT, age 87.<sup>365</sup>

- iv. James Kittredge, b. Oct. 1, 1757. He died Oct. 10, 1757, age 9 days.
- v. Sarah "Sally" Kittredge, bap. Jun. 22, 1760. She was married to Joseph "Whitcher" Whittier, son of Abner Whittier and Elizabeth (Dow) Whittier. Joseph was born about 1764 at Methuen, MA. This couple were among the earliest settlers of Danville, VT, where they had at least four children. This family were living at Danville, VT when the 1790, 1800, 1810 and 1820 censuses were taken. Joseph Whitcher died Oct. 31, 1830 at Danville, VT. In 1832, widow Sally Whitcher testified in support of the pension application of Jeremiah Morrill, stating she knew him as a result of her sister being his wife. Sally Whitcher died Oct. 6, 1845, age about 85. Joseph and Sally Whittier were buried in Danville Center Cemetery at Danville, VT.
- vi. James Kittredge, b. Jul. 19, 1767. He was married about 1790 at Danville, VT to Sally "Whitcher" Whittier, daughter of Abner Whittier and Elizabeth (Dow) Whittier. Sally was baptized Nov. 5, 1769 at Methuen, MA. James was a road builder. He and Sally had eight children, all born at Danville, VT. In Jun. 1806, Hannah Webber witnessed Danville, VT land transactions by her father Jeremiah Morrill in favor of her two brothers Joseph and Philip (Danville, VT, Deeds, v. 4, pp. 277-8). After John Webber died Mar. 21, 1826 at Cincinnati, OH, Hannah was remarried Jun. 20, 1826 at Danville, VT to Robert O. Randall (1772-1848). Hannah Randall died Jun. 19, 1839 at Springfield, OH, age 64/65; 2) Joseph K. Morrill, b. abt. 1779. He lived at Boston, MA in 1806, 1808, then at Newton, MA by 1822. He was living at Junius, NY when the 1830 census was taken, then at Hambden, Geauga County, Ohio when the 1840 census was taken. He was living there with Mrs. Lucy Austin, though they never married. Squire died Feb. 15, 1843 at Hambden, OH, age about 82. He was buried in Hambden Township Cemetery at Hambden, OH.

After the death of his father in 1854, James Kittredge was given a license to continue operating the Tavern his father had operated in his Tewksbury house on the road from Andover to Billerica. This family relocated from Tewksbury, MA to Danville, VT in about 1786. They were among the 50 or so first families to settle at Danville, VT. James was one of the town officers when the town first organized in 1787.<sup>366</sup> This family were living at Danville, VT when the 1790 census was taken (two James Kittredge's were listed, father and son). Since only one "James Kittredge" (the son) was listed in Danville, VT, on the 1800 census, it appears that James Sr. probably died in Vermont in the 1790's. Widow Mary Kittredge died Dec. 29, 1814 at Danville, VT, age 84.<sup>367</sup>

On Nov. 12, 1773, Ebenezer and Elizabeth sold their land at Andover, MA.<sup>370</sup> The Baptist church at Westmoreland, NH was formed in 1771, and Ebenezer Bailey was ordained as their pastor in 1773, a position he held until 1803.<sup>371</sup> He signed the Association Test in Westmoreland, NH in 1776. JETHRO BAILEY, SR., son of Joseph Bailey, Sr. {J45} and Sarah (Goss) Bailey, was born Jun. 21, 1741 at Tewksbury, MA. His first name was mostly written "Jether" in the earlier records. He was married Oct. 16, 1766 at Tewksbury, MA to HANNAH DAVIS. Jethro and Hannah had at least three children:

- i. Jethro Bailey, Jr., b. MA. He was taken with his family to live at Jaffrey, NH as an infant, then later to Westmoreland, NH. In the 1790's, he was living at Springfield, VT, where he was party to several land transactions with his father (see below). By 1805, he was living at Tully, Onondaga County, NY, in an area that was later (1811) separated from Tully as Spafford, NY.
- ii. Moses Bailey, b. MA. He was taken with his family to live at Jaffrey, NH as an infant, then later to Westmoreland, NH. He became owner of his father's Westmoreland, NH properties in stages in 1792-94. He was living near his brothers at Marcellus, Onondaga County, NY in 1810. He is listed on the 1814 tax list for Athens County, OH, for a property there originally owned by "Jether Bailey". He may be the Moses Bailey who was married Sep. 24, 1815 at Athens County, OH to Hannah Philips.

J159 iii. Aaron Bailey, Sr., b. Mar. 15, 1774 at Jaffrey, NH. He married Mary Winchester.

Jethro was a prominent citizen of Jaffrey, NH in the earliest days of that town. He was a voter when the town was first organized in 1773, and in 1775 he was a member of the town's Committee of Inspection and Safety. According to Jaffrey, NH land records, he sold part of his land to Abraham Bailey in 1776 and in 1777 sold 90 acres to Nathan Colburn. In April 1777 he sold land to John Stone of Leominster, MA and removed to Westmoreland, NH, like his brother Ebenezer.

In 1787, he built a house on London Road at Westmoreland, NH.<sup>373</sup> He was living at Springfield, VT (living alone, no wife) beside two brothers William and Luther when the 1790 census was taken. Springfield is about 25 miles north of Westmoreland. In separate Cheshire County, NH transactions in 1792, 1793 and 1794, he deeded his Westmoreland, NH properties to his son Moses Bailey.<sup>374</sup> One of the transactions was witnessed by Ebenezer Bailey and Aaron Bailey, presumably his brother and son respectively. Son Moses sold the Westmoreland house in 1798 to Jonathan Winchester, father-in-law of Moses' brother Aaron. In the early and mid-1790's Jethro maintained real estate interests in both Westmoreland, NH and Springfield, VT, with numerous transactions at Springfield, VT in 1792, 1793, 1794 and 1796, some identifying him as "of Springfield" and others "of Westmoreland".<sup>375</sup>

After 1796, Jethro moved to live the rest of his years in southeast Ohio. He was on the 1806 tax list for Gallia County, OH.<sup>376</sup> He had acquired land at Gallia County on Dec. 30, 1803.<sup>377</sup> In April 1805, the Court of Common Pleas in Gallia County, OH issued an order for "Jether Bailey" to pay a debt of $1192.52 to Jether Bailey, Jr. of Tully, Onondaga County, NY. On Jan. 9, 1810, his father by then deceased, Jether Bailey, Jr. acknowledged resolution of this debt, having received $1100 from (his brother) Moses Bailey of Marcellus, Onondaga County, NY.<sup>378</sup> Jethro Sr. had also held land in Athens County, OH since according to the 1814 Ohio State tax list, Moses Bailey owned property at Athens County, OH that he had acquired from "Jether Bailey" as original proprietor. Jethro Bailey, Sr. died between 1805 and 1810, probably at Gallia County, OH.

He was married to EXPERIENCE BAILEY, daughter of Nathan Bailey and Elizabeth (Putnam) Bailey of Tewksbury, MA (no relation). Experience was born Mar. 16, 1747 at Tewksbury, MA.<sup>379</sup> This couple had at least ten children, the first born at Tewksbury, MA, next seven at Westmoreland, NH and the youngest two at Springfield, VT:

He was living at Springfield, VT when he acquired land there Feb. 1, 1794 from his uncle Jethro Bailey.<sup>380</sup> Luther Jr. died Nov. 28, 1795 at Springfield, VT, age 21 (unmarried). His estate was opened Dec. 9, 1795 at Windsor County, VT, with Elisha Brown appointed estate administrator. Bailey was born May 13, 1770 at Charlestown, NH,<sup>381</sup> where his grandfather Seth Putnam was an original settler in 1750. Bailey and Anna had at least five children, born at Charlestown, NH and perhaps Springfield, VT. This family were living at Charlestown, NH with three young children when the 1800 census was taken, and they were living right across the river at Springfield, VT when the 1810 census was taken. They were living in the adjacent town to the north, Weathersfield, VT, when the 1820 census was taken. It seems that he and Anna had divorced, since Bailey is said to have married a second time to Jerusha Spencer, daughter of Joseph Spencer and Lucy (Darte) Spencer of Charlestown, NH. Bailey Putnam died Sep. 1827, age 57. Most of the family went west in the 1830's with Anna Putnam living with son Hiram Putnam at Portage, Jackson County, MI, and next door to son Joseph B. Putnam, when the 1840 census was taken. Anna Putnam died Apr. 18, 1850 at Jackson County, MI, age 74.
- iv. Hannah Bailey, b. Apr. 13, 1777. She was married Mar. 8, 1802 at Charlestown, NH to David Putnam, son of Timothy Putnam and Susanna (Badger) Putnam. David was born Jun. 7, 1772 at Charlestown, NH. David and Hannah had at least six children, born at Springfield, VT and/or Charlestown, NH. This family were living at Springfield, VT when the 1810 census was taken, then at Charlestown, NH across the river when the 1820 and 1830 censuses were taken. Later in life, they moved to Malden, MA, where Hannah Putnam died Nov. 1, 1848, age 71. Widower David Putnam was living at Malden, MA with the family of his son when the 1850 census was taken. He was living with two daughters in Charlestown, MA when the 1855 census was taken.
- v. Calvin Bailey, b. Dec. 24, 1778. On Dec. 23, 1803, Calvin, then living at Andover, MA, acquired 24 acres of land at Andover, MA from his uncle William Bailey.<sup>382</sup> He also owned a parcel of land in Vermont. He died unmarried Dec. 10, 1807 at Andover, MA, age 28. His estate was probated Dec. 28, 1807 in Essex County, MA,<sup>383</sup> with his brother Timothy appointed administrator. On Jan. 4, 1808, Calvin's parents sold his Andover land to his brother Timothy.<sup>384</sup>
- vi. Charlotte Bailey, b. Sep. 15, 1780. She was married Oct. 16, 1822 at Brattleboro, VT to Isaac Willard. Charlotte Willard died of dropsy Jul. 28, 1848 at Maiden, MA, age 67 (indicated as "unmarried" at time of death).

John, Jr. was born Sep. 18, 1769 at Salem, NH, and he was married three times previously, with children. Sarah and John were living at Salem, NH when the 1830, 1840 and 1850 censuses were taken. This couple did not have children. John Lowell died Jun. 26, 1854 at Salem, NH, age 84. Widow Sarah Lowell died at Haverhill, MA.

- x. Elizabeth Bailey, b. Dec. 29, 1787. She was married Dec. 31, 1812<sup>386</sup> at Andover, MA to Andrew Clark, son of Thomas Clark and Lydia (Fletcher) Clark of Tewksbury, MA. Andrew was born Jun. 26, 1786 at Tewksbury, MA. Andrew and Elizabeth had three children, born at Pomfret, CT (1814), Woodstock, CT (1816) and Andover, MA (1821). This family were living at Andover, MA when the 1820 census was taken, then at Goshen, CT when the 1830 census was taken. Elizabeth Clark died Nov. 23, 1849, at CT, age 62. She was buried with her husband in Old Nepaug Cemetery at Nepaug, CT. Widower Andrew Clark was living with the family of their son at New Hartford, Litchfield County, CT when the 1850 census was taken. It is said that he was married a second time in about 1853 to Mehitabel (Coleman) Sawdy (1799-1879) of Kalamazoo, MI. He died Jul. 24, 1858 at New Hartford, CT, age 72. Widow Mehitabel Clark died Jun. 6, 1879 at Kalamazoo, MI, age 79.

This family moved from Tewksbury, MA to Westmoreland, NH in about 1773, just like Luther's brother Ebenezer. On Feb. 22, 1787, Luther and Experience Bailey sold their properties at Westmoreland, NH<sup>387</sup> and moved about 25 miles north to Springfield, VT, where they were living beside two of Luther's brothers (Jethro and William) when the 1790 census was taken. By or before 1796,<sup>388</sup> this family had removed to Andover, MA, where they were living when the 1800 and 1810 censuses were taken. On Jan. 4, 1808, Luther and Experience Bailey of Andover conveyed a 24-acre parcel of land at Andover to their son Timothy, land formerly held by their deceased son Calvin.<sup>389</sup> Experience Bailey was buried Sep. 10, 1809 at Andover, MA, age 62. Widower Luther Bailey was married a second time Nov. 24, 1812 at Andover, MA to LYDIA (JENKINS) BLANCHARD WOOD, widow of Josiah Blanchard (1740-1790) and of Obadiah Wood (abt.1734-1810). His estate was probated Aug. 6, 1816, with Sarah's brother William Bailey, Jr as executor.<sup>392</sup> With debts of $2,779.15, his estate was declared insolvent, even though it included a 90-acre farm plus buildings valued at $3000. Widow Sarah Bailey was living at Andover, MA when the 1820, 1830 and 1840 censuses were taken. Sarah recorded a will on Feb. 25, 1840 and a codicil on May 2, 1842, in which she named her son Daniel Page Stevens as executor, and after giving $400 to her daughter Caroline, specified that the residue of her estate be divided four ways among her four children.<sup>393</sup> Her estate was a 90-acre farm valued at $2,700 and personal items at $665.50. MOSES BAILEY, son of Edward Bailey {J47} and Elizabeth (Burbank) Bailey, was born Aug. 16, 1733 at Bradford, MA. When he was about ten years old, his family moved from Bradford, MA to the north parish of Methuen, MA, which shortly thereafter was named "New Salem" or Salem, NH, as a result of the drawing of the Massachusetts/New Hampshire border. Moses was married Jan. 27, 1758 at Boxford, MA to ELIZABETH MERRILL, daughter of Stephen Merrill (1706-1785) and Keziah (Hardy) Merrill (1711-1783).<sup>398</sup> Elizabeth was born Oct. 24, 1736 at Methuen, MA. Moses and Elizabeth had four children born at Salem, NH.<sup>399 400</sup>

- i. Jesse Bailey, b. Oct. 19, 1759. He died Aug. 30, 1761 at Salem, NH, age 1 year, 9 months.
- J164 ii. Israel Bailey, Sr., b. Aug. 11, 1761.<sup>401</sup> He married Miriam (Sawyer) Batchelder.
- iii. Keziah Bailey, b. Mar. 17, 1763. No further information.
- iv. Levi Bailey, b. Sep. 16, 1764. No further information.

In the mid-1760's, Moses' father and several brothers had relocated to Haverhill, NH, and it appears that Moses also settled there for a time in the 1770's. On May 6, 1779, Moses and Elizabeth "Bayley" of Haverhill, NH sold their lot there to Ezekiel Ladd,<sup>402</sup> being house Lot#60 as originally granted to Benjamin Moores. On Jun. 14, 1779, "Moses Bayley of Haverhill" purchased from Benjamin Patterson of Piermont, NH, one original charter right of 300 acres of land at Peacham,

<sup>398</sup> Researchers have been split on which Moses Bailey married Elizabeth Merrill, i.e. Moses (b. 1733), son of Edward and Elizabeth (of this James' line) or Moses (b. 1730), son of John {9} and Susannah (of the Richard line). The conclusion is complicated by the fact these Moses were only three years apart in age, and their parents belonged to the same Salem, NH church, though the two families' homes were on opposite sides of the state border. However, on Dec. 29, 1763, "Edward Bayley of Salem" sold a 50-acre portion of land at Salem, NH to "Jesse Merrill of Boxford", land which shared a boundary with "land I gave my son Moses Bayley". (Rockingham County, NH, Deeds, v.125, p.263) While this deed does not identify Moses Bayley and Jesse Merrill as kinsman, it is known that Elizabeth Merrill had a brother named Jesse, recently married (May 1763), who went on to raise his children at Salem, NH. Where better to settle down than next door to his sister and brother-in-law? For this Moses' wife to be other than Elizabeth "Merrill" would be a huge coincidence.

<sup>399</sup> As a matter of interest, in terms of naming of their children, Elizabeth Merrill's mother was named Keziah.

<sup>400</sup> In his Richard Bailey genealogy, Alfred Poore attributes seven children, including the four listed herein, as belonging to Moses, son of John and Susannah (Richard line). This is one of the sections of his study with the most scarcity of information, and it appears Mr. Poore erroneously grouped children from two different Moses Bailey's. At the exact same time the above (James-line) Moses was living at Peacham, VT and transferring land to "my son Israel", the three youngest children mentioned by Poore were living with their father Moses at Bradford, NH, and Moses Jr. became a prominent man in that town. The Salem, NH original vital records list only the oldest four children, even though those records cover the period during which the younger three were born. We conclude that the seven children identified by Alfred Poore are in fact split 4 and 3 with different Moses Bailey fathers. The DNA evidence (see next footnote) ties the family that includes Israel (and 3 siblings by extension) to the James line.

<sup>401</sup> Two descendants of Israel Bailey, have "Big-Y"-DNA test results showing with high confidence, via comparison to other James-line descendants and by contrast to other Richard-line descendants that he belongs to the James line.

VT, original grantee Henry Merchant.<sup>403</sup> Just a year earlier, his uncle "James Bayley, of Haverhill" had similarly bought in to Peacham, VT.<sup>404</sup> Both men would become prominent at Peacham, VT. An early Peacham Proprietors List shows James Bayley, Esq, as holder of Square 8 in Range 45 and Square 10 in Range 13, and Moses Bayley as holder of Square 5 in Range 54.<sup>405</sup> Peacham was less than 30 miles away from Haverhill, NH and some of the early Peacham Proprietors meetings were actually held at Haverhill, NH. On Sep. 8, 1783, "Moses Bayley of Peacham" conveyed property at Peacham, VT to "Israel Bayley my son", consisting of 67 ½ acres, part of lot #5, carved out from his own land.<sup>406</sup>

Moses Bailey was active in town affairs of Peacham, VT. At the March 1784 town meeting, he was selected as grand juror and surveyor of highways. He was living at Peacham, VT when the 1790 census was taken, but not the 1800 census. Death records for Moses and his wife Elizabeth have not been located.<sup>407</sup>

(MAJ.) ASA BAILEY, SR., son of Edward Bailey {J47} and Elizabeth (Burbank) Bailey, was born May. 13, 1745 at Windham, NH, in a district later (1757) annexed by Salem, NH. He was married Apr. 15, 1767 at Haverhill, NH to ABIGAIL ABBOT, daughter of James Abbot, Jr and Sarah (Bancroft) Abbot. Abigail was born Jan. 22, 1746 at Rumford, NH (renamed Concord, NH in 1765). In Nov. 1763, Abigail had moved with her parents to Newbury, VT. She shortly thereafter became one of the 15 first members of the new church of Christ at Newbury, under Rev. P. Powers. She was a pious and highly respected person.

Asa was credited with service as a private during the Revolutionary War and appears in New Hampshire Provincial Records as Second Major of the Landaff town militia. In their first years of marriage, Asa and Abigail lived at Haverhill, NH. In a Mar. 28, 1769 transaction, "Asa Bayley of Haverhill" transferred land in the upper meadow of Haverhill, NH to "my honored father Edward Bayley of Haverhill" for $373.<sup>408</sup> This family moved from Haverhill to Bath, NH in or soon after 1772. That is the year Asa acquired land originally granted to John Sawyer when the original Bath grantees were established on Mar. 29, 1769.<sup>409</sup> On Apr. 9, 1774, "Asa Bayley of Bath" sold some of this land for 200 pounds to "my honored father Edward Bayley of Bath"<sup>410</sup> and soon afterwards, several of Asa's siblings also settled at Bath, NH. By or before 1783 Asa moved his family from Bath, NH to the neighboring town to the north, being Landaff, NH, where they had a prosperous farm of 200 acres.<sup>411</sup> This family were living at Landaff, NH when the 1790 census was taken. Asa and Abigail had 17 children, born at Haverhill, NH, Bath, NH and Landaff, NH:

- ii. Ruth Bailey, b. Aug. 31, 1769. She was married Apr. 7, 1785 at Bath, NH to Ebenezer Bacon, son of John Bacon and Rhoda (Gould) Bacon. Ebenezer was born Aug 4, 1754 (per gravestone) or Aug. 4, 1755 (per birth record) at Middletown, CT. Ebenezer and Ruth had at least eight children, born at Bath, NH. This family were living at Bath, NH when the 1790, 1800 and 1810 censuses were taken. Ebenezer Bacon recorded a will Mar. 26, 1813 in which he named his wife Ruth and 7 children and named his sons Mark and John as executors.<sup>412</sup> He still owned land at CT as well as at Bath, NH. He died Feb. 11, 1818 at NH, age 63. His will was probated Feb. 24, 1819. Guardianship was assigned for three children under 21. Widow Ruth Bacon died Aug. 1, 1818 at Bath, NH, age 48. Ebenezer and Ruth Bacon were buried in Bath Village Cemetery, at Bath, NH.
- iii. Samuel Bailey, b. Jan. 13, 1771. He was working as a farm hand at Peacham, VT (1791) and Hartford, VT (1792). On Jul. 18, 1797, "Samuel Bailey of Bath" purchased land at Coventry, NH, witnessed by his brother Asa and brother-in-law Stephen Bartlett.<sup>413</sup> His later life is unknown.
- iv. Phebe Bailey, b. Apr. 20, 1772. As a teenager, she was the object of her father's abuse, though she would not agree to testify against him. It is said that she moved to live with the Shaker community at Enfield, NH, perhaps under an assumed name Phebe Huntington. This religious group was committed to celibacy and gender egalitarianism.

- J165 vi. Asa Bailey, Jr. b. Oct. 16, 1775. He married Rebecca Webber.
- vii. Anna Bailey, b. Aug. 12, 1777. She was married Sep. 21, 1799 at Bradford, VT to Levi Phillips, son of Abial Phillips and Rebecca (Boughton) Phillips. Levi was born Dec. 29, 1777 at Danbury, CT. It appears they lived at Danbury, CT, where Levi was recorded on land transactions with his parents in 1800 and 1801. It is said they had children, though Levi Phillips died before Jan. 1805, at which time his estate was probated.<sup>414</sup>
- J166 viii. Caleb Bailey, b. Aug. 12, 1777. He married Deborah Fitch.
- ix. Sally Abbott Bailey, b. Aug. 21, 1779. She was married Nov. 19, 1807 at Williamston, VT to Rev. Oliver Beale, son of Japhet Beale and Patience (Keith) Beale. Oliver was born Oct. 13, 1777 at Bridgewater, MA. Oliver and Sally had two sons and three daughters. Oliver had received a license to preach in 1801. In 1806, he was appointed presiding elder in the Portland and Kennebec districts (ME), where his children were born and raised. Oliver had significant health problems in the 1830's and had to retire. In 1836, he journeyed to Baltimore, MD, for the benefit of his health, but he died Dec. 30, 1836 at Baltimore, MD, age 59. He was buried in Mount Olivet Cemetery at Baltimore, MD. Widow Sally Beale was living with the families of two of her children at Bangor, ME when the 1850 census was taken. She died Feb. 22, 1852 at Bangor, ME, age 72. She was buried (no gravestone) in Mount Hope Cemetery at Bangor, ME.
- J167 x. Jabez Bailey, b. Jan. 21, 1781. He married Martha H. Hunt.
- xi. Chloe Bailey, b. Aug. 18, 1782. She was married about 1810 to Orrin Ford, who was born about 1787 at NH. Orrin and Chloe had at least six children. This family were living at Westfield, NY when the 1830 census was taken. Chloe Ford died in 1834 at Westfield, NY. Widower Orrin Ford was re-married before 1850 to Rachel (Hill) Young, daughter of John Hill and Rachel (Rice) Hill. Rachel was born about 1792 at VT. She had been married previously to Abijah Young (1796-c1838). Orrin and Rachel were living at Palatine, IL, with children from each of their prior marriages, when the 1850 census was taken. Rachel was living without Orrin but with the family of her son Arthur at Prescott, WI, when the 1860 census was taken. She died Aug. 24, 1864 and was buried in Pine Glen Cemetery at Prescott, WI. There were a couple, Stephen and Olivia Etheridge living at Washington, Erie County, PA (with a 22-yr old daughter Charlotte, born in PA) when the 1850 census was taken. The age and birth state (NH) of this Olivia matches that of Olive Bailey, but so far, no other source has been identified linking Olive and Olivia. This Stephen was living next door to brothers Daniel, Thomas and Samuel, all children of Nathaniel Etheridge and Susannah (Briant) Etheridge of Sandwich, NH then Holderness (Grafton County), NH.
- J169 xiv. Phineas Bailey, b. Nov. 6, 1787. He first married Janette McArthur, secondly Betsey Fiske and thirdly Hannah E. Edwards.
- xv. Judith Bailey, b. Sep. 15, 1789. She was married Oct. 14, 1824 at Bath, NH to David Pelton, son of Joseph Pelton and Prudence (Pelton) Pelton. David was born Dec. 23, 1792 at Lyme, NH.<sup>415</sup> He was a carpenter. He had been married twice before, with two children by his second marriage and four children with Judith. David and Judith lived at Vermont early in their marriage and then by the early 1830’s back to NH. They were living at Lyme, NH when the 1840 census was taken, then at Nashville, NH when the 1850 census was taken. They were living with the family of their son at Hanover, NH when the 1860 census was taken. Judith Pelton died in 1865. Widower David Pelton was living with the family of one of their sons at Lyme, NH when the 1870 census was taken.<sup>416</sup> He died Oct. 31, 1870, at Lyme, NH, age 77. David and Judith Pelton were buried in Old Lyme Cemetery at Lyme, NH.
- xvi. Simon Bailey, b. Sep. 15, 1789. He died Oct. 2, 1789 age 17 days.
- xvii. Patience Bailey, b. May 25, 1791. She never married. She was living at Landaff, NH, under the care of a poor farm, identified as a pauper, when the 1850 census was taken. She was living at Bangor, ME with the family of her niece Lucinda (Beale) Withers (daughter of her sister Sally) when the 1870 census was taken. Patience Bailey died Apr. 1, 1874, age 82. She was buried in Mount Hope Cemetery at Bangor, ME.

Soon after they were married, Abigail discovered her husband to be an unreasonable man of rash temper, repeated infidelity, with servant girls and even their own daughters, and she and the children endured from him cruel treatment. The family’s ordeals were captured by Abigail Bailey in memoirs which were published soon after her death.<sup>417</sup> Abigail repeatedly gave Asa second chances. By 1790 she had had enough and in Sep. 1790, she insisted Asa leave the household. Although he did leave, he returned home to Landaff, NH at least twice seeking reconciliation, but Abigail insisted on seeing actions not empty promises. On Jan. 24, 1792 they formalized the exchange of farms with Reuben Foster, having already moved the family from Landaff, NH to Bradford, VT.<sup>418</sup> In early 1792, Asa tricked Abigail into accompanying him to New York state, where their 17-year-old son Asa, Jr. was working. A man was secretly hired by Asa, Sr. to bring their young children to NY from Bradford, VT, but with the help of Abigail’s family at Newbury, VT, this attempt was foiled. Abigail finally involved the authorities and Asa was arrested. An agreement was made between them to sell the Bradford, VT homestead and split the proceeds, as part of a divorce agreement (1792-3).<sup>419</sup>

After the divorce, Abigail rented a house at Haverhill, NH, where she lived for four years with her four youngest children. After that, she placed her youngest children with other families and moved to Piermont, NH to live with Deacon Andrew Crook. Her final eight years were spent living in various locations with the families of some of her children. After the divorce, Asa Bailey moved for a time to Whitestown, NY, and may have re-married. Little is known of his final years.

trigger for their migration to Woodbury, VT. Their daughter Mary L. Bailey was a witness on early transactions in Nov. 1818 by which Aaron purchased and sold property at Woodbury, VT.<sup>424</sup>

Aaron Bailey executed a will on Nov. 6, 1821, in which he named beneficiaries in the following order: wife Elizabeth, “oldest son Edward”, “youngest son John”, “oldest daughter Hepsibath”, other married daughters Lucy and Betsey, son Aaron and “singlewoman” daughter Mary. Aaron died at Woodbury, VT prior to Jun. 24, 1824, on which date the probate court approved his will.<sup>425</sup> His estate was found to be insolvent and executor Aaron Bailey, Jr. was authorized to sell real estate to raise funds for debts. Aaron was survived by his wife Elizabeth, given that on Aug. 25, 1825, she officially relinquished her dowery rights.

CYRUS BAILEY, son of Edward Bailey {J47} and Elizabeth (Burbank) Bailey, was born Nov. 22, 1748 at Windham, NH, in a district later (1757) annexed by Salem, NH. While still a teenager, he moved with his family to Haverhill, NH, then a few years later by 1774 to Bath, NH. On Aug. 25, 1774, Cyrus’ father Edward sold him a portion of his land at Bath, NH.<sup>426</sup> In 1775-6, Cyrus served in the Revolutionary War, in Capt. Daniel Young’s Company of Col. Timothy Bedel’s Regiment.

Cyrus was married by 1775 to ABIGAIL (WEEKS) BEDELL. Abigail was born Jul. 11, 1747. She was a widow from a first marriage. Cyrus and Abigail had one child, born at Bath, NH:

J172 i. William Bailey, b. Oct. 28, 1775. He married Sukey Williams.

On Feb. 15, 1786, Cyrus and Abigail sold their land at Bath, NH to his uncle Aaron Bailey.<sup>427</sup> The family then moved to Peacham, VT where they were living when the 1790, 1800, 1810 and 1820 censuses were taken. In 1809 and again in 1816, their son William leased the home farm at Peacham, VT for the use of Cyrus and Abigail, except for a portion of the lot on which William’s family were living.<sup>428</sup> On Mar. 22, 1821, Cyrus & William sold the homestead at Peacham, conditional on an annual payment from the buyer of $75 per year as long Cyrus and Abigail were alive.<sup>429</sup> Cyrus Bailey died May 29, 1822, at Littleton, NH, age 73. Widow Abigail Bailey died Mar. 10, 1832, age 84.<sup>430</sup>

DANIEL BAILEY, SR., son of Edward Bailey {J47} and Elizabeth (Burbank) Bailey, was born Aug. 30, 1750 at Windham, NH, in a district later (1757) annexed by Salem, NH. He was married Apr. 15, 1773 at Haverhill, NH to his first cousin EDNAH BAILEY, daughter of James Bailey {J52} and Rachel (Berry) Bailey. Ednah was born Jan. 1752/53 at Newburyport, MA.<sup>431</sup> The marriage took place at Haverhill, NH, where both their families were living, Daniel's family having been in Haverhill for close to ten years and Ednah's family more recently. Daniel and Ednah moved to settle at Bath, NH in the early years of their marriage. Daniel was already "of Bath" when his father deeded him property there on Feb. 24, 1785.<sup>432</sup> He and Ednah had eleven children, most or perhaps all born at Bath, NH:

- i. Hannah Bailey, b. Dec. 22, 1774. She was married Jul. 20, 1811 at Bath, NH to Samuel Aiken.
- ii. Elizabeth Bailey, b. Apr. 12, 1776.
- iii. Mehitable Bailey, b. Nov. 10, 1777. She died Feb. 17, 1780 at Bath, NH, age 27 months.
- iv. Dorcas Bailey, b. Dec. 17, 1779. She died Dec. 18, 1783 at Bath, NH, age 4.
- J173 v. Cyrus Bailey, b. Apr. 19, 1781. He married his second cousin Anna McFarland.
- J174 vi. Daniel Bailey, Jr., b. Feb. 3, 1783. He married Nancy Cleveland.
- vii. Isaac Bailey, b. Aug. 8, 1784. He is probably the "Isaac Bailey of Wolcott, VT" who on Feb. 21, 1809 obtained a mortgage on property he still owned at Peacham, VT.<sup>433</sup>
- J175 viii. Enoch Bailey, b. Feb. 23, 1786. He married Mary B. Aiken.
- ix. Abigail Bailey, b. Dec. 14, 1787. She was married Mar. 3, 1815 at Bath, NH to Joseph Main.
- x. Mary Bailey, b. Sep. 15, 1789.
- xi. Rosanna Bailey, b. May 1791. She died unmarried Sep. 21, 1854 at Lowell, MA, age 63.

This family were living at Bath, NH when the 1790, 1800 and 1810 censuses were taken. Though the 1820 census has been lost, it is known from Bath land records in 1821 that both Daniel and Ednah continued to live at Bath at that time.<sup>434</sup> It is probable that both Daniel and Ednah died in the 1820's. On Mar. 3, 1826, their son Daniel, Jr. sold the land at Bath on which he was then living, excluding a piece of land "subject to the life lease of my mother Ednah Bailey".<sup>435</sup> On this 1826 deed, Daniel dropped the "Jr." that he was still using in Mar. 1825. On Feb. 8, 1827, Daniel, Jr. sold his property at Bath, NH which included "the house formerly occupied by my father Daniel Bailey".<sup>436</sup>

Abigail was baptized Jul. 14, 1744 at Ipswich, MA. John was born Mar. 20, 1782 at Shaftsbury, VT. John and Martha had eight children, most or all born in Greensboro, VT (directly adjacent to her hometown of Hardwick, VT). This family were living at Greensboro, VT when the 1820 census was taken. John Huntington died Oct. 8, 1840, age 58. Widow Martha Huntington died Sep. 15, 1850 at Perry, New York, age 70.
- viii. Abigail Bailey, b. Mar. 2, 1782. She was married Jul. 28, 1802 at Hardwick, VT to John Cobb. John and Abigail had three daughters, judging from the 1810 census. She continued to live at Hardwick, VT in 1824.<sup>446</sup> Abigail Cobb died Sep. 19, 1855, at Hardwick, VT, age 73. She was buried in Hazen Road Cemetery at Hardwick, VT.

- J180 x. Calvin Porter Bailey, Sr., b. Jun. 11 (or Jan. 12), 1792. He married Sybil Hatch.

Charles Bailey was a potter, farmer and tanner. All his sons were farmers, except Kiah who was a Congregational minister. Charles served as a private in the Revolutionary War, in Capt. William Tarleton's company, Col. Timothy Bedel's (NH) regiment. This family settled first at Brookfield, MA, then moved about 1775 to the Haverhill, NH wilderness, then about 1783 across the river to Newbury, Orange County, VT. This family were living at Newbury, VT when the 1790 census was taken. Land transactions in Grafton County, NH confirm Charles' Haverhill, NH residency there was continuing in 1782 and 1783, but that he also continued to transact real estate at Haverhill, NH even after he was living at Newbury, VT (1789) and later at Hardwick, VT (1808).<sup>447</sup> No later than 1799,<sup>448</sup> this family removed from Newbury, VT to Hardwick, VT, where they were living when the 1800, 1810 and 1820 censuses were taken. On Nov. 11, 1822, Charles leased out his entire farm and tannery business at Hardwick, VT, a farm that spanned both sides of the boundary between Hardwick and Greensboro, VT.<sup>449</sup>

(REV.) JAMES BAILEY III, son of James Bailey, Jr. {J52} and Rachel (Berry) Bailey, was born Oct. 24, 1750 at Newburyport, MA. He moved with his family to Haverhill, NH when about ten years old. He was married May 12, 1772 at Haverhill, NH to his first cousin POLLY BAILEY, daughter of Edward Bailey {J47} and Elizabeth (Burbank) Bailey. Polly was born Jan. 8, 1753 at Windham, NH, in the district that was soon (1757) absorbed by neighboring Salem, NH. James and Polly had at least four children, the oldest born at Haverhill, NH and the younger at Peacham, VT:

- J181 i. Rutherford Bailey, b. Dec. 1, 1773. He married Phebe Batchelder.
- J182 ii. Flavel Bailey, b. Jan. 1776. He married Mary Chamberlain.
- iii. Calvin Bailey. A land record of Jun. 10, 1822 (see reference below) clearly identifies Calvin as a sibling of Mindwell and Rutherford. There are a wealth of land records, between James, Rutherford, Calvin, Mindwell and Flavel.<sup>452</sup> Calvin is accounted for (male 26-44) on the 1810 (Peacham) census for James and similarly for the 1820 census. Though it is clear that Calvin lived at Peacham, he himself was not recorded there on any census.
- iv. Mindwell Bailey. A land record of Jun. 10, 1822 clearly identifies Mindwell as sister of Calvin and Rutherford.<sup>453</sup> This transaction transfers land from "Calvin Bailey of Peacham" to "my sister Mindwell Bailey". Mindwell Bailey joined the Peacham church in 1813.

James Bailey III was a soldier during the Revolutionary War in 1778-9 in Capt. Simeon Stevens' company under Col. Timothy Bedel's Regiment, a company charged with the defense of frontiers adjacent to the Connecticut River and guarding the stores at Haverhill, NH. This family resettled in the early 1780s at Peacham, VT, where they were still living when the 1810 and 1820 censuses were taken. Notable land transactions in Peacham included May 2, 1808, when "Rev. James Bailey" and Mary "of Peacham" sold a half lot of 50 acres to Erastus Washburn.<sup>454</sup> Then on Dec. 28, 1810, James sold land to Calvin Bailey<sup>455</sup> and on Oct. 11, 1815 to Rutherford Bailey.<sup>456</sup>

Rev. James Bailey and his father (and their wives) were among the 12 founding members of the Peacham, VT Congregational Church, upon its inception on 12 Apr. 1794. James went on to be ordained in 1798 and almost immediately formed the first church in the new and nearby town of Groton, VT, for which he became the minister. It was a Baptist church of the Calvinist order, and he served there out of his home at Peacham, as an early missionary. He maintained this position until 1824 when he was transferred to the Baptist church at Sheffield, VT. It was there at Sheffield, VT where (Rev.) James Bailey III died Mar. 4, 1828, age 77. Widow Polly Bailey died Jan. 30, 1844 at Glover, VT, age 91, the oldest and last surviving original member of the Peacham church.

<sup>450</sup> Most sources quote a death date of Feb. 15, 1828, but the gravestone engraving appears 1823, and the engraved age at death of 79 correlates with the latter.

ABIJAH BAILEY, son of James Bailey, Jr. {J52} and Rachel (Berry) Bailey, was born Sep. 3, 1758 at Newburyport, MA.<sup>457</sup> When he was eleven years old (1769), he was moved from Windham, ME (then under jurisdiction of MA), where the family had been living since he was a toddler, to Haverhill, NH. Before marriage, Abijah served for a short time in 1776 in the Revolutionary War according to his sworn declaration of 1832.<sup>458</sup>

In 1780, the family moved on to Peacham, VT, and Abijah was married that year to MARY (BUTTERFIELD) SAWYER, widow of Joseph Sawyer (1745-1777) with one child, Anna Sawyer. Mary was born Jan. 1, 1757 at Dunstable, MA. Abijah and Mary had twelve children, mostly born at Peacham, VT, though they had to relocate to Haverhill, NH for periods during the war:<sup>459</sup>

- J183 i. Philander Bailey, b. Jul. 17, 1780. He married Anna Miner.
- J184 ii. Luther Berry Bailey, Sr., b. Jul. 26, 1782. He married Betsey Abercrombie.
- J185 iii. Samuel Bailey, b. May 31, 1784. He married Lydia Pearsons.
- iv. Mary Bailey, b. Jul. 1, 1786. She was married Jun. 23, 1803 at Peacham, VT to Reuben Ainsworth, son of Moses Ainsworth and Margaret (Knowland) Ainsworth. Reuben was born about 1779 at Brookfield, MA. Reuben and Mary settled at Canada East, at "Little York" in Missisquoi County, but were expelled when the War of 1812 broke out, for refusing to fight against the USA. They lost their home and most of their property. It was at this time that they moved to Hopkinton in New York state.<sup>460</sup> Reuben and Mary had about eight children, born at Lower Canada, VT and at NY.<sup>461</sup> Reuben Ainsworth died in about 1848. Widow Mary Ainsworth was living with one of her sons at Hopkinton, NY when the 1850 census was taken.
- J186 v. James Bailey, b. Jul. 7, 1788. He first married Mary Abercrombie, secondly, Betsey Brock and thirdly, Rachel Burbank.
- vi. Hannah Bailey, b. Jun. 18, 1790. She was married about 1811 to Nathaniel Hammond, who was born Jul. 15, 1785. Nathaniel and Hannah had as many as eight children, born at Lower Canada and VT.<sup>462</sup> This family were living at Potton, Lower Canada when the 1825 census was taken. Hannah Hammond died Aug. 2, 1834, age 44. Widower Nathaniel Hammond was living at Potton, Canada East, when the 1842 census was taken. He died Nov. 30, 1849, age 64.<sup>463</sup> Nathaniel and Hannah were buried in North Troy Cemetery at North Troy, VT.
- J187 vii. Solomon Bailey, Sr. (twin), b. Dec. 19, 1792. He first married Mrs. Clarissa (Hardy) Bailey and secondly, Mrs. Sarah (Hardy) Henry.
- J188 viii. Heaton Bailey (twin), b. Dec. 19, 1792. He married Clarissa Hardy.

<sup>457</sup> Although the family lived at this time at Newburyport, confirmed by Abijah in his own words under oath for his 1832 pension testimonial, the birth was registered at Newbury, MA.

<sup>458</sup> Sep. 25, 1832 - under oath at North Troy, VT, Abijah Bailey, age 74 and resident of Potton in the Province of Lower Canada, testified 1) "that about the first of May, 1776 I volunteered and assisted one week under Capt. Ezekiel Ladd in cutting a road from Peacham Vermont to Johnson on the River Lamoille"; 2) "that immediately after my week's service, I enlisted and served for three months in cutting the road (commonly called Hazen Road) through the towns of Ryegate, Barnet, Peacham and Cabot, and assisting in building a fort around the house of Col. Thomas Johnson in Newbury in Vermont and also around the house of James Bailey (my own father) of Haverhill in the State of New Hampshire"

Jabez and Achsah were living at Auburn, Geauga County, Ohio when the 1850 and 1860 censuses were taken. Jabez Boomer died Oct. 11, 1868 at Auburn, OH, age about 83. Widow Achsah Boomer was living at Hambden, OH with the family of Joseph Bailey (perhaps her nephew, son of Solomon) when the 1870 census was taken. She died Oct. 4, 1872 at Hambden, OH, age 75. Jesse Hardy died May 13, 1835 at North Troy, VT, age 34. Widow Betsey Hardy had a son in 1836 by Daniel Floyd, though it is unclear if they were married. "Betsey Hardy" was listed as head of household at Potton, Lower Canada, when the 1842 census was taken. Her father had just passed away and Betsey inherited the family farm, which became known even into the 1900's as the "Hardy Farm". This farm was located on the 1 mile stretch of road leading from South Potton village (now "Highwater") to the international border with North Troy, VT. Their immediate neighbors were the Elkins and Skinner families, explaining the many intermarriages of these families. Betsey Hardy died May 23, 1843 at Potton, Canada East, age 39. Her son Abijah Hardy took over the farm. Jesse and Betsey Hardy were buried in North Troy Cemetery at North Troy, VT. This cemetery lies less than two miles from their Potton farm.

This family were living at Peacham, VT when the 1790 and 1800 censuses were taken. In 1794, Abijah became a founding member of the Peacham Congregational Church, like his brother

Albert Morse was married a second time in 1868 to Lydia Ann Barnett; 4) Caroline Hardy, b. Oct. 24, 1825 at Troy, VT. She was married Jun. 4, 1848 to Thomas Wallace Elkins (1825-1909), son of Moses Elkins, Jr. and Eliza (Miltimore) Elkins. Thomas and Caroline had ten children, born at Potton, Canada East, where this family were living when the 1861 and 1871 censuses were taken. In 1880, they were living at nearby Troy, VT. Caroline Elkins died May 22, 1904 at Troy, VT, age 78. Widower Thomas Elkins died Dec. 2, 1909, at Troy, VT, age 84. BENJAMIN BAILEY, son of James Bailey, Jr. {J52} and Rachel (Berry) Bailey, was born May 25, 1760 at Newburyport, MA. When he was nine years old (1769), he was moved from Windham, ME (then under jurisdiction of MA), where the family had been living since he was a toddler, to Haverhill, NH. While residing at Haverhill, NH, he enlisted for the Revolutionary War, firstly on Aug. 1, 1776 for six weeks in Capt. Ring’s company of Col. Howard’s regiment; then on Dec. 1, 1778 for three months under the same Capt. And Col. After moving to Peacham, VT in 1779, he served for three months under Capt. Benjamin Stone then one month as Sgt. under Capt. Ezekiel Ladd. On May 1, 1781, he enlisted in Capt. Nehemiah Lovewell’s Company, Col. Benjamin Wait’s Regiment, VT troops, where he guarded prisoners for two months and was Drum Major for 6 months through Jan. 1782. Finally, between Jan. and Aug. 1782 he served as a scout or ranger under Gen. Jacob Bayley (no relation), until he and his brother Luther were taken prisoner from their father’s house at Peacham and transported to jail at Chambly, Lower Canada until being released in Nov. 1782. On his return home he reported for additional duty to Gen. Bayley, but peace was declared before further service could accrue.

Conflicting sources state that Benjamin was married to POLLY MCCAUBER but also to MARY SMITH. He was probably married twice.<sup>471</sup> Benjamin had at least eleven children, the first five being recorded in the town records of Peacham, VT<sup>472</sup> and the rest presumably born at Groton, VT, except possibly for the last one at NY:

- i. Elizabeth “Betty” Bailey, b. Mar. 30, 1784. She was married Apr. 29, 1802 at Groton, VT to John Way, Jr., son of John Way, Sr. and Nelly (Wesson) Way.<sup>473</sup> John and Elizabeth had more than ten children, most or all born at Barnet, VT. This family were living at Barnet, VT when the 1810 and

Thomas and Jenny had ten children, born at Peacham, VT. This family were living at Peacham, VT when the 1820 and 1830 censuses were taken, but there was no mother on the latter census as Jane Watts had died May 21, 1830 at Peacham, VT, age 38. This family were living at Peacham, VT when the 1840 and 1850 censuses were taken.<sup>475</sup> They moved to Macon Township, Bureau County, IL where they were living when the 1860 census was taken. This family were living at Peacham, VT when the 1790 census was taken. Then by 1798, they had moved to nearby Groton, VT, where they were living when the 1800 and 1810 censuses were taken. Benjamin was very active in Groton, VT town affairs, acting at various times in the early 1800's as Tax Collector, Constable, Grand Juror and other positions.<sup>477</sup> He moved to Essex County, NY in the mid 1810's, having on Jun. 9, 1810 sold half his property at Groton, VT.<sup>478</sup> 1813 was the last time he remained on the Groton residents list. He was living at Jay, Essex County, NY beside son Smith Bailey when the 1820 census was taken. Benjamin Bailey was listed in the tax records for Wilmington, NY for the years 1821 and each year from 1824 through 1829.<sup>479</sup> Benjamin and Mary were almost certainly the elderly couple living with the family of their son John A. Bailey at Wilmington, NY when the 1830 census was taken. On Sep. 26, 1832, while a resident of Wilmington, Essex County, NY, Benjamin Bailey was granted a pension for his war service. In 1834, he returned to live at Peacham, VT, as many of his children had moved west. On Jun. 2, 1837, Benjamin "of Peacham" sold his property at Wilmington, NY.<sup>480</sup>

Mary Bailey died Dec. 24, 1834, at Peacham, VT, age 74. Widower Benjamin Bailey died Dec. 10, 1843 at Peacham, VT, age 83. Their place of burial is unknown.

(CAPT.) LUTHER BAILEY, son of James Bailey, Jr. {J52} and Rachel (Berry) Bailey, was born Apr. 11, 1762 at Cumberland County, ME (then under Massachusetts jurisdiction), where the family had recently moved from Newburyport, MA. When he was about 7 years old, the family moved to Haverhill, NH. Then they relocated about 1779 to Peacham, VT. In May 1781, Luther and his brother Benjamin joined the Company of Capt. Nehemiah Lovewell, which had come to Peacham to protect the frontier. He enlisted as a substitute for John Sawyer who was too old for duty. Luther served until Dec. 1781 and was discharged at Newbury, VT. After completion of his service, Luther continued to live at Peacham, VT with his father James, where a picket fence had been built around their house for protection against Indians, British and Tories. On Aug. 15, 1782, Luther and his brother Benjamin were captured by the British at their father's house and transported to Chambly, Lower Canada where they were imprisoned for three months.

Jonathan was a pioneer in Louisa County, IA, settling there in 1840. He was one of the original members of the Congregational Church at Columbus City when it was organized in 1846. He was a Justice of the Peace for many years. Jonathan was living with his foster-sister and his daughter Jane at Columbus City, Louisa County, IA when the 1850 census was taken. This family were living at Peacham, VT when the 1790, 1800, 1810, 1820 and 1830 censuses were taken. Luther was captain of the militia of that town for many years. In Mar. 1811, their household was ravaged with spotted fever, with 5 deaths within days.<sup>484</sup> On Sep. 11, 1832, still a resident of Peacham, VT, Luther applied for a military pension, which was granted. WILLIAM BAILEY, JR., son of William Bailey, Sr. {J54} and Abigail Kilbourne) Bailey, was born Feb. 7, 1758 at Rowley, MA. He was a resident “of Rowley” when he was married Feb. 11, 1797 at Newburyport, MA<sup>487</sup> to SUSANNA NOYES, likely daughter of Parker Noyes (1704-1787) and Sarah (Mighill) Noyes (1712-1768). Susanna was born Jul. 25, 1755 at Newbury, MA.<sup>488</sup> William and Susanna probably had no children. William was a “trader”.

William Bailey died Dec. 12, 1803 at Newburyport, MA, age 45. He was buried in Old Hill Burying Ground at Newburyport, MA. He has a period gravestone. His estate was brought to probate Jan. 3, 1804<sup>489</sup> on which date widow Susanna Bailey was approved as administratrix of the estate with Paul Noyes, stone cutter,<sup>490</sup> and Enoch Noyes, painter,<sup>491</sup> both of Newburyport, MA as co-bondsmen. Susanna Bailey presented the court with a listing of debts Mar. 7, 1804 and a final account presented the court and signed by widow Susanna Bailey on Dec. 7, 1804 which indicated the estate was insolvent with debts totaling $4,134.41 and only $907.09 remaining. A listing of 45 creditors were paid a proportion of just over 63 cents on the dollar. She was not found in records after Dec. 7, 1804.

<sup>488</sup> Parker Noyes executed a will Jun. 28, 1782 in which he mentioned no wife, but sons Silas and Paul, married daughters Sarah, Betty and Hannah, and unmarried daughters Molly and Susannah. Although many on Ancestry.com claim that Parker’s daughter Susannah was married Jan. 4, 1784 at Newbury, MA to Jacob Moody (1746-1794), this is probably incorrect. Susanna H. (Noyes) Moody died Nov. 23, 1803, age 45 years (gravestone), which would make her birth in 1758. That birth year does not fit well with the birth of Parker and Sarah’s daughter, Susanna, who was born Jul. 25, 1755 at Newbury, MA (vital record). Two other facts suggest that Susanna (Noyes) Bailey was the daughter of Parker and Sarah (Mighill) Noyes: (1) Her husband, William Bailey, is buried next to Silas Noyes (1745-1790), elder brother of Susannah (Noyes) Bailey, in the Old Hill Burying Ground at Newburyport. Both have gravestones. (2) Sureties or co-bondsmen for an estate administration are often close relatives, very often a brother, of a widow who becomes administratrix. In the case of William Bailey’s estate, the co-bondsmen were Susanna’s brother, Paul Noyes, and Paul’s son, Enoch Noyes. Another possible connection is that at $300, the largest creditor to the William Bailey estate was one Mary Noyes, likely Susanna’s elder maiden sister “Molly” Noyes (1749-1835).

He was married Apr. 13, 1817 at Merrimack, NH to Eunice Odell, daughter of John Odell and Edith (Nourse) Odell. Eunice was born Dec. 21, 1787 at Amherst, NH. Benjamin and Eunice were living at Dunbarton, NH when the 1850 census was taken and at Bow, NH when the 1860 census was taken. Benjamin Bailey died without issue Jan. 29, 1870, at Bow, NH, age 78. In 1878, widow Eunice Bailey applied for and received a widow's pension. She was residing at Waltham, MA at that time. She died Jul. 22, 1879 and was buried in West Street Cemetery at Milford, NH.

Phineas moved the family to Dunbarton, NH soon after 1770. He appeared as early as 1772 and 1773 in the Dunbarton town records, when he was appointed surveyor of highways.<sup>496</sup> He was recorded in various Dunbarton, NH land transactions, for example in April 1775 when he purchased part of Lot 8 from John Austin. He bought more land at Dunbarton in 1776-78 from David Foster, James Rogers and from James Putney. This family were living at Dunbarton, NH when the 1790 and 1800 censuses were taken. Susanna Bailey died about 1792 at Dunbarton, NH. Phineas was married a second time Jul. 6, 1794 to MARTHA (-----) GREEN, with whom he had a daughter:

- x. Elizabeth Bailey, b. Mar. 12, 1795. She was married Oct. 17, 1820 to Simeon Chase, son of Ebenezer Chase and Agnes Nancy (Parker) Chase. Simeon was born Oct. 18, 1798 at Dunbarton, NH. Simeon and Elizabeth had at least two daughters, born at NH. Elizabeth Chase died May 10, 1840, age 45, and was buried in Maple Grove Cemetery at Chicopee, MA. Simeon Chase died Jun. 20, 1851 at San Francisco, CA, age 53. He was buried in Yerba Buena Cemetery at San Francisco, CA, then later relocated.

On Mar. 26, 1803, Phineas and Martha sold their home farm to sons Oliver and Phineas, Jr.,<sup>497</sup> though they were continuing to live there in 1804 and likely beyond. Capt. Phineas Bailey died

<sup>494</sup> Phineas Bailey's property in Dunbarton, NH shared a boundary with that of Oliver Sanders, and given Phineas' oldest son was called Oliver, it seems reasonable to assume that Susanna Sanders may have been a daughter, brother or niece of Oliver Sanders.

DUDLEY BAILEY, son of John Bailey {J56} and Mary (Rideout) Bailey, was born Dec. 26, 1743 at Lancaster, MA.<sup>499</sup> He was married Oct. 26, 1772 at Westminster, MA to RUHAMAH DUNSTER, daughter of David Dunster and Mary (Russell) Dunster, and great-granddaughter of (Rev.) Henry Dunster, the first president of Harvard. Ruhamah was born about 1741. Dudley was a Revolutionary War soldier. Dudley and Ruhamah had five children:

- i. Polly Bailey, oldest child. She was married Oct. 29, 1794 to Joel French, son of Nathaniel French and Elizabeth (Frost) French. Joel was born Jul. 27, 1758 at Lancaster, MA. Joel and Polly had children. This family were living at Dummerston, VT when the 1810 and 1820 censuses were taken.
- ii. Levi Bailey, born about 1776. He was insane and supported by his brother David, with whom he was living at Dummerston, VT when the 1850 census was taken. He died unmarried Mar. 13, 1851, age 75.

- J200
- iii. David Bailey, born Sep. 9, 1780. He married Lydia Allen.
  - iv. Henry Bailey. He removed to NY.
  - v. Ephraim Bailey. He most likely died young.

This family removed about 1786 from Westminster, MA to Brattleboro, VT,<sup>500</sup> where they were living when the 1790 census was taken. In 1798, they moved to Dummerston, VT, buying a farm there from Jonathan Barrus.<sup>501</sup> It was located near the west river, where Dudley's grandson Silas Bailey was living in the 1880's. This family were living at Dummerston, VT when the 1800 census was taken.

Dudley Bailey died Mar. 8, 1813, age 69. Widow Ruhamah Bailey died Mar. 8, 1836 at Dummerston, VT. Dudley and Ruhamah Bailey were buried in Taft Cemetery at West Dummerston, VT.

<sup>498</sup> Capt. Phineas Bailey's death date is unknown, though a land sale by his son Oliver on Sep. 21, 1812 referred to "Capt. Phineas Bailey, deceased" (Hillsborough County, NH, Deed Bk. 95, pp. 219-20).

<sup>499</sup> Dudley Bailey was bap. Jan. 1, 1743/44 at Rowley, MA. His birth was also recorded as Dec. 26, 1744 in the vital records of Lancaster, MA, but the year is incorrect.

George and Lucy had a daughter Cora Murdock Bailey, b. Aug. 20, 1865 at Marlborough, MA. Cora and her mother Lucy were living with Cora's grandparents Paul and Frinda Bailey at Hudson, MA when the 1870 census was taken. Perhaps Lucy and George separated or divorced since Dr. George H. Bailey of correct age was living at Boston, MA without family when the 1880 census was taken. Cora Bailey, at age 14, was living with the same grandparents at Townsend, MA (and without either parent) when the 1880 census was taken. Eli Kilburn died Mar. 12, 1890 at Sterling, MA, age 93. Widow Jane Kilburn died Mar. 23, 1893 at Sterling, MA, age 78. She and both husbands were buried in Oak Hill Cemetery at Sterling, MA.
- J203 xi. James Bailey, b. Feb. 20, 1816. He married Isabella Jewett Davidson.

She had been living at Arlington, MA for 30 years when she died there Jun. 6, 1925, of heat, age 96. She was buried with her husband in Oak Hill Cemetery at Sterling, MA.

This family were living at Sterling, MA when the 1810, 1830, 1840 and 1850 censuses were taken. Paul Bailey was a farmer and civil engineer. He held many public offices in the town. <sup>506</sup> Intentions of marriage were recorded Apr. 17, 1836 at Sterling, MA.

<sup>507</sup> 1) James E. Taylor, b. 1843. He was married Dec. 26, 1867 to Anna Florence Sawin; 2) Annie Charlotte Taylor, b. Nov. 22, 1858, at Sterling, MA. Annie Cleveland was married a third time Apr. 27, 1881 at Leominster, MA to James Herbert May (1850-1908). This couple lived at Leominster, MA, where they had at least one child.

<sup>508</sup> 1) Paul Francis "Frank" Winn, b. Mar. 9, 1849 at Thompson, CT. He was married to Emma Frances Holt, lived at Arlington, MA and had several children. He died Aug. 28, 1941 at Boston, MA; 2) Jennie M. Winn, b. 1857 at Sterling, MA. She died unmarried in 1878 and was buried with her parents at Sterling, MA.

ENOS BAILEY, SR., son of Shubael Bailey {J58} and Hannah (Whitmore) Bailey, was born Nov. 20, 1771 at the second precinct of Lancaster, MA (incorporated as Sterling, MA in 1781). He was married by or before 1794 to PATIENCE KENDALL, daughter of Jonathan Kendall and Admonition (Tucker) Kendall. Patience was baptized Nov. 29, 1767 at Lancaster, MA. Enos and Patience had at least four children, the oldest three born in Cheshire County, NH and the fourth at VT. Censuses imply there were two or three other children that may have died young, but we know of three sons who survived to adulthood:

- i. Enos Bailey, Jr., b. Oct. 9, 1794, at Sullivan, NH. He served as a drummer in the war of 1812. He was married Jan. 1, 1818 at Pittsford, VT to Relief Johnson. It is said he resided for a short period after his marriage, with his parents at Pittsford, VT.<sup>509</sup> He has not been found in further records.
- ii. Augustus Bailey, b. Oct. 2, 1796, at Sullivan, NH. He was first married May 15, 1836 at Pittsford, VT to Betsey Ray. This marriage was short-lived as Augustus posted a notice Oct. 24, 1836 in several Vermont newspapers forbidding anyone to trust or harbor his wife, Betsey Bailey. Augustus was married a second time Jan. 8, 1843 at Sudbury, VT to Selina Stetson Johnson, daughter of Zebadiah Johnson and Sarah (Stetson) Johnson. Selina was born Feb. 22, 1815 at Dover, VT. Augustus and Selina had a child born Aug. 27, 1859, who died Sep. 5, 1859. This couple were living at Pittsford, VT when the 1860 census was taken. On Jan. 27, 1866, Augustus and Salina sold their property at Pittsford, VT<sup>510</sup> and moved to Brandon, VT. Salina was a landowner in her own right, having on Jun. 13, 1857 received land at Pittsford, VT from her father.<sup>511</sup> On May 31, 1866 and Dec. 10, 1866, they purchased properties in Brandon, VT.<sup>512</sup> This couple were living at Brandon, VT when the 1870 and 1880 censuses were taken. Augustus Bailey died Oct. 17, 1887 at Sudbury, VT, age 91. Widow Salina Bailey died Apr. 4, 1896 at Sudbury, VT, age 81. This couple were buried in Willow Brook Cemetery at Sudbury, VT.
- iii. Eli Bailey, b. Jan. 3, 1799, at Sullivan, NH. He probably died young. No further information has been found.
- iv. Erastus Bailey, b. abt. 1812, at Pittsford, VT. He was first married before 1850 to Resta (-----). This couple were living at Pittsford, VT with his widowed father when the 1850 census was taken. They were living at Pittsford, VT when the 1860 census was taken.<sup>513</sup> On Oct. 25, 1861, Erastus and Resta sold their homestead at Pittsford, VT, a lot that had been the original lot of his father Enos Bailey (see below). Perhaps Resta was in terminal health, since on Jun. 22, 1862 at Pittsford, VT, Erastus was married a second time to Adeline Nephew, daughter of Louis Nephew and Margaret (Tatro) Nephew. Adeline was born about 1843 at VT, though her parents were originally from Lower Canada. Erastus and Adeline had three daughters born at Pittsford, VT between 1862 and 1867. Adeline may have died early since Erastus was living without wife or children with his brother and sister-in-law Augustus and Salina at Brandon, VT when the 1870 and 1880 censuses were taken. His death record has not been found. His brother Augustus was listed in the Brandon, VT Directory for 1881/2 but Erastus was not.

This family were living at Sullivan, Cheshire County, NH when the 1800 census was taken.<sup>514</sup> Then they moved to Pittsford, VT where Enos built his house in 1806. This family were living at Widower Enos Bailey was living with his son Erastus and daughter-in-law Resta Bailey at Pittsford, VT when the 1850 census was taken. On Nov. 13, 1858, Enos and his son Erastus executed a mortgage on their Pittsford, VT homestead, which was subsequently cleared in early 1860.<sup>515</sup> Widower Enos Bailey died Mar. 1, 1860 at Pittsford, VT, age 88. His son Erastus sold the homestead Oct. 25, 1881 to Butler H. Goodrich,<sup>516</sup> and it was soon thereafter sold by B. H. Goodrich to Horace C. Stetson.

Widow Mehitable Bayley was living at Newburyport, MA when the 1810 census was taken. She died in 1826 at Newburyport, MA, age 64. Her death was reported in the Mar. 29, 1826 issue of the Columbian Centinel, Boston, MA, but was not shown in Newburyport, MA printed vital records.

Though some have speculated to the contrary, it does not appear that William and Mehitable Bayley were the parents of Cephas Bailey {J401}, b. abt. 1787 and who married Relief Harris. All known children of William and Mehitable were listed in Newburyport vital records and Cephas is not one of them. Also, there is no room for him between William and Mehitable's marriage date and their eldest son Moses' baptismal date, unless Cephas and Moses were in fact the same person.

JONATHAN BAILEY, son of Nathaniel Bailey III {J67} and Mary (Spafford) Bailey, was born Aug. 27, 1758 at Bradford, MA. His family moved to Townsend, MA when he was 15 years old. Jonathan served in the Revolutionary War in 1776-77, serving in the Company under Capt. Minto in the Mass. Regiment commanded by Col. Dyke. He was married Dec. 11, 1783 at Townsend, MA<sup>569</sup> to SARAH HOLT, daughter of Daniel Holt and Mehitable (Holt) Holt. Sarah was born Sep. 2, 1762 at Townsend, MA. Jonathan and Sarah had eight children, all born at Townsend, MA:

- i. Lucy Bailey, b. Jun. 11, 1785. She never married. Lucy was living with the family of her sister Mehitable (Bailey) Sanders at Townsend, MA when the 1850 census was taken. She died Mar. 25, 1854 at Townsend, MA, age 68. She was buried in Hillside Cemetery at Townsend, MA.
- ii. Joel Bailey, b. Mar. 20, 1787. He and his wife "Alvira" (b. about 1809) were living at Byron, Fond du Lac County, WI when the 1850 and 1855 censuses were taken. There is no evidence of children. They were living at Weyauwega, Waupaca County, WI when the 1860 census was taken. Joel's sister Patty's estate of 1864 listed "Joel Bailey of Wisconsin" as a brother and heir.<sup>570</sup> However, Joel may have died Jun. 3, 1862 at WI, age 75, as there is a "Joel Bailey" of matching age buried in Hallowell Farm Cemetery at Rubicon, Dodge City, WI.

- J218 iii. Eldad Bailey, b. Feb. 17, 1790. He first married Rebecca Dole and secondly Asenath (Chaffin) Jones.
- iv. Sarah Bailey, b. Oct. 21, 1793. She was married Apr. 19, 1832 at Lunenburg, MA<sup>571</sup> to Nathaniel Parker, Jr., son of Nathaniel Parker, Sr. and Sarah (Adams) Parker. Nathaniel, Jr. was born Apr. 26, 1808 at Shirley, MA. Nathaniel and Sarah had one child.<sup>572</sup> This family were living at Lunenburg, MA when the 1840, 1850, 1860 and 1865 censuses were taken. Sarah Parker died Mar. 24, 1870 at Lunenburg, MA, age 76. Widower Nathaniel Parker was living with his widowed sister-in-law<sup>573</sup> at Lunenburg, MA when the 1870 census was taken. He was married a second time Jan. 5, 1871 at Lunenburg, MA to Anstres Rebecca Spencer, daughter of Schuyler Spencer and Rebecca (Hiscock) Spencer. She was born Jul. 14, 1838 at Southbridge, MA, 30 years his junior. The marriage did not last, as she was re-married in 1890 and Nathaniel was living and working at the farm of his nephew Aaron Bailey (son of Elisha Bailey {J219}, see below) at Lunenburg, MA when the 1880 census was taken. Nathaniel Parker died Feb. 27, 1885 at Lunenburg, MA, age 76. He was buried in North Cemetery at Lunenburg, MA.
  - v. Mehitable Bailey, b. Jan. 8, 1796. She was married Nov. 19, 1817 at Lunenburg, MA to Ebenezer Sanders, son of Solomon Sanders and Lydia (Levestone) Sanders.<sup>574</sup> Ebenezer was born Apr. 28, 1791 at Townsend, MA. This couple had eight children born at Townsend, MA, three of whom died as infants. This family were living at Townsend, MA when the 1820, 1840 and 1850 censuses were taken. Mehitable Sanders died Nov. 5, 1861 at Townsend, MA, age 65. Widower Ebenezer Sanders was living at Townsend, MA, with the family of his son Elbridge Sanders, when the 1865 and 1870 censuses were taken. He died Jun. 28, 1874 at Townsend, MA, age 83. Ebenezer and Mehitable and several sons were buried in Riverside Cemetery at West Townsend, MA.

<sup>574</sup> Intentions of marriage were recorded Oct. 17, 1817 at Lunenburg, MA and Oct. 19, 1817 at Townsend, MA.

- J219 vi. Elisha Bailey, b. Aug. 22, 1798. He first married Fairanda B. Fitts and secondly Phebe W. Fitts.
- vii. Patty Bailey, b. Oct. 19, 1800. She was married Dec. 27, 1821 at Townsend, MA to Asa Sanders.<sup>575</sup> This couple were living near Patty's father and brother Eldad at Townsend, MA when the 1830 census was taken. They had no children. There are few additional records. It is not known what happened to Asa Sanders. Patty Sanders was a widow "of Townsend, MA" when she sold 50 acres of land there on Mar, 27, 1845.<sup>576</sup> She was living without husband with the family of Franklin Sanders at Townsend, MA when the 1860 census was taken. Franklin Sanders was the son of Solomon Sanders, Jr., so it is thought that Franklin and Asa may have been brothers (but this is speculation). Patty Sanders died Nov. 28, 1863 at Townsend, MA, age 63. She was buried in Riverside Cemetery at West Townsend, MA. On Dec. 8, 1863, her brother Eldad petitioned the probate court, listing himself, his living siblings and children of deceased siblings (Mehitable and Elisha) as Patty's heirs.<sup>577</sup> On Jan. 12, 1864, Eldad was appointed executor of her estate. Patty's estate was valued at $387.72 (no real estate), of which $207.91 remained after debts were paid, for distribution to the heirs.
- viii. Esther Bailey, b. Sep. 12, 1805. She was married Feb. 23, 1825 at Townsend, MA to Jonathan Wyeth, Jr., son of Jonathan Wyeth, Sr. and Elizabeth (Warren) Wyeth. Jonathan Jr. was born Jan. 20, 1802 at Groton, MA. Jonathan and Esther had seven children, born at Townsend, MA then Groton, MA. This family were living at Townsend, MA when the 1830 census was taken, at Groton, MA when the 1850 census was taken, then at Lunenburg, MA when the 1860 and 1870 censuses were taken. Jonathan Wyeth died Feb. 5, 1876 at Lunenburg, MA, age 74. Widow Esther Wyeth was living with her unmarried son William at Lunenburg, MA when the 1880 census was taken. She was living with the family of the same son, married, at Fitchburg, MA when the 1900 census was taken. She died Feb. 15, 1901 at Fitchburg, MA, age 95. Esther and Jonathan were buried in North Cemetery at Lunenburg, MA.

This family were living at Townsend, MA when the 1790, 1800, 1820 and 1830 censuses were taken. Jonathan Bailey received a military pension of $33.33 per month from 1833.<sup>578</sup> Sarah Bailey died May 2, 1837 at Townsend, MA, age 74. Widower Jonathan Bailey continued to live at Townsend, MA when the 1840 census was taken. He died Dec. 27, 1844 at Townsend, MA, age 86. At the time of death, he was a "laborer at the poor house".

NATHANIEL BAILEY IV, son of Nathaniel Bailey III {J67} and Mary (Spafford) Bailey, was born Jan. 10, 1763 at Bradford, MA. He moved with his family to Townsend, MA when about ten years old. He was married Feb. 17, 1791 at Townsend, MA to MOLLY BALDWIN, daughter of Jacob Baldwin and Elizabeth Lewis (Baldwin). Molly was born Jan. 2, 1767 at Townsend, MA. Nathaniel and Molly had five children, all born at Andover, VT:

- J220 i. Jacob Bailey, b. Dec. 14, 1792. He married Lucy Puffer.
- J221 ii. Stephen Bruce Bailey, b. Jun. 18, 1796. He first married Jane Sawyer, secondly Dorothy Dalton (Abbott) Putnam and thirdly Edna (Patch) Haven.
- iii. Betsey Bailey, b. May 18, 1799. She is accounted for on her father's 1810 census record for Andover, VT, but not so on the 1820 census. She probably died in the 1810's. There is no further information.
- iv. Polly Bailey, b. Sep. 2, 1801. She was living at Andover, VT when she purchased land Oct. 30, 1843 at Ludlow, VT from her brother-in-law Seneca Haven.<sup>579</sup> By Oct. 8, 1847 when she sold land at Seneca was born Sep. 7, 1811 at Ludlow, VT. He cleared the land and built the Ludlow, VT house in which Hannah would live for nearly 80 years. Seneca and Hannah had a daughter Laura Marcella Haven (later Mrs. Henry Fuller), born Oct. 11, 1842 at Ludlow, VT. They probably had a second child who died as an infant. This family were living at Ludlow, VT when the 1840, 1850, 1860, 1870 and 1880 censuses were taken. Seneca Haven was a carpenter and farmer. He died Jan. 25, 1882 at Ludlow, VT, age 70. Widow Hannah Haven continued to live in the same Ludlow, VT house, with her son-in-law now head of household, when the 1900 census was taken. Hannah died Apr. 30, 1909 at her home at Ludlow, VT, age 100. She is said to have been the first resident of Ludlow, VT to live beyond the century mark. And she was the first descendant of the James Bailey line known to have reached this milestone.

This family were living at Andover, VT when the 1800, 1810 and 1820 censuses were taken. Nathaniel Bailey died Jul. 8, 1836 at Andover, VT, age 73. Widow Molly Bailey died Mar. 6, 1849 at Ludlow, VT, age 82. Nathaniel and Molly were buried in Pleasant Hill Cemetery at Ludlow, VT.

DAVID BAILEY, SR., son of Nathaniel Bailey III {J67} and Mary (Spafford) Bailey, was born Jul. 19, 1770 at Bradford, MA. He moved with his family to Townsend, MA when about three years old. Like his older brother Nathaniel, they settled in Andover, VT in the early 1790's. David was married Feb. 24, 1796 at Andover, VT to ESTHER BUTTERFIELD, daughter of Eleazer Butterfield, Jr. and Mary (Bradstreet) Butterfield. Esther was born Jul. 31, 1779 at Townsend, MA. David and Esther had at least nine children, all born at Andover, VT, of whom the following have been documented (there were four girls on the 1810 census, so some are missing in the list below):

- i. Vashti Bailey, b. Sep. 4, 1796. She never married. She was living with the family of her brother Joseph at Chester, VT when the 1850 census was taken and with the same family at Londonderry, VT when the 1860 census was taken. She died of consumption Aug. 28, 1866 at Andover, VT, age 69.
- J222 ii. David Bailey, Jr., b. Jul. 12, 1800. He married Rosalinda Chandler.
- iii. Esther R. Bailey, b. Aug. 13, 1803. She was married Mar. 5, 1834 at Ludlow, VT to Harbot Chapman, son of John Chapman and Esther (Kittredge) Chapman. Harbot or "Harry" was born May 3, 1804 at Tewksbury, MA. Harry and Esther had seven children, all born at Ludlow, VT. This family were living at Ludlow, VT when the 1840, 1850 and 1860 censuses were taken. Harry was a carpenter. He died of heart disease Oct. 16, 1863 at Ludlow, VT, age 59. The inventory of his estate was recorded by the probate court Jan. 19, 1864 and was fully assigned to the widow.<sup>581</sup> Widow Esther Chapman died of consumption Jan. 3, 1865 at Ludlow, VT, age 61. Harry and Esther were buried in Pleasant View Cemetery at Ludlow, VT.
- J223 iv. Samuel Bailey, b. about Oct. 1806. He married Hannah F. Beard.
- J224 v. Joseph Bailey, b. Mar. 28, 1810. He married Elvira Holman.
- J225 vi. Henry Stearns Bailey, b. Nov. 5, 1815. He first married Mehitabel B. Brown, secondly Adelia M. (Hunt) Barrett and thirdly Frances Celesta Howard.

- vii. Jonas Parker Bailey, b. May 31, 1818. He was married Oct. 23, 1838 at Cavendish, VT to Caroline Pearson, daughter of Abiel Pearson and Olive (Bliss) Pearson. Caroline was born Apr. 13, 1813 at VT. Jonas and Caroline did not have children. They were living at Cavendish, VT, where they had both been living at the time of their marriage, when the 1850, 1860, 1870 and 1880 censuses were taken. Jonas Bailey, sometimes known as "Parker" was a shoemaker. On Nov. 29, 1880, Jonas executed a will, in which his wife was sole beneficiary except for an amount of $1000 given to "my beloved nephew, Mylon H. Liscom".<sup>582</sup> Jonas died Jan. 11, 1881 at Cavendish, VT, age 62, after a long illness (heart trouble). On Feb. 19, 1881, the court proved his will and named Darwin R. Story and Caroline Bailey as estate executors.<sup>583</sup> The estate was valued at $4863.14 after expenses, a substantial proportion held in government bonds. Widow Caroline Bailey was living at Cavendish, VT when the 1900 and 1910 censuses were taken. She died Oct. 27, 1911 at Cavendish, VT, age 98. She and her husband were buried in Hillcrest Cemetery at Proctorsville, VT.

This family were living at Andover, VT when the 1800, 1810, 1820 and 1830 censuses were taken. It appears that Esther Bailey died in the 1820's, with no one matching her age on the 1830 census. With the last known indirect reference to widower David Bailey in a land transaction in 1837 (a transaction by his son David who was named on the transaction as David Bailey, "Jnr."), it is probable that he died in the late 1830's. He has not been found on the 1840 census.

He died suddenly Feb. 20, 1867 at Boston, MA, age 59. On Mar. 7, 1867, Widow Mary Gilson petitioned the Middlesex County probate court, naming herself and six living children as heirs of her husband, and as a result she was named administratrix of his estate.<sup>586</sup> The personal estate was valued at $52,019, plus $14,011 for real estate. She and her unmarried children were living with her married son Henry at Somerville, MA when the 1870 census was taken. She was living with the family of her youngest son Franklin Gilson at Reading, MA when the 1880 census was taken. Mary Gilson died Dec. 13, 1893 at Somerville, MA, age 82. She and her husband were buried in Cambridge Cemetery at Cambridge, MA.
- vi. Theresa M. Bailey, b. Jul. 9, 1814. She was married Sep. 16, 1849 at Cambridge, MA to widower Samuel Jones Johnson, born Feb. 6, 1807 at Grafton, MA. - vii. Amariah Bailey, b. Dec. 22, 1822. No further information. She probably died young.

In Apr. 1800, Jesse purchased land in the west parish of Reading, MA adjacent to that of his father-in-law Richard Nichols, with accompanying mortgage.<sup>587</sup> This family were living at Reading, MA when the 1800, 1810 and 1820 censuses were taken. ISRAEL BAILEY, SR., son of Moses Bailey {J91} and Elizabeth (Merrill) Bailey, was born Aug. 11, 1761 at Salem, NH. His childhood was spent at Salem, NH then Haverhill, NH. His parents made the move from Haverhill, NH to Peacham, VT in 1779, at which time (on Jun. 14, 1779) his father purchased 300 acres of land there, from one Benjamin Patterson of Piermont, NH.<sup>724</sup> On Sep. 4, 1783, Israel's father carved off a 67-acre portion of his land (Lot Nbr. 5) at Peacham, VT and deeded this for $67 to "my son Israel".<sup>725</sup>

Israel was married Nov. 21, 1787 at Peacham, VT to MIRIAM (SAWYER) BATCHELDER, daughter of Josiah Sawyer and the widow of a Mr. Batchelder. Miriam was born before 1765. On Oct. 17, 1787, just prior to marriage, Israel had exchanged his farm at Peacham, VT with that of Jacob Jennes in nearby Groton, VT.<sup>726</sup> Israel and Miriam became one of the very first families to settle at Groton, VT, on a 50-acre parcel of land being the northern part of Lot #3. The couple had nine children born at Groton, VT:

J316 i. Dorcas Bailey, b. Aug. 16, 1788. She married Jonathan Philbrick.

- ii. Betsey Bailey, b. May 23, 1791. She probably died as a young adult.
- J317 iii. Jesse Bailey, b. Nov. 3, 1792. He first married Dolly Townsend and secondly, Abigail (Holden) Miller.
- J318 iv. David Bailey, Sr., b. Aug. 20, 1794. He married Lydia Skinner.
- J319 v. Ephraim Bailey, b. Apr. 16, 1796. He first married Hannah Slack and secondly, Emily A. (-----) Pierce and thirdly, Elizabeth Folsom.
- J320 vi. Jonathan Bailey, Sr., b. Apr. 8, 1799. He first married Sarah Maria Jennison and secondly, Polly (Magoon) Elliot.
- vii. Israel Bailey, Jr., b. Dec. 20, 1800. He died Oct. 21, 1828, at Irasburg, VT, age 27. His estate was probated in 1828.<sup>727</sup>
- J321 viii. Levi Bailey, Sr., b. Aug. 12, 1804. He married Achsah Margaret Ainsworth.
- ix. Josiah Sawyer Bailey, b. Jun. 27, 1808. He was voted Surveyor of Highways at Irasburg, VT in 1836 and 1838. No further information.

This family were living at Groton, VT when the 1790, 1800, 1810, 1820 and 1830 censuses were taken. At the first annual town meeting on Mar. 28, 1797, Israel was chosen "tithingman". On Sep. 19, 1801, he expanded his Groton land holdings with the purchase from Edward Pollard of an additional 100 acres.<sup>728</sup>

In a Groton land transaction in Feb. 1832, Israel deeded his Groton land to son David,<sup>729</sup> and in exchange David committed to provide for the housing (in Groton), care and food for his parents for the rest of their "natural lives". On Jan. 23, 1833, Israel released his son from this obligation. It is surmised that about this time, Israel moved to live with one of his sons at Irasburg, VT, probably Levi. Sons Ephraim, Levi, David and Josiah all lived at Irasburg in this era, and son Jonathan lived at adjacent Albany, VT. On Jul. 15, 1838, a Vermont State Attorney called Jesse Cooper was assigned as Guardian for Israel Bailey, since he was "incapable of taking care of himself".<sup>730</sup> In Sept. 1839, Israel was recorded in the town records of Irasburg as having cast his vote for representatives. It is probable that Miriam Bailey had died about 1833 or soon thereafter.

In 1839, the town of Irasburg, VT made a claim against Groton, VT for the cost of having cared for the pauper Israel Bailey. They forced his return from Irasburg to Groton. The Groton town records describe their dealing with this matter at their Nov. 30, 1839 town meeting, where they sought bids for the care of Israel, the winning bid being George Welch at $0.98 per week for room and board. The Groton town records include annual entries from 1840 to 1853 covering the annual funds required for the care of Israel Bailey. When the census was taken in 1850, Israel at age 89 was living in the town "poor house" at Groton, VT, operated then by Peter Whitehills. Israel probably died in the mid-1850's (after 1853) being by then over 90 years of age. His death record has not been found, and he was not recorded on the 1860 census. Given that he was living at a Groton, VT "poorhouse", supported by the town, with no support from family, it is reasonable to assume that he was buried in a pauper's grave without marker of any kind.

ASA BAILEY, JR., son of Asa Bailey, Sr. {J92} and Abigail (Abbot) Bailey, was born Oct. 16, 1775 at Haverhill, NH. His childhood was spent at Bath, NH then Landaff, NH. In 1792, he was sent away to work as a farm laborer for a time, at Whitestown, NY. He was married May 3, 1803 at

Lisbon, NH to REBECCA WEBBER, daughter of Nathaniel Webber and Rebecca (Peabody) Webber. Rebecca was born about 1781. Her parents were living at Landaff, NH in 1790 and 1800, so were probably neighbors with the Bailey's. Asa and Rebecca had at least eight children, born in Bath, NH and Landaff, NH:

- i. Harriet Bailey, b. Mar. 15, 1804. No further information.
- ii. Mary Bailey, b. Jun. 30, 1807. No further information.
- iii. Amos Bailey, b. Apr. 5, 1809. He died Mar. 25, 1814, at Bath, NH, just short of his 5th birthday.
- iv. Noah Bailey, b. Jul. 11, 1811. He was living alone (age 38) at Roxbury township, Washington County, OH (where his brother Simon had previously lived) when the 1850 census was taken.
- v. Herman Bailey, b. Jun. 31, 1813. No further information.
- J322 vi. Simon Bailey, b. Oct. 29, 1815. He married Louisa Bailey.
- vii. Laida Bailey, b. Aug. 22, 1816. No further information.
- viii. Aaron Bailey, b. Nov. 2, 1818. He died Sep. 29, 1820 at Bath, NH.

This family were living at Landaff, NH when the 1810 census was taken, and Asa's mother Abigail was most likely in his household at that time. On Jun. 1, 1809, Asa "of Bath" had purchased land at Landaff from his father-in-law Nathaniel Webber.<sup>731</sup> From land and birth records, it is evident the family remained at Landaff, NH in 1811 and 1812, but soon after returned to neighboring Bath, NH. Though the 1820 census for Grafton County has been lost, it is evident from land records that the family continued to live at Bath, NH at least through 1824, when Asa sold a small parcel of his land at Bath, NH to his nephew Mark Bacon.<sup>732</sup> At some moment between 1824 and 1830, Asa re-located to Poultney, VT where he was living when the 1830 census was taken. He was still "of Poultney" in 1834 when he sold some of remaining land holdings back at Bath, NH.<sup>733</sup> Death details for Asa and Rebecca are unknown. The name "Asa Bailey" is entered into the Old Settlers Association "Pioneer Book" for White County, IN, as an 1840 arrival. Their son Simon was a well-known resident of White County, IN. The History of the Town of Haverhill, NH (by William F. Whitcher, 1919, p. 473) says that Asa "went west". Perhaps he died in IN.

CALEB BAILEY, son of Asa Bailey, Sr. {J92} and Abigail (Abbot) Bailey, was born (a twin) Aug. 12, 1777 at Bath, NH. His childhood was spent at Bath, NH then Landaff, NH. He was married Jun. 3, 1807 at NH to DEBORAH FITCH, of Lebanon, NH, daughter of Asa Fitch and Deborah (Robinson) Fitch. She was born about 1786 at Windham, CT. Caleb and Deborah had eight children, born at Bath, NH, Lebanon, NH, at Thetford, VT (nbr. 6 & 7) and Lyme, NH (nbr. 8):

- i. Emily Bailey, b. Oct. 1, 1808. She was a single woman living at Lyme, NH in Dec. 1833 when she acquired the Lyme, NH home farm from her parents, on the understanding they could continue to farm there for the rest of their lives.<sup>734</sup> Then on Apr. 9, 1836, Emily deeded this same farm to her brother Amos.<sup>735</sup> She was first married Oct. 12, 1842 at Lisbon, NH to Fletcher J. Barron of Lisbon, NH. Fletcher and Emily had at least one child.<sup>736</sup> Whether Fletcher Barron died or was divorced is uncertain, but "Emily F. Barron" was living at Nashville, NH with her sister Ethelinda Bailey and without husband when the 1850 census was taken. "Emily F. Baron" (age 44) of Nashville, NH was married a second time Mar. 17, 1852 at Nashville, NH to John Stockwell, then age 54. It appears that this marriage did long survive, as "Emily F. Barron" was living with another family at Nashua, NH when the 1860 census was taken. At some time between 1860 and 1868, Emily was married a third time to Edward Howard. Living at Lyme, NH, this couple were first recorded together on an 1868 land transaction, in which Edward sold his wheelwright shop.<sup>737</sup> Edward was born Mar. 1, 1791 at Lyme, NH. Edward's grandfather Edward Howard, originally from Tolland, CT, settled at Lyme, NH from Thetford, VT in about 1772.<sup>738</sup> Edward served 5 months and 12 days in the War of 1812 with Capt. Edward Freeman's company, stationed at Stewartstown, NH. Despite losing a leg, Edward was after the war trained as a carpenter and wheelwright and established a shop at Lyme Center. Edward and Emily were living at Lyme, NH when the 1870 and 1880 censuses were taken. On both the 1870 and 1880 censuses, Emily's sister Ethelinda Bailey was living with them. Edward Howard lived to be known as the oldest man at Lyme, NH, until he died Jul. 24, 1881 at Lyme, NH, age 90. Widow Emily Howard died of pneumonia Mar. 20, 1896, at Lyme, NH, age 87. Edward and Emily were buried in Old Lyme Cemetery at Lyme, NH.

  - v. Ethelinda Bailey, b. Dec. 28, 1816. She never married. Ethelinda was living at Nashville, NH with her sister Emily when the 1850 census was taken. She was living at Nashua, NH with her sister Eliza when the 1860 census was taken. She was living at Lyme, NH with her sister Emily when the 1870 and 1880 censuses were taken. Ethelinda Bailey died exactly one week after her sister Emily on Mar. 27, 1896, at Lyme, NH, age 79. She was buried in Old Lyme Cemetery at Lyme, NH.
  - vi. Mercy Jeanette Bailey, b. Jul. 3, 1819. She was married to Nathaniel Heaton, Jr., son of Nathaniel Heaton, Sr. and Kezia (-----) Heaton. Nathaniel, Jr. was born Dec. 4, 1810 at Hanover, NH. Nathaniel and Mercy had three children, born at Hanover, NH then Nashua, NH.<sup>739</sup> This family were living at Hanover, NH when the 1850 census was taken, then at Nashua, NH when the 1860 census was taken. Nathaniel was boarding at Hanover, NH when the 1870 census was taken. This family were living at Phillipston, MA together with their unmarried son when the 1880 census was taken. Nathaniel Heaton died Feb. 23, 1887 at Phillipston, MA, age 76. Widow Mercy Heaton was living with her son at Alstead, NH when the 1900 census was taken. Elbridge was born Apr. 26, 1844 at Leverett, MA. This couple had one son Elbridge C. Dudley, Jr. This family were living at Phillipston, MA when the 1880 census was taken. Angeline Dudley died Sep. 28, 1910 at Leverett, MA, age 69. Elbridge Dudley, Sr. died Apr. 5, 1916 at Leverett, MA, age 71; 2) Carlos K. Heaton, b. 1843. He died unmarried in 1861 and was buried in Woodlawn Cemetery at Nashua, NH; 3) Nathaniel Dwight Heaton, b. Dec. 7, 1856. He was a farmer living at Alstead, NH when the 1900 census was taken. He died, probably unmarried Dec. 24, 1931 at Nashua, NH, age 75, and shared a gravestone with brother Carlos.

<sup>740</sup> Rosamund Heaton, b. Mar. 21, 1848 at Hanover, NH. She was married before 1870 to Cornelius Jeannotte, born Mar. 28, 1847 at Bellows Falls, VT. This couple had eight children and were living at Nashua, NH when the 1870, 1880, 1900 and 1910 censuses were taken. Rosamund Jeannotte died Jul. 18, 1911 at Nashua, NH, age 63. Widower Cornelius Jeannotte died Mar. 1, 1919 at Nashua, NH, age 71. This couple were buried in Edgewood Cemetery at Nashua, NH.

her daughter when the 1870 and 1910 censuses were taken. She died Mar. 8, 1913 and was buried at Woodlawn Cemetery at Nashua, NH.

This family were living at Bath, NH when the 1810 census was taken. It is evident from land and birth records that the family were living at Lebanon, NH in 1816 and 1817. They then lived for a short time at Thetford, VT, where they were living when the 1820 census was taken. They then moved to Lyme, NH about 1821, where Caleb tended the ferry for two or three years. On Mar. 26, 1824, Caleb Bailey of Lyme purchased an 80-acre farm there.<sup>741</sup> This farm had at one time (until 1819) belonged to Edward Howard, who later would become the third husband of his daughter Emily. This family continued to live at Lyme, NH in 1830 and 1840 when the censuses were taken. On Dec. 13, 1833, Caleb and Deborah sold their home farm at Lyme, NH to their daughter Emily Bailey, "singlewoman", with the understanding they retained farming rights as long as they lived.<sup>742</sup> Caleb Bailey died Apr. 29, 1846 at Lyme, NH, age 68. Widow Deborah Bailey died Nov. 17, 1846 at Lyme, NH, age 60. Caleb and Deborah were buried in Old Lyme Cemetery at Lyme, NH.

took the major step of settling right after their marriage at Fayetteville, GA, where Amherst saw wider opportunity in his legal profession as compared to that in Vermont. While at Fayetteville, the couple had their only child, Jennie Arthur Stone, who sadly died in 1854 at age 1. Soon after, they moved to Atlanta, GA, where they were living when the 1860 census was taken. Cyrena and Amherst were among 39 founding members in 1858 of the Central Presbyterian Church. Amherst's legal practice flourished in Atlanta. In spite of Atlanta being the "second capital" of the confederacy during the civil war period, Cyrena and Amherst managed to maintain their loyalty to the union.<sup>757</sup> Amherst was involved in many business ventures, becoming President of the new Bank of Fulton, and winning a charter for the Georgia Air Line Railroad. After the war, Amherst practiced law at Savannah, GA. Cyrena Stone died Dec. 19, 1868 at Sheldon, VT, age 38. They had two sons born in Micronesia and later a daughter born at Westport, NY. This family were living at Highland Township, Sullivan County, NY when the 1900 census was taken and at Royalton, VT when the 1910 census was taken. WARD BAYLEY, SR., son of Charles Bailey, Sr. {J96} and Abigail (Safford) Bailey, was born Apr. 27, 1784, at Newbury, VT. He was married about 1808 to JUDITH HALL, daughter of Elias Hall and Judith (Walker) Hall. She was born Apr. 14, 1783 at New Braintree, MA. Ward and Judith had seven children, all born at Hardwick, VT:

- i. Catherine Bailey, b. Jan. 22, 1809. She died Jun. 19, 1823 at Hardwick, VT, age 14.
- ii. Mary S. Bailey, b. Jul. 7, 1811. She was married Jul. 15, 1844 at Hardwick, VT to Silas Underwood, Jr., son of Silas Underwood, Sr. and Lucy Warner (Leslie) Underwood. Silas, Jr. was born May 30, 1812 at Hardwick, VT. Silas and Mary had one child, Cornelia Grace Underwood, who was born May 18, 1848, but died Apr. 29, 1852, age 3. This couple were living at Hardwick, VT when the 1850 and 1860 censuses were taken. Silas Underwood died Sep. 10, 1865 at Hardwick, VT, age 53. Widow Mary Underwood was living at Peacham, VT with her sister Susan Cole when the 1870 and 1880 censuses were taken. She died May 26, 1892 at Peacham, VT, age 80. - iii. Susanna C. Bailey, b. Apr. 17, 1813. Susan was unmarried and living in the household of her sister Mary (Bailey) Underwood at Hardwick, VT when the 1850 census was taken. Before 1855, Susan was married to Nathaniel Cole of Walworth County, WI. Nathaniel was widowed from his first wife Louisa (Henderson) Cole in about 1851. Susan and Nathaniel had one child Florence Clara Cole, born May 1, 1855 in Walworth County, WI. It appears that Susan and Nathaniel were divorced since Susan was living with her daughter Florence back in the household of her sister Mary Underwood at Hardwick, VT when the 1860 census was taken. Daughter Florence died Dec. 25, 1860 at VT, age 5.

Susan Cole was living with her widowed sister Mary Underwood at Peacham, VT when the 1870 and 1880 censuses were taken. Later in the 1880's she was keeping house for her brother Ward S. Bailey. Susan Cole died Nov. 14, 1891 at Peacham, VT, age 78. She and her deceased daughter were buried in Hazen Road Cemetery at East Hardwick, VT.

She was married after 1855 to Ziba Leonard Johnson, son of Ziba Johnson, Sr. and Sally (Lincoln) Johnson. Ziba, Jr. was born Mar. 17, 1797 at Peacham, VT and was widowed in 1855 from his first wife Betsey Merrill (1800-1855). Leonard Johnson had nine children by his first wife, but none by Judith. Leonard and Judith were living at Peacham, VT when the 1860, 1870 and 1880 censuses were taken. Leonard Johnson died Mar. 14, 1890 at Peacham, VT, age 93. J356 vi. Jacob Loomis Bayley, b. Feb. 19, 1823. He married Helen Wilson.

- vii. Eliza C. Bailey, b. Aug. 16, 1826. She probably died in the 1830's since there is a girl matching her age on the 1830 census, but not on the 1840 census.

On Sep. 4, 1808, Charles Bailey conveyed land at Hardwick, VT to his son Ward.<sup>786</sup> This family were living (as farmers) at Hardwick, VT when the 1810, 1820, 1830, 1840 and 1850 censuses were taken. This family removed from VT to Perry, NY in 1816, and they were living at Perry, NY when the 1820, 1830, 1850 and 1860 censuses were taken. Calvin opened a store at Perry village, in partnership with his brother-in-law Samuel Hatch. These partners also engaged in the manufacture of linseed oil and later purchased a grist mill.<sup>789</sup> Calvin built the first brick block at Perry Village. In 1828, he was elected to represent his district in the New York State Assembly. In 1840, he was a delegate to the national convention where William Henry Harrison was nominated for President.

She was married Apr. 8, 1841 at Hardwick, VT to Samuel Dexter Wheeler, born Dec. 14, 1817 at Rumford, Oxford County, ME. Samuel and Sarah Jane had five children (three living in 1900), born at VT (probably Peacham), except the youngest born in IL. This family were living at Peacham, VT when the 1850 census was taken, but removed to IL in 1858. They were living at Rockford City, IL when the 1860 and 1870 censuses were taken. Samuel Wheeler died 1873 or 1874 at IL. In 1875, widow Sarah J. Wheeler and her youngest child Katie moved to Evanston, WY to live with her son William. She remained at Evanston, WY when the 1880 census was taken. By 1900, she was living at Ogden, UT with her daughter Katie and her second husband. Rutherford apparently lived for a short time in neighboring Groton, VT, as his brother Calvin deeded him property there Nov. 24, 1821<sup>797</sup> and “Rutherford Bailey of Groton” sold the same property May 26, 1823.<sup>798</sup> Rutherford Bailey died Feb. 28, 1851 at Peacham, VT, age 77.<sup>799</sup> Widow Phebe Bailey was living at Peacham, VT with three of her children in the “poorhouse” when the 1860 census was taken. PHILANDER BAILEY, son of Abijah Bailey {J98} and Mary (Butterfield) Sawyer Bailey was born Jul. 17, 1780 at Peacham, VT. Philander Bailey of Peacham, VT ran into problems with creditors in early 1804, for which he was confined at Danville, VT for a short period. He had to tender his property in order to settle with creditors.<sup>801</sup> He was married Dec. 4, 1804 at Barnet, VT to ANNA MINER, probable daughter of James S. Miner and Esther (Walker) Miner.<sup>802</sup> This Anna was born Jan. 8, 1780 at Woodbury, CT. Philander and Anna had four known children, born at Lower Canada and VT:

- J361 i. Abijah Bailey, Sr., b. Feb. 2, 1806. He first married Lydia Hildreth and secondly Martha Margaret (Bailey) Burdick.
- J362 ii. James Miner Bailey, b. Jun. 24, 1810. He married Olive Hand.
- J363 iii. Henry Eaton Bailey, Sr., b. Sep. 19, 1816. He first married Betsey Hammond and secondly Sarah Delilah (Morgan) Heizer.
- J364 iv. John G. Bailey, Sr., b. abt. 1820. He first married Louise Jane Lewis and secondly Nancy J. Ryan.

Along with his father, Philander moved his family north to Potton township at Lower Canada in about 1805. His oldest two children were born there. This family were living at Potton, Lower Canada when the 1825 census was taken. Philander's brother Luther settled at nearby Jay, VT and Philander also built a log cabin at Jay, VT but didn't stay there long and never moved his family there.<sup>803</sup> This family returned to live at Vermont for a time, as their third son was born at Danville, VT and the fourth at Troy, VT. Three of Philander's four sons went west, and he probably accompanied them. It is said that Philander Bailey died in the 1840's in Hardin County, OH, which is where his son John had settled in those years.

building a cabin just south of the border at the adjoining area of Jay, VT. When Luther travelled back to Peacham, VT to take care of the family farm at harvest time, he left his wife behind at Jay, VT.<sup>804</sup> His father Abijah Bailey would ride by horseback through the forest from Potton to Jay every Sunday to check on her. Luther sold his Jay, VT property in about 1811 to Madison Keith. He went across to Lower Canada, but the War of 1812 prompted his return to Jay, VT where he bought property from a Mr. Whitcomb and was living there during this War.

Luther and Betsey had eleven children, most of whom were born at Jay, VT, but a few of the older ones were born at Lower Canada and at adjacent Orleans County, VT:

- i. Mary Bailey, b. about 1806, in Lower Canada. She had a liaison with Ralph Abercrombie,<sup>805</sup> with whom she had a daughter Minerva Abercrombie, born at Jay, VT.<sup>806</sup> Mary was later married to a Mr. Hammond.<sup>807</sup> Mary Hammond died Mar. 17, 1844 at North Troy, VT, about age 37. - iii. Betsey Bailey, b. Nov. 6, 1809, in Lower Canada. She was married to Harvey Elkins, son of Josiah Elkins and Anna (Sawyer) Elkins. Harvey was born Jan. 25, 1799. Harvey and Betsey had nine or ten children, most of whom were born at Troy, VT. This family were living at Troy, VT when the 1830 and 1840 censuses were taken. Harvey Elkins died Oct. 30, 1849 at Troy, VT, age 50. Widow Betsey Elkins was living with six children at Troy, VT when the 1850 census was taken. She died Jun. 6, 1852 at Troy, VT, age 42. Harvey and Betsey were buried in North Troy Cemetery at North Troy, VT.
- iv. Amanda Bailey, b. Aug. 13, 1813. She died unmarried, probably in the 1830's.
- v. Elvira Bailey, b. Feb. 1815 at Troy, VT. She was married about 1831 to Joseph Hadlock, Jr., son of Joseph Hadlock, Sr. and Olive (Sanborn) Hadlock. Joseph, Jr. was born Dec. 5, 1808 at Bath, NH. Joseph and Elvira lived at Jay, VT where they had two children. Elvira Hadlock died about 1834. Widower Joseph Hadlock was married a second time to Diana Young (1810-1887), with whom he had six more children, born at Jay, VT. Joseph Hadlock died in 1874 and was buried in Jay Center Cemetery at Jay, VT.

She was married to her first cousin once removed, Simpson Bowles Hammond (1821-1881), son of Nathaniel Hammond and Hannah (Bailey) Hammond. Simpson and Minerva had as many as fourteen children, the oldest four born at Lower Canada and the rest at Troy, VT, where they were living when the 1850, 1860, 1870 and 1880 censuses were taken. Widow Minerva Hammond died of heart disease Oct. 12, 1904 at Troy, VT, age 80. She was buried with her husband in North Troy Cemetery at North Troy, VT.

SAMUEL BAILEY, son of Abijah Bailey {J98} and Mary (Butterfield) Sawyer Bailey was born May 31, 1784 at Peacham, VT. He was a farmer and lived at or near Troy, VT from the early 1800's. He was married to LYDIA PEARSONS. He served in the war of 1812, enlisting in the 31st regiment commanded by Col. Rufus Stuart and engaged in the Battle of Plattsburg Sep. 11, 1814. Samuel and Lydia had at least five children, born at Troy, VT:

- i. Lydia Bailey. No further information.
- J370 ii. James Pearsons Bailey, Sr., b. Apr. 23, 1810. He married Mary Ann Hall.
- iii. Bluma Bailey, b. May 6, 1812. She was married at VT to Robert Johnson, born about 1810. This couple had nine children, born at VT except for the youngest who was born at IL. This family were living at Troy, VT when the 1840 and 1850 censuses were taken. They migrated to Illinois in the early 1850's. It appears that Robert Johnson died in the latter half of the 1850's, since he was not present on the 1860 and later censuses. Widow "Bloomy" Bailey was living at Trivoli, Peoria County, IL with unmarried children when the 1860 and 1870 censuses were taken. She was living alone at Farmington, IL when the 1880 census was taken. Bloomy Bailey died Aug. 12, 1896 at IL, age 84.
- iv. Oliver H. P. Bailey, b. Nov. 13, 1814. He died in 1817 and was buried in North Troy Cemetery at North Troy, VT.
- v. Anna Bailey. No further information.

This family were living at Orleans County, VT since at least 1810. It is thought that Lydia Bailey probably died before 1840, since a male of Samuel's age was living at Troy, VT (without a female of corresponding age) with the family of his son James P. Bailey when the 1840 census was taken. He was living with the same son (and without wife) at Troy, VT when the 1850 census was taken. His surviving children migrated to Illinois and Iowa in about 1852, but it appears Samuel remained at VT since he died Oct. 15, 1855 at Troy, VT, age 71. He was buried in North Troy Cemetery at North Troy, VT.

This family were living at Boscawen, NH when their daughter Sarah was born in 1802. Later they were living for a few years at Hatley Township, Lower Canada when their sons were born in 1810 and 1813. This family were living at Fairlee, VT when the 1830 and 1850 censuses were taken, and probably relocated there from Lower Canada before 1823, since they were not recorded on the Lower Canada census for 1825 and since their youngest son was born at VT.

Phineas Bailey died Jan. 21, 1858 at Fairlee, VT, age about 84. Widow Sarah Bailey was living with her unmarried son Hiram Bailey, at Fairlee, VT when the 1860 census was taken. She died May 17, 1864 at Fairlee, VT, age 84. Phineas and Sarah were buried in Fairlee Village Cemetery at Fairlee, VT.

<sup>848</sup> Many online trees show James Bailey's wife as "Amy" Curtis, not "Anna". This is with good reason since there exists an Amy Curtis gravestone clearly identifying her as "wife of James Bailey". However, every single census 1850, 1855, daughter of Samuel Curtis and Amy (Chandler) Curtis. They had at least eight children, born in NH, VT and NY:

- J394
- i. Phineas Bailey, b. Dec. 25, 1813 at Dunbarton, NH. He married Hannah S. Getchell.

  - iii. James B. Bailey, Jr., b. 1821 at NH. He was married about 1850 to Sarah A. Barney, who was born about 1828 at NY. James may have had an earlier wife since he and Sarah were living at Buffalo, NY when the 1855 census was taken, with a child Kalista Bailey (age 14) too old to be Sarah's daughter. James and Sarah were living at Buffalo, NY with two young children when the 1860 census was taken. Then they were living at Elma, Erie County, NY when the 1870 census was taken, with a 2-year-old child Sarah. Elma is a suburb of Buffalo, NY, where the families of James' brother Oliver and sister Sarah were living in 1865. It is said that Sarah died in 1870 and James in 1874, both at Erie County, NY, but the source of this information is unknown.
  - iv. Sarah Ann Bailey, b. Sep. 5, 1823 at Fairlee, VT. She was married in 1845 to Rev. Obadiah Baker Buffum, son of James Buffum and Mary (Baker) Buffum. Obadiah was born Mar. 15, 1818 at Boston, Erie County, NY. He had two children by a prior marriage. Obadiah and Sarah had six children, born at Erie County, NY. This family were living at Colden, NY when the 1850 and 1855 censuses were taken, at Elma, NY when the 1865 census was taken, and at Marilla, NY when the 1870, 1875 and 1880 censuses were taken. Widower Obadiah Buffum was living with the family of his son Horatio at Marilla Township, Erie County, NY when the 1900 census was taken. He died May 1, 1901 at Marilla, NY, age 83. 1860, 1865 lists James Bailey's wife as "Anna", b. 1795. Anna and Amy Curtis were sisters, Anna having been born Aug. 3, 1795 and Amy Oct. 26, 1790. Yet the Amy Curtis gravestone above mentioned gives her age at death of 74 years 7 months, corresponding precisely to the Aug. 3, 1795 birth date. It appears that Amy and Anna are the same person. Perhaps the earlier Amy died as an infant. It is also noted that the mother of these Curtis girls, Amy Chandler, is sometimes identified as "Amy", "Ama" or "Anna" on her children's birth records.

<sup>849</sup> Sarah "Sadie" Melissa Bailey, b. Jul. 3, 1876 at Erie County, NY. She was married in 1900 to William Waltz, who was born May 28, 1868 at NY. They were then living at Colden, Erie County, NY when the 1840, 1850, 1855, 1860 and 1865 censuses were taken. James Bailey died Nov. 16, 1858 at Colden, NY, age 73. Widow Anna Bailey died May 4, 1870 at Colden, NY, age 74. James and Anna were buried in Colden Cemetery at Colden, NY.

HENRY BAILEY, SR., son of William Bailey {J138} and Martha (Spencer) Bailey, was born Mar. 2, 1813 at Sunkhaze Plantation, ME. He was married Oct. 4, 1846 at Greenbush, ME to SUSAN LITTLEFIELD, daughter of Giles Littlefield and Nancy (Spencer) Littlefield. Susan was born Apr. 9, 1829 at Argyle, ME. Henry and Susan had seven children born at Greenbush, ME:

- i. Henry A. Bailey, Jr., b. Feb. 12, 1848. He may be the unmarried "Henry A. Bailey" (age 60) from ME who was working in a shingle mill at Newcastle, WA when the 1910 census was taken.
- ii. Orrin Bailey, b. Mar. 3, 1850. He was living with his parents at Greenbush, ME when the 1850, 1860 and 1870 censuses were taken. His name and birth year tie him tentatively to an Orrin Bailey, brick mason, who was married Jun. 5, 1874 at New Portland, ME to Francelia Churchill, daughter of Luther Churchill and Elizabeth Cole (Palmer) Churchill. Francelia was born Mar. 9, 1860 at New Portland, ME. Orrin and Francelia had five children born at Somerset County, ME.<sup>972</sup> This family were living at New Portland, ME when the 1880 census was taken. Francelia Bailey died of Brights disease Oct. 14, 1892 at Madison, ME, age 32. Widower Orrin Bailey was living with his two unmarried sons at Kingfield, ME as a day laborer when the 1900 census was taken. He was an inmate in a boarding house or seniors home at Madison, ME when the 1930 census was taken. He likely died in the 1930s.

- iii. Almeda Bailey, b. Feb. 25, 1852. She probably died in the 1860s.
- iv. Ira W. Bailey, b. Dec. 27, 1854. He probably never married, certainly not before 1910, when he was living with his mother at Greenbush, ME. He was at that time a cook.
- v. William W. Bailey, b. Jul. 16, 1856. He was married Oct. 17, 1882 at Newburgh, ME to Annie Sawyer, daughter of William Sawyer, Jr. and Hannah (Patten) Sawyer. He was then a widower, though his first marriage data has not been found. He was married a second time Apr. 18, 1906 at Portsmouth, NH to Minnie A. (Coggins) Rockwell, daughter of Charles H. Coggins and Harriet Louisa (Hicks) Coggins. Minnie was born Oct. 29, 1870 at Hyde Park, Boston, MA. She had been widowed in 1903. This couple were living at Portland, ME (without children) when the 1910 census was taken. Joseph was a brakeman with the railroad.

This family were living at Greenbush, ME when the 1850, 1860, 1870 and 1880 censuses were taken, except that Henry was not part of the household in 1870 and 1880. <sup>1019</sup> Given her place of birth, Sarah Ann Bailey may have been a cousin of Orris Bailey, Jr., but it is unclear how her father Samuel O. Bailey fits in. He is clearly not Orris's uncle Samuel Bailey {J306} who married Diantha Chaddock.

Daland, son of Daniel Benjamin Daland and Juliette (Gurney) Daland. Silas was born Dec. 24, 1854 at Hanson, MA. It was his second marriage. But just weeks after marriage, Silas Daland drowned due to cramps while swimming in the Merrimack River Aug. 13, 1882, age 27. Emma's two half-brothers were unable to save her husband's life. This family were living at Lowell, MA when the 1850 census was taken. Sarah Johnson died in the mid-1850s. Widower Chester Johnson was married a second time about 1857 to Harriet M. (Wright) James,<sup>1036</sup> widow of John James (1820-1854). Harriet was born about 1820 at St. Johnsbury, VT. Chester and Harriet were living at Newport, VT when the 1860 census was taken. They had two young children of their own and the two surviving of Harriet's five children by her first husband. There is no further data found on this family.

Augusta was born Mar. 26, 1835 at Coventry, VT. Samuel and Augusta had one daughter.<sup>1037</sup> Augusta E. Kingsley died Apr. 26, 1858 at Charleston, VT of consumption and the result of the birth of her child, age 23. Widower Samuel Philbrick was married a second time Apr. 13, 1859 at Woburn, MA to Mary Elizabeth Boutwell, the daughter of James Boutwell (1805-1884) and Mary Raymond (Kendall) Boutwell (1810-1899). Mary was born Jan. 23, 1831 in Woburn, MA. It does not appear that Samuel and Mary had children of their own, but they may have adopted two of Mary's relatives, as there were two children with the Boutwell surname, born well before Samuel and Mary were married, living with them when the 1860 census was taken. Samuel and Mary were living at Woburn, MA when the 1860 and 1865 censuses were taken. They were living at Billerica, MA when the 1870 census was taken. By the time of the 1880 census, Mary Philbrick was living back in the home of her parents at Woburn, MA, identified as "single". Mary Philbrick was living at Woburn, MA when the 1900 census was taken, but identified as widowed. Samuel Philbrick likely died before 1880. Mary Philbrick died Jul. 17, 1816 at Wilmington, MA, age 85. She was buried in Woodbrook Cemetery, Woburn, MA.

This family were living at Irasburg, VT when the 1820 and 1830 censuses were taken, then at Charleston, VT when the 1840 census was taken.

JESSE BAILEY, son of Israel Bailey {J164} and Miriam (Sawyer) Bailey, was born Nov. 3, 1792 at Groton, VT. He was first married Dec. 1, 1814 at Groton, VT to DOLLY TOWNSEND. This couple had seven children born at Groton and Peacham, VT:

- i. Lucinda Bailey, b. abt. 1815. She was married to Asahel Earle Parker, born Sep. 14, 1816 at Chester, VT. This couple had three children, born at VT. This family were living at Ludlow, VT when the 1850 census was taken. They subsequently moved west, where Lucinda died before 1857 at Mackford, WI. Her stepbrother, Ephraim Miller, was appointed guardian of her children. Asahel Parker was married a second time by 1860 to Abigail Parker, daughter of Timothy S. Parker and Lucy (Gleason) Parker. She was born Jul. 29, 1814 at VT. This couple were living at Pleasant Grove, MN when the 1860 census was taken. Asahel Parker died Aug. 3, 1896 at Filmore, MN, age 79. Widow Abigail Parker was living at Milwaukee, WI with the family of her stepdaughter, Sarah (Parker) Gold, when the 1900 census was taken. She died Apr. 25, 1903 at Milwaukee, WI, age 88, and was buried at Markesan, WI.
- J544 ii. Jennison Bailey, b. Aug. 8, 1817. He married Mary E. Streeter.
- iii. (son) Bailey, b. abt. 1819.
- iv. (son) Bailey, b. abt. 1821.
- v. Charity Bailey, b. abt. 1823. She was first married Dec. 23, 1857 at West Brookfield, MA to Josiah Carey, son of Zebulon Cary (1781-1847) and Mary A. (Adams) Cary (1791-1854). Josiah was baptized Sep. 29, 1814 at Brookfield, MA. Josiah had been previously married and had three children by his first wife. Josiah and Charity had no children of their own. This family were living at Franklinville, NY when the 1860 and 1865 censuses were taken. Josiah Carey died Sep. 29, 1865 at Franklinville, NY. Widow Charity Carey was living at Franklinville, NY when the 1870 and 1875 censuses were taken. Widow Carey was married a second time in the latter 1870s to Seth B. Savage. This couple were living at Franklinville, NY when the 1880 census was taken. Charity Savage died in 1881 and was buried in Mount Prospect Cemetery, Franklinville, NY. On Apr. 8, 1882, the probate court appointed Seth B. Savage executor of Charity's estate.<sup>1038</sup> Without first level heirs, the distribution of Charity Savage's assets languished for 29 years before disbursement, as the state struggled to contact heirs! By that time (1915), assets of $393 had become worth $1000. Charity's siblings and half-siblings were all dead, so the heirs were nieces and nephews, including four living children of her half-brother, Jesse Bailey, as well as Sarah E. (Parker) Gold, daughter of Charity's sister, Lucinda, (and perhaps others).<sup>1039</sup>

Jesse Bailey and family were living at Peacham, VT when the 1820 census was taken. Shortly thereafter, he moved his family to Barton Landing, VT. The 1905 obituary of his son, Jennison, related the story of their early days at Barton Landing which at that time had only two houses and a sawmill. The Jesse Bailey family resided in one of those two houses and Jesse operated the sawmill.

Dolly Bailey died in about 1827. Widower Jesse was soon married a second time Dec. 23, 1827 at Westfield, VT to ABIGAIL (HOLDEN) MILLER, daughter of Ephraim Holden (1753-1837) and Hannah (Perham) Holden (1763-1836), and widow of Vaniah Miller, with two sons.

<sup>1039</sup> An article titled "Long Lost Heirs Finally Show Up" was published in the Buffalo Commercial, Buffalo, NY, in its Dec. 9, 1914 issue, p. 9.

“Nabby” was born Aug. 26, 1787 at Athens, VT. Jesse moved to Abigail’s home at Westfield, VT. They had one son born at Westfield, VT:

J545 vi. Jesse Bailey, Jr., b. Oct. 3, 1830. He married Lucy L. Chamberlain.

Jesse and Abigail Holden and their son, Jesse, Jr., were living at Westfield, VT when the 1850 census was taken. Jesse and Abigail were party to numerous land transactions in Westfield, VT during the period 1852 through 1857, mostly involving transfers (and mortgages) for the benefit of their children Jennison and Jesse Bailey, and her son, Johnson Miller. The most notable was the Oct. 20, 1856 sale by Jesse and Abigail of the home farm where they resided, specifically the north half of lot #32, to their son Jesse Jr., with accompanying mortgage.<sup>1040</sup>

Jesse Bailey died intestate Apr. 9, 1857 at Troy, VT, age 64. His probate papers noted three surviving children, Jennison Bailey, Charity (Bailey) Carey, wife of Josiah Carey of Franklinville, NY and Jesse Bailey, Jr. Also noted were grandchildren George E. Lucy M. and Sarah E. Parker, children of deceased daughter, Lucinda Parker.<sup>1041</sup> Widow Abigail Bailey was living at Westfield, VT in the household of her son, Ephraim Miller, when the 1860 census was taken. Widow Abigail Bailey died Mar. 6, 1868 at Westfield, VT, age 80 years, 6 months. Jesse and Abigail were buried in Westfield Association Cemetery at Westfield, VT. Both have period gravestones.

DAVID BAILEY, SR., son of Israel Bailey {J164} and Miriam (Sawyer) Bailey, was born Aug. 20, 1794 at Groton, VT. He was married Apr. 6, 1826 at Albany, VT to LYDIA SKINNER, daughter of Benjamin Skinner and Lydia (-----) Skinner. Lydia was born Oct. 11, 1789 at Corinth, VT. David and Lydia had four children, the first three born at Irasburg, VT and the last at MA:

- i. Lydia Bailey, b. Feb. 5, 1827. She was married Nov. 7, 1854 at Westborough, MA to Joseph Miller Lincoln, son of Ivers Lincoln (1788-1858) and Sarah (Bridges) Lincoln (1797-1854). Joseph was born Jun. 14, 1830 at Holliston, MA. This family were living in the same home with Lydia’s parents at West Brookfield, MA when the 1855 Massachusetts State census was taken. Joseph and Lydia had two children born at West Brookfield, MA. Joseph Lincoln died Oct. 21, 1858 at West Brookfield, MA, age 28. Widow Lydia Lincoln was living at Westborough, MA when the 1860, 1865, 1870 and 1880 censuses were taken. She died Sep. 24, 1899 at Westborough, MA, age 72.
- ii. (son) Bailey, b. abt. 1829. He probably died young.
- J546 iii. David Minor Bailey, Jr., b. May 27, 1832. He married Sarah Jane Flagg.
- iv. Mary Ann Bailey, b. abt. 1840. She was living at home when the 1850 and 1855 censuses were taken, but not found in later records.

This family were recorded at Irasburg, VT when the 1830 census was taken. They moved to Massachusetts by 1840 where their youngest child was born. This family were living at Northborough, MA when the 1850 census was taken, at West Brookfield, MA when the 1855 census was taken, then finally at Westborough, MA when the 1860 and 1865 censuses were taken. They were farmers.

David Bailey died of paralysis of the bowels Sep. 5, 1868 at Westborough, MA, age 74. Widow Lydia Bailey died Jan. 7, 1870 at Westborough, MA of “lung fever” [pneumonia], age 80.

EPHRAIM BAILEY, son of Israel Bailey {J164} and Miriam (Sawyer) Bailey, was born Apr. 16, 1796 at Groton, VT. He was first married Feb. 22, 1818, probably at Irasburg, VT, to HANNAH SLACK, the daughter of Joseph Slack (1757-1838) and Jerusha (Fairman) Slack (1765-1858). Hannah was born about 1792 at Windham County, CT. Ephraim and Hannah had four children born at Irasburg, VT.<sup>1042</sup>

- i. Maria Marian Bailey, b. Mar. 4, 1821. She was married Feb. 6, 1850 at Royalton, VT to Ira Morrell Rust, son of Thomas Rust (1789-1868) and Judith (Morrell) Rust (1789-1869). Ira was born Oct. 4, 1827 at Royalton, VT. Ira and Maria had one child. They were living at Royalton, VT when the 1850, 1860, 1870 and 1880 censuses were taken. Ira Rust died Nov. 17, 1892 at Royalton, VT, age 65. Widow Maria Rust died Sep. 30, 1894, age 73. Ira and Maria were buried in South Royalton Village Cemetery at South Royalton, VT.
  - ii. Adeline G. Bailey, b. Jan. 7, 1823. She was married Apr. 15, 1848 at Lowell, MA to Don Alonzo Whitney, son of (Capt.) Zabad Whitney (1797-1820) and Sophia (Dewey) Whitney (1796-1870). Don was born Mar. 27, 1824 at Royalton, VT. Don and Adeline had three daughters. Don was a farmer. This family were living at Royalton, VT when the 1850 census was taken and at Northfield, VT when the 1860 census was taken. Don A. Whitney was working as a machinist and living at Providence, RI when he registered for the draft for the Civil War in 1863. Don and Adeline and their three daughters were living in the Phoenix Hotel at East Providence, RI when the 1865 Rhode Island State census was taken. Don and Adeline were separated or divorced soon thereafter. D. A. Whitney had a second wife, Carrie, age 34, born in OH, and was living at Oregon City, OR when the 1870 census was taken.<sup>1043</sup> Don Alonzo Whitney, carpenter, was living in the Central Pacific Hotel at San Francisco, CA when its 1878 City Directory was published. Don Alonzo Whitney, listed as age 55, born at VT, and a carpenter, and a resident of Ward #3, Stockton, was registered as a voter at San Joaquin County, CA on Apr. 1, 1879. He was living with a woman, presumably a third wife, Marian, age 46 and born in VT, when the 1880 census of Stockton, CA was taken. He was living at Tuttlestown, Tuolumne County, CA as late as 1892. He presumably died in the 1890s as he was not found in the 1900 census. Adeline Whitney was living with her two youngest children at Providence, RI when the 1870 census was taken. She was living alone at Providence, RI when the 1880 census was taken, claiming to be a widow. Adeline Whitney died Nov. 25, 1888 at Wareham, MA of consumption, age 65. She was buried in Centre Cemetery at Wareham, MA.<sup>1044</sup>
- J547 iii. Ira Bailey, b. Aug. 20, 1824. He married Ruth C. Jordan.
- J548 iv. Joseph Willard Bailey, b. Jul. 19, 1928. He married Mary May Pierce.

This family were living at Irasburg, VT when the 1820 and 1830 censuses were taken, then at nearby Craftsbury, VT when the 1840 census was taken. By the time the 1850 census was taken, the family had moved to Royalton, VT, where Ephraim and Hannah were living with son Willard and an unidentified "Susan Luce Bailey". Hannah Bailey died Aug. 8, 1854 at Royalton, VT, about age 62.

<sup>1042</sup> Some data on Ephraim Bailey and his descendants can be found in the History of Royalton, Vermont with Family Genealogies, 1769-1911, by Evelyn M. Wood Lovejoy, Vol. 2, pp. 666, 749.

<sup>1043</sup> Living in Don and Carrie's home was a girl, listed as Maria Whitney, age 10 and born at IL. She was likely Carrie's daughter by a previous marriage and not a Whitney.

<sup>1044</sup> Adeline Whitney's gravestone had the birthdate of Jan. 7, 1824 which is incorrect by one year as her younger brother Ira was born Aug. 20, 1824. Although Don A. Whitney's name, birth date and birthplace are engraved above Adeline's on the Whitney gravestone, no death data is entered on the stone and he was likely not buried there.

Widower Ephraim Bailey was married a second time Apr. 23, 1857 at Royalton, VT to EMILY A. (-----) PIERCE of Hartford, VT.<sup>1045</sup> Emily was born about 1829. Their marriage was short-lived. A notice of their separation was published in the Vermont Journal, Windsor, VT in its Sep. 18, 1858 issue. Sadly, Emily died Sep. 29, 1858 at Hartford, VT of consumption, one day after the published notice.

Ephraim Bailey was married a third time Dec. 4, 1859 at Tunbridge, VT, to ELIZABETH FOLSOM, the daughter of Jacob Folsom (1773-1861) and Mary (Fifield) Folsom (1770-1862). "Betsey" was born Dec. 20, 1802 at Tunbridge, VT. Ephraim and Betsey were living at Royalton, VT when the 1860 census was taken. Ephraim Bailey "of Royalton" executed an undated will in which he made his wife, sole beneficiary and named her to be executor.

<sup>1045</sup> Ephraim and Emily's marriage record stated she was of Hartford, VT, age 35, and this was the second marriage for her as well as for Ephraim Bailey. Emily Pierce is an enigma as her death record claims she was born at Hartford, VT, daughter of "J. P." and Ruth Pierce, but no such persons have been located in Hartford or Royalton records. Nor could any record of an Emily Pierce, married or single, be located the 1850 census of Hartford or Royalton or elsewhere in Vermont. If her parents were indeed named J. P. and Ruth, it seems their surname may not have been Pierce.

Jonathan's family were first recorded at Potton on the 1842 census for Lower Canada.

Sarah M. Bailey died May 5, 1851 at Potton, Canada East. Jonathan was married a second time Dec. 29, 1851 at Mansonville, Canada East to POLLY (MAGOON) ELLIOT, daughter of Jonathan Leavitt Magoon (1755-1826) and Betsey Bell (Smith) Magoon (ca 1762-1857). Polly was born about 1805 and was the widow of John Elliot (1790-1841). Jonathan and Polly were recorded on the 1861 and 1871 censuses for Potton, Quebec, with son Alfred in 1861, then next door to sons Alfred and Jonathan Jr., in 1871. They owned two large lots at Potton, Lot 17 in Range 5 and Lot 17 in Range 6. The home farm remained in Bailey descendants' hands until 1962 when sold by Wilson Edgar Bailey, Jonathan's great-great-grandson. Wilson was the son of Edgar Orville Bailey {J1044}.
